Variable	10-14	15-19	20-24	25-29	30-34	34-39
Frequency	3	7	10	18	9	2

Q3. The height of leaf above the ground (cm) (X) and the concentration of leaf stomata/mm² (Y) are given below.

X	21.4	21.7	22.3	22.9	23.2	23.8	24.8	25.4	28.0
Y	4.5	4.4	4.6	4.7	4.5	4.4	4.5	4.2	3.4

(a) (i) Fit a regression line and also interpret the results.

(ii) Find the predicted value of Y, when X=29.4

(b) Compute correlation coefficient and interpret the result.

Q4. (a) Construct a frequency distribution of the following data taking 10-19, 20-29, Also find class boundaries and Cumulative frequencies.

32, 36, 54, 38, 17, 41, 22, 33, 22, 32, 31, 21, 18, 46, 36, 11, 31, 29, 12, 23, 51, 12, 13, 37, 33, 27.

(b) The normal daily high temperatures (in Fahrenheit) in January for 10 selected cities are as follows.

50, 37, 29, 54, 30, 61, 47, 38, 34, 61

The normal monthly precipitation (in inches) for these same 10 cities is listed here.

4.8, 2.6, 1.5, 1.8, 1.8, 3.3, 5.1, 1.1, 1.8, 2.5

Compute Coefficient of variation and comment which data set is more consistent?

Q5. (a) Three coins are tossed what is the probability of getting (i) At least two heads (ii) Greater no of heads than tails.

(b) The scores of a random sample from a normal population of 8 students on a physics test are as follows: 60, 62, 67, 69, 70, 72, 75, and 78. Test to see if the mean is significantly different from 65 at the 0.05 level of significance.

Stats Paper 17 May 2013

Loretta A. Moreno

Stats Paper 17 May 2013:

Macroeconomic Measurement Versus Macroeconomic Theory Merijn Knibbe, 2019-12-06 Ideally scientific theory and scientific measurement should develop in tandem but in recent years this has not been the case in economics. There used to be a time when leading economists or their students established or led statistical offices and took care that the measurements were consistent with the theory and vice versa. Not anymore. Macroeconomic theorists and macroeconomic statisticians do not even speak the same language any longer. They do use the same words such as consumption, investments or unemployment but the meanings can often be different. This book maps the differences between macroeconomic theory and measurement and explores them in some detail while also tracking their intellectual historical and in some cases ideological origins. It also explores the possible policy implications. In doing so, the book draws on two separate strands of literature which are seldom used in unison: macro statistical manuals and theoretical macro papers. By doing so, the book contributes to the effort to bridge the gap between them without compromising on the idea that a meaningful science of economics should in the end be based upon individual people and households and their social and cultural embedding instead of a representative consumer or Robinson Crusoe figure. This work is essential reading for students, economists, statisticians and professionals.

OECD Economic Surveys: Brazil 2013 OECD, 2013-10-22 OECD's 2013 economic review of Brazil examines recent economic developments, policies and prospects. This edition's special chapters cover productivity and competitiveness of Brazilian firms and income distribution and the new middle class.

Religion and Men's Violence Against Women Andy J. Johnson, 2015-04-14 This reference offers the nuanced understanding and practical guidance needed to address domestic violence, sexual assault and human trafficking in diverse religious communities. Introductory chapters sort through the complexities from abusers' distorting of sacred texts to justifying their actions to survivors' conflicting feelings toward their faith. The core of the book surveys findings on gender violence across Christian, Jewish, Islamic, Eastern and Indigenous traditions, both attitudes that promote abuse and spiritual resources that can be used to promote healing. Best practices are included for appropriate treatment of survivors, their children and abusers and for partnering with communities and clergy toward stemming violence against women. Among the topics featured: Ecclesiastical policies vs. lived social relationships, gender parity, attitudes and ethics, women's spiritual struggles and resources to cope with intimate partner aggression, Christian stereotypes and violence against North America's native women, addressing intimate partner violence in rural church communities, collaboration between community service agencies and faith-based institutions, providing hope in faith communities, creating a domestic violence policy for families. Religion and Men's Violence against Women will gain a wide audience among psychologists, social workers, marriage and family therapists and other mental health professionals who treat religious clients or specialize in treating survivors and perpetrators of domestic and intimate partner violence, stalking, sexual assault, rape or human trafficking.

