mathematics Horizon: Methods & Society 2025 Prof. Edward Haberek Jr., Dr. Prabha Shreeraj Nair, Dr. Prabhakar Vishwakarma, 2025-08-10 Horizon Methods Society 2025 This volume marks a significant milestone in our collective endeavor to bring together a diverse body of research reflection and scholarly discourse under one unified platform. Conceived as a scholarly melting pot, this ISBN book compiles selected manuscripts rigorously reviewed and carefully curated by the editorial team to highlight not only the methods that define contemporary academic inquiry but also the societal dimensions that influence and are influenced by these methods. The title of this work, Methods Society, has been intentionally chosen to reflect the duality and interconnectedness of research methodology and social application. Methodology is not merely a technical exercise of data collection or statistical rigor but rather a framework through which societies make sense of evolving realities. Similarly, societal transformations inform and challenge traditional methods, prompting innovation in how we design, evaluate, and disseminate scholarship. This book, standing at the intersection of disciplines, aspires to create a horizon that illuminates possibilities rather than boundaries. In the present edition, the contributors represent a wide spectrum of fields spanning social sciences, science and technology, humanities, education, and applied research. Each manuscript has undergone a peer review process to ensure originality, academic depth, and relevance to the thematic framework of this edition. What stands out in this compilation is the emphasis on interdisciplinary engagement, a recognition that the most pressing issues of our era demand multi-faceted perspectives rooted in empirical rigor and informed by human values.

Gender and Justice in Family Law Disputes Samia Bano, 2017-05-02 Recently, new methods of dispute resolution in matters of family law, such as arbitration, mediation, and conciliation, have created new forms of legal culture that affect minority communities throughout the world. There are now multiple ways of obtaining restitution through nontraditional alternative dispute resolution (ADR) mechanisms. For some, the emergence of ADRs can be understood as part of a broader liberal response to the challenges presented by the settlement of migrant communities in Western liberal democracies. Questions of rights are framed as multicultural challenges that give rise to important issues relating to power, authority, agency, and choice. Underpinning these debates are questions about the doctrine and practice of secularism, citizenship, belonging, and identity. Gender and Justice in Family Law Disputes offers insights into how women's autonomy and personal decision-making capabilities are expressed via multiple formal and nonformal dispute resolution mechanisms and as part of their social and legal lived realities. It analyzes the specific ways in which both mediation and religious arbitration take shape in contemporary and comparative family law across jurisdictions. Demarcating lines between contemporary family mediation and new forms of religious arbitration, Bano illuminates the complexities of these processes across multiple national contexts.
