Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and its double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt ECCWS2015-Proceedings of the 14th European Conference on Cyber Warfare and Security 2015 Dr Nasser Abouzakhar, 2015-07-01 Complete proceedings of the 14th European Conference on Cyber Warfare and Security Hatfield UK Published by Academic Conferences and Publishing International Limited Handbook of Research on Advancements in the Processing, Characterization, and Application of Lightweight Materials Kumar, Kaushik, Babu, B. Sridhar, Davim, J. Paulo, 2021-11-19 In the automotive industry the need to reduce vehicle weight has given rise to extensive research efforts to develop aluminum and magnesium alloys for structural car body parts In aerospace the move toward composite airframe structures urged an increased use of formable titanium alloys In steel research there are ongoing efforts to design novel damage controlled forming processes for a new generation of efficient and reliable lightweight steel components All these materials and more constitute today's research mission for lightweight structures They provide a fertile materials science research field aiming to achieve a better understanding of the interplay between industrial processing microstructure development and the resulting material properties The Handbook of Research on Advancements in the Processing Characterization and Application of Lightweight Materials provides the recent advancements in the lightweight materials processing manufacturing and characterization This book identifies the need for modern tools and techniques for designing lightweight materials and addresses multidisciplinary approaches for applying their use Covering topics such as numerical optimization fatigue characterization and process evaluation this text is an essential resource for materials engineers manufacturers practitioners engineers academicians chief research officers

Design, Principle and Application of Self-Assembled Nanobiomaterials in Biology and Medicine Alok Pandya,Rajesh S. Bhosale,Vijai Singh,2022-08-04 Design Principle and Application of Self Assembled Nanobiomaterials in Biology and Medicine discusses recent advances in science and technology using nanoscale units that show the novel concept of combining nanotechnology with various research disciplines within both the biomedical and medicine fields Self assembly of molecules macromolecules and polymers is a fascinating strategy for the construction of various desired nanofabrication in chemistry biology and medicine for advanced applications It has a number of advantages 1 It is involving atomic level modification of molecular structure using bond formation advanced techniques of synthetic chemistry 2 It draws from the enormous wealth of examples in biology for the development of complex functional structures 3 It can incorporate biological structures directly as components in the final systems 4 It requires that the target self assembled structures be thermodynamically most stable with relatively defect free and self healing In this book we cover the various emerging self assembled nanostructured objects including molecular machines nano cars molecular rotors nanoparticles nanosheets nanotubes nanowires nano flakes nano cubes nano disks nanorings DNA origami transmembrane channels and vesicles These self assembled materials are used for sensing drug delivery molecular recognition tissue engineering energy generation and molecular tuning Provides a basic understanding of how to design and implement various self assembled nanobiomaterials Covers principles implemented in the constructions of novel nanostructured materials Offers many applications of self assemblies in fluorescent biological labels drug and gene delivery bio detection of pathogens detection of proteins probing of DNA structure tissue engineering and many more

ECCWS 2018 17th European Conference on Cyber Warfare and Security V2 Audun Jøsang,2018-06-21 Functionally Graded Materials Rasheedat Modupe

Mahamood, Esther Titilayo Akinlabi, 2017-02-14 This book presents the concept of functionally graded materials as well as their use and different fabrication processes The authors describe the use of additive manufacturing technology for the production of very complex parts directly from the three dimension computer aided design of the part by adding material layer after layer A case study is also presented in the book on the experimental analysis of functionally graded material using laser metal deposition process Productivity Improvement in Manufacturing SMEs Thomas Thinandavha

Munyai, Boysana Lephoi Mbonyane, Charles Mbohwa, 2017-12-12 This book focuses on the application of workstudy in productivity of manufacturing SMEs locally and abroad and also explores various industrial problems which face manufacturing SMEs in developing and underdeveloped countries in the rest of the world Low productivity is currently a serious challenge facing manufacturing SMEs where these SMEs are operating below expected production output levels which makes it difficult for them to compete in the global market SMEs are the engine drivers of economic growth one of which is manufacturing The challenge is that government from various countries in developing and underdeveloped countries mandated agencies in their respective areas to ensure that there is economic progress for these SMEs but productivity remains low in the manufacturing SMEs When SMEs do not perform well productivity of manufacturing SMEs declines and unemployment increases Thus an increase in unemployment results in a drop of GDP in the country and can become a global and economic crisis This book describes a process which enables the reader to use effective knowledge that addresses problems facing the productivity of manufacturing SMEs such as work study tools and case studies and provides solutions and applications to improve the running of the manufacturing SMEs in growing their productivity Media Ethics Clifford Handbook of Research on Emerging Theories, Models, and Applications of Financial Econometrics Burcu Adıgüzel Mercangöz, 2021-02-17 This handbook presents emerging research exploring the theoretical and practical aspects of econometric techniques for the financial sector and their applications in economics. By doing so it offers invaluable tools for predicting and weighing the risks of multiple investments by incorporating data analysis. Throughout the book the authors address a broad range of topics such as predictive analysis, monetary policy, economic growth, systemic risk, and investment behavior. This book is a must read for researchers, scholars, and practitioners in the field of economics who are interested in a better understanding of current research on the application of econometric methods to financial sector data.

