Craft and Conscience Kavita Das, 2022-10-04. The first major book for writers to more effectively engage with complex socio-political issues: a critical first step in creating social change. Writers are witnesses and scribes to society's conscience, but writing about social issues in the twenty-first century requires a new, sharper toolkit. Craft and Conscience helps writers weave together their narrative craft, analytical and research skills, and their conscience to create prose which makes us feel the individual and collective impact of crucial issues of our time. Kavita Das guides writers to take on nuanced perspectives and embrace intentionality through a social justice lens. She challenges writers to unpack their motivations for writing about an issue and to understand that writing, irrespective of genre or outlet, is an act of political writing regardless of intention. The book includes essays from a fascinating mix of authors including James Baldwin, Alexander Chee, Kaitlyn Greenidge, George Orwell, Roxane Dunbar Ortiz, Gaiutra Bahadur, Jaquira Diaz, and Imani Perry. By including Das's own perspective and those of the featured writers about motivations and approaches to writing about fraught social issues, this book both demystifies the process of engaging social issues on the page and underscores the intentionality and sensitivity that must go into the work.

Encouraging teamwork, creativity, intelligent reflection, and decision-making, the games of Hands on History Activities will help you take an active approach to teaching while inspiring your students to make their own explorations of history.

David Jones and the Craft of Theology Elizabeth R. Powell, 2020-10-01. This is an imaginative exploration of the art of David Jones which addresses Christian teaching through engagement with selected artistic works: a poem, a painted inscription, and a wood engraving. Elizabeth R. Powell's study does not just enable readers to understand Jones but also to use his kind of loving attention in their own lives, which Jones would argue is theology.

s most important task Through close readings of material objects Powell draws the reader into the participatory performative and dialogical possibilities of the craft of theology She frames an older style of theology in a distinctive and modern way as a graced human practice and a place of transforming relation with the divine Powell argues that Jones s art works offer places of beauty in which to become beauty along the way Located at the cross section of theology literature and the arts this volume shows that being interdisciplinary is nothing less than finding ways for theology and humanity to be more richly itself

The Theology of Craft and the Craft of Work Jeremy Kidwell, 2016-06-03 An important reconceptualisation is taking place in the way people express creativity work together and engage in labour particularly suggests Kidwell a surprising resurgence in recent years of manual and craft work Noting the wide array of outlets that now market hand made goods and the array of popular books which advocate making as a basis for activism or personal improvement this book seeks to understand how the micro politics of craft work might offer insights for a broader theology of work Why does it matter that we do work which is meaningful excellent and beautiful Through a close reading of Christian scripture The Theology of Craft and the Craft of Work examines the theology and ethics of work in light of original biblical exegesis Kidwell presents a detailed exegetical study of temple construction accounts in the Hebrew bible and the New Testament Illuminating a theological account of craft and employing the ancient vision of good work which is preserved in these biblical texts Kidwell critically interrogates modern forms of industrial manufacture This includes a variety of contemporary work problems particularly the instrumentalisation and exploitation of the non human material world and the dehumanisation of workers Primary themes taken up in the book include agency aesthetics sociality skill and the material culture of work culminating with the conclusion that the church or new temple is both the product and the site of moral work Arguing that Christian worship provides a moral context for work this book also examines early Christian practices to suggest a theological reconceptualisation of work

Victorian Paper Art and Craft Deborah Lutz, 2022-09-22 This book shows how authors in nineteenth century Britain used the materials of writing and of reading drawing and handicraft for inspiration and creative composition In doing so it reshapes the sensory history of working on and with paper These activities were many and varied Charlotte Bront composed poems and doodled in the margins of school books George Eliot recorded writing ideas on her blotter Elizabeth Barrett Browning sewed paper to paper to edit her poems and Jane Austen employed straight pins to cut and paste Albums provided a playful space to collect and to produce text and collage gifts for friends circumventing print culture for a more intimate book making as Elizabeth Gaskell and Anna Atkins knew Notebooks and commonplace books were vital to Eliot Michael Field and Emily Bront as part of a writing process Writers experimented with crafts and needlework to compose text without paper and ink most notably in the case of samplers What writing and drawing happened on including bibles sewing patterns and walls mattered as related to and generative of the themes of the work This expansive field of meanings that creativity with textual and material things could have was common to the Victorians but the writers explored here were extravagant even among their self reflexive contemporaries in their undoing remaking miniaturizing encrypting reusing and transforming The edge of the page the width of the margin the covers of the book were limiting factors but also provocations to push on further be radical