Growth and Poverty in Sub-Saharan Africa Channing Arndt, Andy McKay, Finn

Tarp,2016 While the economic growth renaissance in sub Saharan Africa is widely recognized much less is known about progress in living conditions This book comprehensively evaluates trends in living conditions in 16 major sub Saharan African countries corresponding to nearly 75% of the total population A striking diversity of experience emerges While monetary indicators improved in many countries others are yet to succeed in channeling the benefits of economic growth into the pockets of the poor Some countries experienced little economic growth and saw little material progress for the poor At the same time the large majority of countries have made impressive progress in key non monetary indicators of wellbeing Overall the African growth renaissance earns two cheers but not three While gains in macroeconomic and political stability are real they are also fragile Growth on a per capita basis is much better than in the 1980s and 1990s yet not rapid compared with other developing regions Importantly from a pan African perspective key economies particularly Kenya Nigeria and South Africa are not among the better performers Looking forward realistic expectations are required The development process is almost always a long hard slog Nevertheless real and durable factors appear to be at play on the sub continent with positive implications for growth and poverty reduction in future

China's Great Urbanization Zheng Yongnian,Zhao Litao,Sarah Tong,2016-10-04 China's extraordinary economic boom since the late 1970s has been accompanied by massive urbanization with the proportion of the population living in cities rising from 18% in 1978 to 54% in 2014 Currently the Chinese government has amongst its objectives the target to increase this to 60% by 2020 and also to improve the quality of China's cities This book examines a wide range of issues connected to China's urbanization It considers the many problems which have come with rapid urbanization including urban housing problems difficulties affecting rural migrants in urban areas and a lack of social protection It examines areas of current reform including land reform shanty town renewal and moves to address environmental problems It explores governance issues and throughout assesses how urbanization in China is likely to develop in future

China's Frontier Regions Doug Smith,Michael E. Clarke,2016-03-08 China has traditionally viewed her frontier regions Xinjiang Tibet Inner Mongolia and Yunnan as buffer zones Yet their importance as commercial and cosmopolitan hubs intimately involved in the transmission of goods peoples and ideas between China and its west and southwest has meant they are crucial for China's ongoing development The resurgence of China under Deng Xiaoping's policy of reform and opening has therefore led to a focus on integrating these regions into the PRC People's Republic of China This has important implications not only for the frontier regions themselves but also for the neighbouring states with which they have strong cultural religious linguistic and economic ties China's Frontier Regions explores the challenges presented by this integrationist policy both for domestic relations and for diplomatic and foreign policy relations with the countries abutting their frontier regions

Long-Term Imprisonment and Human Rights Kirstin Drenkhahn,Manuela Dudeck,Frieder Dünkler,2014-07-11 Prisons and imprisonment have become a commonplace topic in popular culture as the setting and rationale for fiction and documentaries and most people seem to have a clear notion of what it is like in prison ranging from the idea of the prison cell as a cosy nook with fast internet access to that of a dungeon with a hard bed and a diet of bread and water But what is prison really like Do prisoners have the same rights as everyone else What are the similarities and differences between prisons in different European countries This book answers all of these questions whilst also presenting cutting edge research on the living conditions of long term prisoners in Europe and considering whether these conditions meet international human rights standards Bringing together leading experts in the field with comprehensive coverage of the issues in Belgium Croatia Denmark England Finland France Germany Lithuania Poland Spain and Sweden this book offers the first comparative study on the subject Whereas past research in this area has concentrated on the Anglo American experience this book offers a truly comparative European approach and pays due attention to the differences in prison systems between the post Soviet countries and continental Europe This book will be key reading for academics and students of criminology criminal justice and penology and will also be of interest to students and practitioners of law

Building Job Opportunities for Veterans United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee,2013

Governing the City OECD,2015-02-18 This report presents a typology of metropolitan governance arrangements observed across OECD countries and offers guidance for cities seeking for more effective co ordination with a closer look at two sectors that are strategic importance for urban growth transport and spatial planning

