Negotiating Identities in Contemporary Africa Toyin Falola, Emmanuel M. Mbah, 2023-08-29 Negotiating Identities in Contemporary Africa Gender Religion and Ethno cultural Identities explores the changing dynamics of identities in Africa with a focus on gender ethno cultural and religious identity Toyin Falola and Emmanuel M Mbah argue that because identity defines who we are as individuals or groups studies on African identities must focus on understanding the changing dynamics in the socio economic and political spheres in the continent These chapters cover subjects such as women s career identity gender roles and knowledge childlessness ethnocentrism and democracy cultural identity through theater Black identity in the diaspora and diasporic consciousness Using existing scholarship the chapters in this edited volume challenge our understanding of what identity entails and provide new discussions on the hitherto politicized historiography of some identities in Africa

Access to Justice in Rural Communities Daniel Newman, Faith Gordon, 2023-05-04 This book offers insight on access to justice from rural areas in internationally comparable contexts to highlight the diversity of experiences within and across rural areas globally It looks at the fundamental questions for people s lives raised by the issue of access to justice as well as the rule of law It highlights a range of social geographic and cultural issues which impact the way rural communities experience the justice system throughout the world with chapters on Australia Canada England Ireland Kenya Northern Ireland South Africa Syria Turkey the USA and Wales Each chapter explores three questions 1 How do people experience the institutions of justice in rural areas and how does this rural experience differ to an urban experience 2 What impact have changes in policy had on the justice system in rural areas and have rural and urban areas been affected in different ways 3 What impact does the law have on people s lives in rural areas and what would rural communities like to be better understood about their experience of the justice system By bringing in the voices and experiences of those who are often ignored or side lined by justice systems this book will set out an agenda for ensuring social justice in legal systems with a focus on protecting marginalised groups

Thus Until Emilia Ilieva, Reuben Matheka, 2025-08-04 Thus Until A History of Egerton University is a thorough historical chronological and well researched account of Egerton University from a whites only college when it started in 1939 through to the expansion it has experienced over the years culminating in being a full university More than any other university in Kenya Egerton has a long and colourful history but like all the other universities it has suffered from the political economic and financial challenges of the time especially since the double intake of the 1990s Chapter One provides the required background to the study highlighting agricultural and educational policies and steering away from the Happy Valley hype so characteristic of the period The reader will learn about the Egerton family in Chapter Two and particularly about Lord Egerton himself and the colonial circumstances within which he lived The chapter dispels some of the popularly held myths about him Chapter Three deals with the beginnings of the college and the various structural and curriculum experiments tried out and the kind of enrolment and students it experimented with as an all white establishment The chapter ends with Africans beginning to agitate for change With great attention to detail the later chapters put the university in a broader local and international context thereby increasing its relevance to society A History of Egerton University though heavily footnoted and with a detailed bibliography is written in a simple easy flowing and accessible style Food Safety in Low and Middle Income Countries Delia Grace,Bassirou Bonfoh,Hung

Nguyen-Viet,Barbara Häsler,2024-02-23 Foodborne diseases FBD are an important externality of agriculture and food systems but only recently have they risen up the development agenda as the result of growing awareness of the health and economic burdens of FBD and how they relate to food systems with a focus on low income and middle income countries LMIC particularly African nations The health burden of FBD is comparable with that of malaria and over 90% falls on people in LMIC with an economic burden of more than US 100 million per year FBD have many other less well estimated effects on nutrition gender equity and the environment While understanding of food safety in domestic markets of LMICs has advanced greatly risk management is in its infancy This Research Topic will bring together leading regional perspectives on food safety in LMICs Current Advances in Contraceptive Use, Technology, and Promotion Allen Kabagenyi ,Ronald

Nutrition and Sustainable Development Goal 4: Quality Education Sarah Burkhart, Elezebeth Mathews, Clinton Beckford, Alemneh Kabeta Daba, Abul Hasnat Milton, Masresha Tessema, 2024-07-03 Building on the Millennium Development Goals the UN Sustainable Development Goals SDGs are the cornerstone of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development billed by the UN as an agenda of unprecedented scope and significance. These seventeen goals are conceived as integrated, indivisible, and as balancing the economic, social, and environmental dimensions of sustainable development. To be achieved by 2030, the goals are organized around five core pillars: people, planet, prosperity, peace, and partnership. As a member of the SDGs Publishers Compact, Frontiers is committed to advocating the themes represented by the SDGs and accelerating progress to achieve them. Nutrition sits at the heart of the SDGs. In addition to achieving Zero Hunger (SDG 2), improvements in nutrition are critical to both achieving and reaping the benefits of all seventeen global goals. With good nutrition comes improved health and wellbeing (SDG 3), enhanced educational and work productivity (SDGs 4 and 8), less poverty (SDG 1), and reduced inequalities (SDGs 5 and 10). And with stronger and more sustainable environments, communities, and technologies (SDGs 6, 7, 9, 11, 17), improved food security and nutrition will follow. As part of an innovative collection showcasing nutrition in the context of the SDGs, this Research Topic will focus on Sustainable Development Goal 4: Quality Education.

Regional Review on Status and Trends in Aquaculture Development in Sub-Saharan Africa - 2015 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2017. The present regional review and synthesis for sub-Saharan Africa (SSA) provides an overview of major issues and trends in the aquaculture sector between 2004 and 2014, with emphasis on outstanding issues over the last five years. The regional review reflects development in 41 countries in SSA for which production was reported to FAO in 2014. The production volume and value data have been derived from the latest FAO global aquaculture dataset 1950-2014 FishStat.

