third wave feminism male emasculation and immaturity hipster indie and urban music as it relates to Generation Y and Generation X By examining these perspectives this book uncovers many of the most pressing issues that have surfaced in the show while considering the broader societal implications therein Reading Phineas, Watching Slashers Brandon R. Grafius, 2018-03-20 The tale of the zeal of Phineas expressed when he killed an Israelite man and a Midianite woman having sex and thus stopped a plague of consorting with idolatrous neighbors in the Israelite camp Numbers 25 has long attracted both interest and revulsion Scholars have sought to defend the account to explain it as pious fiction or to protest its horrific violence Brandon R Grafius seeks to understand how the tale expresses the latent anxieties of the Israelite society that produced it combining the insights of historical criticism with those of contemporary horror and monster theory Grafius compares Israelite anxieties concerning ethnic boundaries and community organization with similar anxieties apparent in horror films of the 1980s then finds confirmation for his method in the responses of Roman period readers who reacted to the tale of Phineas as a tale of horror The combination of methods allows Grafius to illumine the concern of an ancient priestly class to control unsettled and unsettling community boundaries and to raise questions of implications for our own time

Interdisciplinary Essays on Environment and Culture Luigi Manca, Jean-Marie Kauth, 2015-12-24 This is a collection of essays about the media the environment and the whole of humanity at the brink of extinction As the demands of overpopulation and of an unsustainable consumer economy dry up existing natural resources and destroy vital ecosystems that we need to survive the corporate controlled media saturate worldwide audiences with a barrage of hypnotic images and narratives to stimulate over consumption and to distract us from the consequences of rampant consumerism while remaining silent about the systematic destruction of the environment and our future Academicians from the across the sciences the social sciences the arts and the humanities engage in an interdisciplinary discussion informed by a vision of an interconnected humanity and focused on the role of the media in forging public discourse Contributors to the collection argue that today's media are failing humanity Rather than providing pictures of reality on which the world's citizens can act the corporate controlled media are widely used as instruments of commercial and political propaganda creating an immense web of images and narratives that their creators know to be not true fabrications designed to sell to manipulate in a sense to enslave worldwide audiences At the core of the discussion in this book is a utopian vision of one unified humanity billions of people whose destinies and dreams are imbricated and interdependent and who share the same world the same habitats It is a vision of a world that cherishes diversity but is also united a world where our differences are no longer a cause for conflict and where separate countries or separate ethnic or religious communities no longer have to compete or wage war to exploit available resources As extensions of humans the media can be instruments of salvation instead of destruction liberation instead of oppression But first we must recognize the challenges we face
