Sterling Journal Advocate Newspaper:

Six-day Mail Delivery United States. Congress. House. Committee on Post Office and Civil Service, 1978 Leaving Readers Behind Gene Roberts, 2004-01-01 The American newspaper industry is in the middle of the most momentous change in its entire three hundred year history A generation of relentless corporatization has resulted in a furious unprecedented blitz of buying selling and consolidation of newspapers accompanied by dramatic and drastic change in reporting and coverage of all kinds Concerned that this phenomenon was going largely unreported Gene Roberts legendary reporter and editor decided to undertake a huge extended reportorial study of his own industry what would become the Project on the State of the American Newspaper Gathering more than two dozen distinguished journalists and writers Roberts produced a long series of reports in the American Journalism Review published by the University of Maryland's Philip Merrill College of Journalism asking the crucial question Are American communities in the very middle of the so called information explosion in danger of becoming less informed than ever The Politics of Western Water Stephen C. Sturgeon, 2022-12-06 As the Democratic congressman from Colorado's Fourth District from 1949 to 1973 Wayne Aspinall was an advocate of natural resource development in general and reclamation projects in particular A political loner considered crusty and abrasive he carved a national reputation by helping secure the passage of key water legislation in the process clashing with colleagues and environmentalists alike Fiercely protective of western Colorado's water supply Aspinall sought to secure prosperity for his district by protecting its share of Colorado River water through federal reclamation projects and he made this goal the centerpiece of his congressional career He became chair of the House Interior Committee in 1959 and ruled it with an iron fist for more than a dozen years a role that placed him in a key position to shape the nation's natural resource legislation at a time when the growing environmental movement was calling for a sharp change in policy This full length study of Aspinall's importance to reclamation in the West clarifies his role in influencing western water policy By focusing on Aspinall's congressional career Stephen Sturgeon provides a detailed account of the political machinations and personal foibles that shaped Aspinall's efforts to implement water reclamation legislation in support of Colorado's Western Slope along the way shedding new light on familiar water controversies Sturgeon meticulously traces the influences on Aspinall's thinking and the arc of his career examining the congressman's involvement in the Colorado River Storage Project bill and his clash with conservationists over the proposed Echo Park Dam recounting the fight over the Frying Pan Arkansas Project and his decision to support diverting water out of his own district and exploring the battles over the Central Arizona Project in which Aspinall fought not only environmentalists but also other members of Congress Finally he assesses the Aspinall legacy including the still disputed Animas La Plata Project and shows how his vision of progress shaped the history of western water development The Politics of Western Water portrays Aspinall in human terms not as a pork barrel politician but as a representative who believed he was protecting his constituents interests It is an insightful account of the political financial and personal variables that affect the course by which water resource legislation is conceived supported and implemented a book that is essential to understanding the history and future of water in the West Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on Post Office and Civil Service,1960 Postal Rate Revision United States. Congress. House.