Race Rights Reparations Fernne Brennan,2017-07-14 This book considers institutional racism as a problem that exists within modern societies Its roots lie with the transatlantic slave trade and slavery and the solution involves ridding society of the problem It is argued here that first there needs to be an acceptance of its existence then developing the tools needed to deal with it and finally to implement those tools so that institutional racism can be permanently removed from society The book has four themes the first considers the nature of institutional racism the second theme looks at instances of institutional racism through matters such as deaths in custody and skin lightening the third considers the concept of reparations and the final area looks at the development of social movements as a way of pushing institutional racism up the political agenda The development of a social movement is part of a social discourse which would for example push mentoring as a form of reparations There is a need for more research on the manifestations of institutional racism and this book is part of that discourse It is argued that the legacy of the slave trade and slavery is continuing and contemporary through the presence of institutional racism in society This problem has not been addressed through legislation and policies devised to combat racial discrimination Institutional racism needs to be understood as being located in the processes and procedures of societal institutions

Countdown to Socialism Anthea Jeffery,2023-07-19 With growth stalling joblessness at crisis levels and governance unravelling most South Africans cannot fathom why the ANC does not embark on meaningful reform The answer lies in what is seldom raised the ruling party s unwavering determination to take the country by incremental steps from capitalism to socialism This transformation is being implemented via a Moscow inspired national democratic revolution NDR dating back many decades Despite the Soviet Union's collapse in 1991 the ANC SACP alliance still sees the NDR as offering the most direct route to socialism in South Africa and hence as its bedrock strategy The NDR has been implemented in many different spheres since 1994 By way of example NDR interventions have already made millions of people unemployable and the mining sector largely uninvestable They now aim at land expropriation without compensation EWC and the effective nationalisation of private healthcare and pensions The NDR is the key to understanding ANC rule over some 30 years yet most South Africans have been kept in the dark on it This book aims to fill that gap Written in clear and simple language it provides an indispensable primer on the NDR and its role in the countdown to socialism in South Africa Territorial Cohesion in Rural Europe Andrew K. Copus, Philomena de Lima, 2014-08-13 This book reflects on how the economies social characteristics ways of life and global relationships of rural areas of Europe have changed in recent years This reveals a need to refresh the concepts we use to understand measure and describe rural communities and their development potential This book argues that Europe has outgrown many of the stereotypes usually associated with it with substantial implications for European Rural Policy Rural structural change and its evolving geography are portrayed through regional typologies and the concept of the New Rural Economy Demographic change migration business networks and agricultural restructuring are each explored in greater detail Implications for equality and social exclusion and recent developments in the field of governance are also considered Despite being a subject of active debate interventions in the fields of rural and regional development have failed to adapt to changing realities and have become increasingly polarized This book argues that rural regional policy needs to evolve in order to address the current complex reality partially reformulating territorial or place based approaches and the New Rural Paradigm following a set of principles termed Rural Cohesion Policy South Sudan Hilde F. Johnson, 2016-06-09 In July 2011 South Sudan was granted independence and became the world's newest country Yet just two and a half years after this momentous decision the country was in the grips of renewed civil war and political strife Hilde F. Johnson served as Special Representative of the Secretary General and Head of the United Nations Mission in the Republic of South Sudan from July 2011 until July 2014 and as such she was witness to the many challenges which the country faced as it struggled to adjust to its new autonomous state In this book she provides an unparalleled insider's account of South Sudan's descent from the ecstatic celebrations of July 2011 to the outbreak of the disastrous conflict in December 2013 and the early bloody phase of the fighting Johnson's frequent personal and private contacts at the highest levels of government accompanied by her deep knowledge of the country and its history make this a unique eyewitness account of the turbulent first three years of the world's newest and yet most fragile country Handbook of U.S. Labor Statistics 2014 Mary Meghan Ryan, 2014-06-23 The Handbook of U S Labor Statistics is recognized as an authoritative resource on the U S labor force It continues and enhances the Bureau of Labor Statistics's BLS discontinued publication Labor Statistics The seventeenth edition allows the user to understand recent developments as well as to compare today's economy with past