Materials Science and Engineering: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources, 2017-01-11 The design and study of materials is a pivotal component to new discoveries in the various fields of science and technology. By better understanding the components and structures of materials, researchers can increase its applications across different industries. Materials Science and Engineering: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications is a compendium of the latest academic material on investigations, technologies, and techniques pertaining to analyzing the synthesis and design of new materials. Through its broad and extensive coverage on a variety of crucial topics such as nanomaterials, biomaterials, and relevant computational methods, this multi-volume work is an essential reference source for engineers, academics, researchers, students, professionals, and practitioners seeking innovative perspectives in the field of materials science and engineering.

Osseous Projectile Weaponry Michelle C. Langley, 2017-01-27 This volume presents the current state of knowledge on the osseous projectile weaponry that was produced by Pleistocene cultures across the globe. Through cross-cultural and temporal comparison of manufacturing methods, design, use methods, and associated technology, chapters in this volume identify and discuss differences and similarities between these Pleistocene cultures. The central research questions addressed in this volume include: a) how did osseous weaponry technology develop and change through time, and can these changes be tied to environmental and/or social influences; b) how did different Pleistocene cultures design and adapt their osseous weaponry technology to their environment, as well as changes in that environment; and c) can we identify cultural interaction between neighboring groups through the analysis of osseous weapons technology, and if so, can we use these items to track the movement of peoples and/or ideas across the landscape. Through addressing these three central research questions, this volume creates an integrated understanding of osseous technology during a vital period in Modern Human cultural development, which will be useful for students and advanced researchers alike.

Nanotechnology for Sustainable Food Packaging C. Anandharamakrishnan, Jeyan A. Moses, M. Maria Leena, 2025-03-11 Latest techniques for the development of biodegradable food packaging casings, with commentary on safety concerns and regulatory frameworks. Nanotechnology for Sustainable Food Packaging covers the latest techniques and applications of nanotechnology, demonstrating capabilities to revolutionize the food packaging sector This includes concepts of biodegradable food packaging approaches to improve material functionality robust sensing systems and the scope of employing advanced analytical and computational approaches to support progress in the field Throughout the text focuses on the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals including life cycle analysis biodegradability green practices eco friendliness and sustainability This book explores the major food packaging matrixes polymers edible films and multilayers different categories of advances composites active and intelligent packaging labeling considerations region and country specific regulatory frameworks and safety concerns Readers will also find a futuristic preview of this rapidly advancing field and an overview of lab ready technologies with the potential for commercialization Written by a team of highly qualified authors Nanotechnology for Sustainable Food Packaging discusses sample topics including Nanotechnology s potential to improve the shelf life of food products the chemistry and functionality of different materials based on merits and possible challenges Sources chemistry and functionality of various bio based sources and their usage as nanocomposites and bio based alternatives drawbacks and research trends Bioactive compounds in food packaging and their benefits preparation methods characterization approaches delivery and assessment Surface modification approaches through sustainable physico chemical approaches and the development of flexible packaging materials suitable for specific requirements such as nonthermal processing Nanotechnology for Sustainable Food Packaging is an essential scientific and technological reference for scientists and R D personnel who are interested in advancing food packaging technologies The book is also valuable for students researchers and food industry professionals studying nanotechnology in food food packaging and food science and technology

ECCWS2016-Proceedings fo the 15th European Conference on Cyber Warfare and Security " Robert Koch,Gabi Rodosek,2016-06-15 These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 15th European Conference on Cyber Warfare and Security ECCWS 2016 which is being hosted this year by the Universitat der Bundeswehr Munich Germany on the 7 8 July 2016 ECCWS is a recognised event on the International research conferences calendar and provides a valuable plat form for individuals to present their research findings display their work in progress and discuss conceptual and empirical advances in the area of Cyberwar and Cyber Security It provides an important opportunity for researchers and managers to come together with peers to share their experiences of using the varied and ex panding range of Cyberwar and Cyber Security research available to them With an initial submission of 110 abstracts after the double blind peer review process there are 37 Academic research papers and 11 PhD research papers 1 Master s research paper 2 Work In Progress papers and 2 non academic papers published in these Conference Proceedings These papers come from many different countries including Austria Belgium Canada Czech Republic Finland France Germany Greece Hungary Ireland Kenya Luxembourg Netherlands Norway Portugal Romania Russia Slovenia South Africa Sweden Turkey UK and USA This is not only highlighting the international character of the conference but is also promising very interesting discussions based on the broad treasure trove of experience of our community and participants

