Up in Smoke Martha A. Derthick, 2011-07-26 In recent years tobacco politics has been a multi layered issue fraught with significant legal commercial and public policy implications From the outset Martha A Derthick s Up in Smoke took a nuanced look at tobacco politics in a new era of adversarial legalism and the consequences both intended and unintended of the MSA Master Settlement Agreement Now with a brand new 3rd edition the book returns to ordinary politics and the passage of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act which gave the FDA broad authority to regulate both the manufacture and marketing of tobacco products Derthick shows our political institutions working as they should even if slowly with partisanship and interest group activity playing their part in putting restraints on cigarette smoking Walk Through the Fire Jonathan C. Securitization of Property Squatting in Europe Mary Manjikian, 2013-05-29 Housing is no longer about having a place to live but about state pressures to conform norms and policies regarding citizenship and practices of surveillance and security Breaking new ground in the field of urban politics and international relations Securitization of Property Squatting in

Europe examines and critiques legislative initiatives and examines governmental attempts to reframe urban property squatting as a crime and a threat to domestic security Using examples from France Netherlands Denmark and Great Britain Mary Manjikian argues that developments within the European Union including terrorist attacks in London and Madrid the rise of right wing extremist parties and the lifting of barriers to immigration and travel within the EU have had effects on housing policy which has become the subject of state security policy in Europe s urban areas In Denmark squatting has often had an ideological anti state character In Paris housing policy can be viewed as a type of identity politics with squatters as transnational actors who pose a transnational security threat In Great Britain the role of the press has created a drive to criminalize squatting Events in the Netherlands present two competing notions of what housing is a human right or an economic good produced by the free market

Growing Up In A Pennsylvania Steel Town Edward Nebinger, 2012-10-01 The author was inspired to write these memoirs of the years he spent growing up in the Pennsylvania steel town of Bethlehem before the Second World War by the realization that they were a pivotal time in American history While Americans were struggling with the economic hardships of the Great Depression they never gave up and instead made the best of what they had Out of their triumph over hardship grew the generation that fought and won the Second World War The society and culture exemplified by the Pennsylvania steel towns has now vanished but it is hard not to think that while we have gained much as a society we have also lost far too many things worthy of preservation One of these was the great Bethlehem Steel plant itself the ruins of which stretch for miles along the Lehigh River Dominating the ruins are the ghostly remains of the five great blast furnaces preserved to remind people of the greatness that was once Bethlehem Steel and the community that lived in its shadows
