Freaks, Geeks, and Cool Kids Murray Milner Jr., 2013-04-15 In this timely and insightful book award winning sociologist Murray Milner tries to understand why teenagers behave the way they do Drawing upon two years of intensive fieldwork in one high school and 300 written interviews about high schools across the country he argues that consumer culture has greatly impacted the way our youth relate to one another and understand themselves and society He also suggests that the status systems in high schools are in and of themselves an important contributing factor to the creation and maintenance of consumer capitalism explaining the importance of designer jeans and designer drugs in an effort to be the coolest kid in the class Understanding Children's Literature Peter Hunt, 2006-05-17 Edited by Peter Hunt a leading figure in the field this book introduces the study of children's literature addressing theoretical questions as well as the most relevant critical approaches to the discipline The fourteen chapters draw on insights from academic disciplines ranging from cultural and literary studies to education and psychology and include an essay on what writers for children think about their craft The result is a fascinating array of perspectives on key topics in children's literature as well as an introduction to such diverse concerns as literacy ideology stylistics feminism history culture and bibliotherapy An extensive general bibliography is complemented by lists of further reading for each chapter and a glossary defines critical and technical terms making the book accessible for those coming to the field or to a particular approach for the first time In this second edition there are four entirely new chapters contributors have revisited and revised or rewritten seven of the chapters to reflect new thinking while the remaining three are classic essays widely acknowledged to be definitive Understanding Children's Literature will not only be an invaluable guide for students of literature or education but it will also inform and enrich the practice of teachers and librarians How Consumer Culture Controls Our Kids Jennifer Hill, 2015-11-02 This gripping book considers the history techniques and goals of child targeted consumer campaigns and examines children's changing perceptions of what commodities they need to be valued and value themselves In this critique of America's consumption based society author Jennifer Hill chronicles the impact of consumer culture on children from the evolution of childhood play to a child's self perception as a consumer to the consequences of this generation's repeated media exposure to violence Hill proposes that corporations eager to tap into a multibillion dollar market use the power of advertising and the media to mold children's thoughts and behaviors The book features vignettes with teenagers explaining in their own words how advertising determines their needs wants and self esteem An in depth analysis of this research reveals the influence of media on a young person's desire to conform shows how broadcasted depictions of beauty distort the identities of children and teens and uncovers corporate agendas for manipulating behavior in the younger generation The work concludes with the position that corporations are shaping children to be efficient consumers but in return are harming their developing young minds and physical well being

Why Voice Matters Nick Couldry, 2010-07-14 In this book Nick Couldry passionately argues for voice the effective opportunity for people to speak and be heard on what affects their lives as the only value that can truly challenge neoliberal politics But having voice is not enough we need to know our voice matters Insisting that the answer goes much deeper than simply calling for more voices whether on the streets or in the media Couldry presents a dazzling range of analysis from the real world of Blair and Obama to the social theory of Judith Butler and Amartya Sen This book breaks open the contradictions in neoliberal thought and shows how the mainstream media not only fails to provide the means for people to give an account of themselves but also reinforces neoliberal values

Public Spaces, Private Lives Henry A. Giroux, 2003 While many of the essays in this book were written before 9 11 they point to a number of important issues such as the commercialization of public life the stepped up militarization racial profiling and the threat to basic civil liberties that have been resurrected since the terrorist attacks Public Spaces Private Lives serves to legitimate the claim that there is much in America that has not changed since 9 11 Rather than a dramatic change what we are witnessing is an intensification and acceleration of the contradictions that threatened American democracy before the tragic events of 9 11 Hence Public Spaces Private Lives offers a context for both understanding and critically engaging the combined threats posed by the increase in domestic militarization and a neoliberal ideology that substitutes market values for those democratic values that are crucial to rethinking what a vibrant democracy would look like in the aftermath of September 11th

The Desolation of a Tortured Soul George Colby Hoffman, 2013-06 My story begins in my home state of Maryland where I was the youngest of three children From my earliest memories I was the victim of severe abuse at the hands of my birth father which I endured throughout my adolescent years During this time I was visited by two angels who have accompanied me my entire life They told me that I would suffer many things and be hated by all men but if I kept my faith in God I would have a special place in heaven Once my mother left my birth father she moved us to her mother's house in Washington D C Then my mother married my second father who was from Germany We moved back to Maryland but he had a serious drinking problem and he committed suicide She then married our third father and we moved to Florida where he too became abusive When our grandmother died we moved back to Maryland My third stepfather continually beat me It became so bad I had to live in the woods in the winter and eat out of trash cans After I got a job my mother took most of my paycheck for her husband s drinking and gambling money This story of extreme child abuse promises to take you on a journey through the eyes of a child as the victim to the young adult as the survivor My sole purpose and motivation is to help child abuse victims and help those more fortunate to understand the victims First time author George Colby Hoffman now lives in Florida His next book is titled From Exercise to Competitive Bodybuilding for the over 50 Publisher s website <http://sbpra.com/GeorgeColbyHoffman> The Oxford Handbook of Children's Literature Julia Mickenberg, Lynne Vallone, 2012-11-29 Remarkably well researched the essays consider a wide range of texts from the U S Britain and Canada and take a variety of theoretical approaches including formalism and Marxism and those related to psychology postcolonialism reception feminism queer studies and performance studies This collection pushes boundaries of genre notions of childhood Choice Back cover of book Smoke and Mirrors Stephanie Urso Spina, 2000-10-18 Many of our country's children face daily a threat to their personal safety and well being As school boards law enforcement officials and policymakers continue to look for ways to stop youth violence in urban and suburban schools not enough attention is paid to eradicating the socioeconomic and cultural conditions that give rise to these acts In this timely and thought provoking collection seasoned educators and cultural theorists emphasize this connection between youth violence and the realities faced by many children poverty racism unequal opportunity and the media's glorification of violence Rituals and Student Identity in Education R. Quantz, 2011-01-31 An exploration of how the nonrational aspects of schooling especially rituals have been harnessed to construct a commonsense which serves the interests of transnational corporations leaving those educators committed to democracy to develop a new pedagogy that rejects the technical solutions that present reforms demand
