Remote Sensing Applications for Agriculture and Crop Modelling Piero Toscano, 2020-02-13 Crop models and remote sensing techniques have been combined and applied in agriculture and crop estimation on local and regional scales or worldwide based on the simultaneous development of crop models and remote sensing The literature shows that many new remote sensing sensors and valuable methods have been developed for the retrieval of canopy state variables and soil properties from remote sensing data for assimilating the retrieved variables into crop models At the same time remote sensing has been used in a staggering number of applications for agriculture This book sets the context for remote sensing and modelling for agricultural systems as a mean to minimize the environmental impact while increasing production and productivity The eighteen papers published in this Special Issue although not representative of all the work carried out in the field of Remote Sensing for agriculture and crop modeling provide insight into the diversity and the complexity of developments of RS applications in agriculture Five thematic focuses have emerged from the published papers yield estimation land cover mapping soil nutrient balance time specific management zone delineation and the use of UAV as agricultural aerial sprayers All contributions exploited the use of remote sensing data from different platforms UAV Sentinel Landsat QuickBird CBERS MODIS WorldView their assimilation into crop models DSSAT AQUACROP EPIC DELPHI or on the synergy of Remote Sensing and modeling applied to cardamom wheat tomato sorghum rice sugarcane and olive The intended audience is researchers and postgraduate students as well as those outside academia in policy and practice Service Provision Kenneth J. Turner, Evan H. Magill, David J. Marples, 2005-01-28 This book provides the first overview of the service technologies available to telecoms operators working in a post convergence world Previous books have focused either on computer networks or on telecoms networks This is the first to bring the two together and provide a single reference source for information that is currently only to be found in disparate journals tool specifications and standards documents In order to provide such broad coverage of the topic in a structured and logical fashion the book is divided into 3 parts The first part looks at the underlying network support for services and aims to explain the technology that makes the user visible services possible This section covers multimedia networking both traditional legacy and future softswitch call processing intelligent networks the Internet and Wireless networks Part 2 deals with how these services may be analysed and managed Chapters cover topics such as commercial issues service management quality of service security standards and APIs Part 3 concludes the book by looking ahead at evolving technologies and more speculative possibilities discussing the kinds of services that may be possible in the future and the technologies that will support them Focuses is on how the technology supports the services rather than on technology for its own sake Contributors drawn from both academia and industry companies such as Marconi BT Telcordia Cisco Analysys to give both theoretical and real world perspectives Unique single reference source for a wide range of material currently found only in disparate papers specs and documentation Covers brand new technologies such as JAIN JTAPI Parlay IP multimedia networking active networks WAP wireless LANs agent based services etc
