Congress. Library of Congress Office, Nairobi, Kenya,1996 South Sudan Skills Story Lawrence M. Tombe,2017-09-28 The South Sudan Skills Story is an account about manpower and education development in South Sudan a narrative that includes efforts exerted in attainment of the much needed workforce for fuelling the countrys economy now fatally impacted by the ongoing internal strife Prior to escalation of the armed conflict that broke out in December 2013 hardly four years after the country gained its sovereignty on July 9 2011 the new nation was on course in setting up its new education system and basis of sustainable human development now shattered by the vicious war The conflict has eroded the countrys human potential through loss of life skills wastage and extreme brutalities perpetrated against citizens by the war drivers The education quandary is compounded by displacement of over 3 million people from their homes and localities a dire situation that has caused severe food insecurity affecting over 7.5 million people With over 2 million children forced out of school particularly in the most conflict affected regions of South Sudan including over 1.4 million forced out of the country as refugees to neighbouring countries it means that one in every three children in the country is out of school The scale and magnitude of the unending human dispersal has severely curtailed South Sudans ability to provide education to all its citizens The once adopted slogan of bringing education to all in the country is now a far cry as the new nation heads to total collapse if the conflict is not halted The South Sudan Skills Story urges the leaders of South Sudan who are proponents of the conflict to rise above self serving political cleavages to stop the war for peace so that all the citizens are availed the opportunity to realize their fullest potential for development of the country The narrative concludes that the people of this young nation will remain one of the most undereducated populations in the world as long as the legacy of war violence and impunity prevails in the country

Developmentalism, Dependency, and the State: Industrial Development and Economic Change in Namibia since 1900 Christopher Hope, 2020-09-23 Why does Namibia s economy look the way it does today Was the reliance on raw materials for exports and on the service sector for employment an inevitability And for what reasons has the manufacturing sector the vehicle for economic development for many now high income countries throughout the 19th and 20th centuries seen its growth held back With these questions in mind this book offers an extensive analysis of industrial development and economic change in Namibia since 1900 exploring their causes trajectory vicissitudes context and politics Its focus is particularly on the motivations behind the economic decisions of the state arguing that power relations both internationally and domestically have held firm a status quo that has resisted efforts towards profound economic change This work is the first in depth economic study covering both the colonial and independence eras of Namibia s history and provides the first history of the country s manufacturing sector

Remembering the Reformation Thomas Albert Howard, 2016-08-19 The 500th anniversary of the Reformation in 2017 focuses the mind on the history and significance of Protestant forms of Christianity. It also prompts the question of how the Reformation has been commemorated on past anniversary occasions. In an effort to examine various meanings attributed to Protestantism, this book recounts and analyzes major commemorative occasions including the famous posting of the 95 Theses in 1517 or the birth and death dates of Martin Luther respectively 1483 and 1546. Beginning with the first centennial jubilee in 1617, Remembering the Reformation: An Inquiry into the Meanings of Protestantism makes its way to the 500th anniversary of Martin Luther's birth, internationally marked in 1983. While the book focuses on German speaking lands, Thomas Albert Howard also looks at Reformation commemorations in other countries, notably in the United States. The central argument is that past commemorations have been heavily shaped by their historical moment, exhibiting confessional, liberal, nationalist, militaristic, Marxist, and ecumenical motifs among others.

Peacekeeping in Africa Marco Jowell, 2018-02-21. In recent decades, African states have developed an impressive infrastructure for training their peacekeepers. In addition, peacekeeping, peacebuilding, and associated areas of conflict resolution have become significant areas of employment. Marco Jowell has spent a decade working in peacekeeping training in East Africa, initially as one of the foreign Technical Advisers at the Peace Support Operations (PSO) training centre in Kenya, the International Peace Support Training Centre (IPSTC), and subsequently as a strategic adviser to the Rwanda Peace Academy. Using first-hand experience, he considers how military forces from a variety of African states, with great differences in history, language, and political systems, and with militaries with different cultures and capabilities, can conduct complicated multinational peacekeeping operations. He shows how regional peacekeeping training centres provide an environment for African elites, predominately military, to interact with each other through shared training and experiences. This process of interaction or socialisation improves skills but also encourages cohesion so that future African-led missions will be managed by well-trained officers who are comfortable and willing to work within a regional or Pan-African framework. Jowell shows that part of the aim of peacekeeping training centres is to foster a Pan-African outward-looking ideology or disposition as well as improving technical ability. This book will be essential reading for all involved with African military and security studies and analysts of peacekeeping training and operations.