Educating Citizen Designers in South Africa Elmarie Costandius, 2018-09-07 Educating Citizen Designers in South Africa is the first book of its kind to appear in post apartheid South Africa and it is therefore both overdue and extremely welcome. The book aims at sharing critical citizenship design teaching and learning pedagogies by including contributions from a range of design educators and one student who work in different design disciplines such as architecture, graphic and product design. Critical citizenship education is explicated in relation to a range of theories and new and existing models. Numerous contemporary case studies and examples of design projects from a range of South African Higher Education Institutions are included. As such a variety of perspectives emerge including the consensual where the aim of critical citizenship education is viewed as promoting social justice, shared values and critical thinking to the conflicting where critiques are levelled against conceptions of critical citizenship education. Contentious contesting and contradictory views are inevitable and necessary given the South African context as it is only in open debate that the one point of agreement among the authors, the need for social change, can be worked towards. Prof Deirdre Pretorius, University of Johannesburg

The Geopolitics of Postdigital Educational Development Michael A. Peters, Benjamin J. Green, Olivera Kamenarac, Petar Jandrić, Tina Besley, 2025-11-03 This volume examines the evolving role of education in contemporary geopolitical landscapes where technological innovation, global networks and national interests redefine its purpose. Moving beyond territorial geopolitics, it explores education as a critical asset in postdigital societies embedded in techno-nationalist agendas and global power structures. In AI, genomics, nanotechnology and quantum technologies, education serves dual functions: shaping epistemic authority and underpinning knowledge economies. These developments challenge paradigms of truth, consciousness and equitable knowledge access. The chapters engage with discourses on digital sovereignty, postdigital privilege, democracy and resistance, illustrating how education restructures global power relations. Synthesizing perspectives from geopolitics, digital transformation and postdigital educational development, it underscores understanding education as a contested terrain where global equity, inclusion and ethical technological governance are negotiated. This book is particularly suited for researchers of postdigital education. The Geopolitics of Postdigital Educational Development is complemented by Postdigital Education for Development, also edited by Michael A. Peters, Olivera Kamenarac, Ben Green, Petar Jandrić and Tina Besley with contributions focusing on current trends innovations opportunities and challenges policies and procedures legislation and regulations practices and case studies in both the public and private sectors The volume will contribute to the existing body of knowledge relative to the science and practice of construction not only in South Africa but wherever the products of construction are produced even in these new challenging times of fear and uncertainty

Construction in 5D: Deconstruction, Digitalization, Disruption, Disaster, Development Theo C. Haupt, Mariam Akinlolu, Fredrick Simpeh, Christopher Amoah, Zakheeya Armoed, 2022-06-21 This book gathers the latest advances, innovations and applications in built environment as presented by international researchers at the 15th Built Environment Conference held in Durban, South Africa, on September 27-28, 2021, and organized by the Association of Schools of Construction of Southern Africa (ASOCSA). The overarching theme of the conference was Construction in 5D: Deconstruction, Digitalization, Disruption, Disaster, Development.

Social Constructions of Water Quality in South Africa Suvania Naidoo, 2022-05-04 This book details how the water quality of the Blesbokspruit River in Gauteng South Africa was socially constructed by stakeholders and key individuals in the context of acid mine drainage AMD and its treatment Social constructionism is used as the framing for this research to explain how water is intrinsically social Findings presented here show that stakeholders are aware that the changes in the physicality of the Blesbokspruit resulted from human interventions and varied uses of the water over the years Such knowledge among factors such as the historical context of mining current coal mining flows and volumes of water technology used and processes followed information and communication and vested interests influence social constructions of the water quality What counts as the truth about water varies depending on the individual s perspective their purpose and their individual interests Further how one defines water quality influences what treatment processes are preferred in order to improve water quality The book explains why for example a treatment process meant to improve water quality gained a bad reputation by the public because of the South African government s silo approach The book explains how these social constructions are entrenched in power relations between stakeholders regarding AMD treatment and illustrates how power was used to influence decisions to improve the water quality of the Blesbokspruit The case presented in this book offers insights and recommendations for policymakers working in water governance including means to influence social constructions of water quality and ways to clarify roles and responsibilities in pursuit of improved cooperative government