Root, Tuber and Banana Food System Innovations Graham Thiele, Michael Friedmann, Hugo Campos, Vivian Polar, Jeffery W. Bentley, 2022-04-06. This open access book describes recent innovations in food systems based on root, tuber, and banana crops in developing countries. These innovations respond to many of the challenges facing these vital crops: linked to their vegetative seed and bulky and perishable produce. The innovations create value, food jobs, and new sources of income while improving the wellbeing and quality of life of their users. Women are often key players in the production, processing, and marketing of roots, tubers, and bananas, so successful innovation needs to consider gender. These crops and their value chains have long been neglected by research and development; hence, this book contributes to filling in the gap. The book features many outcomes of the CGIAR Research Program in Roots, Tubers, and Bananas (RTB), which operated from 2012-21, encompassing many tropical countries, academic and industry partners, multiple crops, and major initiatives. It describes the successful innovation model developed by RTB that brings together diverse partners and organizations to create value for the end users and to generate positive economic and social outcomes. RTB has accelerated the scaling of innovations to reach many end users cost effectively. Though most of the book's examples and insights are from Africa, they can be applied worldwide. The book will be useful for decision makers designing policies to scale up agricultural solutions for researchers and extension specialists seeking practical ideas and for scholars of innovation.

2017 Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition in Africa

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-04-17 This year's edition of the Africa Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition reports that after a prolonged decline hunger appears to be on the rise In sub Saharan Africa there were about 224 million undernourished people in sub Saharan Africa in 2016 up from 200 million in 2015 In many countries the worsening situation in 2015 and 2016 can be attributed to adverse climatic conditions often linked to the El Niño phenomenon resulting in poor harvests and the loss of livestock Conflict sometimes in combination with drought or floods also contributed to severe food insecurity in several countries Lower commodity prices and a difficult global economic environment have furthermore contributed to the worsening food security situation The worrying trend in undernourishment is not yet reflected in the series of indicators referring to nutritional outcomes in the region with the prevalence of stunting and wasting for children under the age of five continuing to decline gradually However progress towards the World Health Assembly global nutrition targets has been generally poor While a relatively large proportion of countries are on track to meeting the target for overweight in children the rates for adult obesity are soaring in all regions and are especially high in Southern Africa The report also finds that across the board countries have developed and are developing policy frameworks and investment plans that are aligned or efforts are being made to align them with the goals of the Malabo Declaration and SDG 2 Through CAADP policy processes are coherent and this initiative has raised the profile of agriculture and heavily influenced agricultural policy at regional and national levels However the worrying trends in undernourishment underline the need for even greater efforts to achieve the SDG 2 by 2030 The thematic part of the report focuses on the food security and nutrition conflict nexus Conflict is not only an increasingly important cause of food insecurity and malnutrition but food insecurity and malnutrition can also become conflict multipliers Addressing the causes of conflicts and supporting food security and livelihoods can help build resilience to conflict and contribute to sustaining peace

GM maize in Ethiopia:
An ex ante economic assessment of TELA, a drought tolerant and insect resistant maize Yirga, Chilot, Nin-Pratt, Alejandro, Zambrano, Patricia, Wood-Sichra, Ulrike, Habte, Endeshaw, Kato, Edward, Komen, John, Falck-Zepeda, José Benjamin, Chambers, Judith A., 2020-05-07 Ethiopian economy has grown at an average rate that surpasses that of almost any other economy in the region over the last two decades At the center of this development is the high priority placed on accelerating agricultural growth and achieving food security and poverty alleviation Over the years maize has become a main food security crop widely produced and consumed by smallholder farmers second only to teff in terms of area Despite the sustained growth of maize production over the years its yields continue to be lower than the world's average Of the many abiotic and biotic constraints that maize faces insect attacks and droughts are two critical ones The genetically modified TELA maize can help address these constraints This paper estimates the economic benefits of adopting this new technology and the opportunity cost that Ethiopia will incur if its adoption is delayed The analysis is conducted using an economic surplus partial equilibrium model run with the newly developed DREAMpy software data drawn from the Ethiopia

Socioeconomic Survey Wave 3 2015 2016 econometric estimations using these survey data and other local data and sources The estimations show that if the drought tolerant and insect resistant TELA maize is planted in 2023 the net present value of benefits for producers and consumers would be around 850 million Producers from the mid altitude maize zone will be the main beneficiaries given the targeted area of TELA maize Consumers from all areas will benefit from the projected reduction in price If the adoption of this new technology is delayed by 5 years the estimated net present value of benefits will fall by 30 percent These costs underscore the importance of having a regulatory system that is efficient predictable and transparent and ensures that the projected economic benefits are realized

Measuring Diets and Food Choice in the Context of a Changing World Winnie Bell,Christine Blake,Shauna Downs,2025-08-06 Historically research in low and middle income countries has been focused on what people consume with less attention to how and why people choose to consume the foods that they do As incomes rise and local food environments undergo rapid changes providing consumers with a wider array of options at competitive prices understanding the underlying drivers of food choice including the preferences and values that underpin them has become increasingly important In recent years there have been renewed efforts to understand the drivers of food choice in the context of changing food environments and broader food system and how these drivers link with food consumption The goal of this Research Topic is to look beyond dietary consumption what people eat by considering more holistically the various drivers of food choice how and why people eat the foods they do to better understand what underpins individual decisions Ultimately by understanding why people make the choices they do especially when situated in the local food environment and or broader food system we can identify important entry points for behavior change interventions develop a better understanding about the role of food safety in food choice decisions improve the environment climate and food systems through improved knowledge on the drivers of food choice and learn about how changing livelihoods shifts dynamics related to food choice amongst other important research tied to drivers of food choice
