Urban Inclusivity in Southern Africa Hangwelani H. Magidimisha-Chipungu, Lovemore Chipungu, 2021-09-28 This book's point of departure rests on the premises that dimensions of the mainstream inclusive city discourse fail to capture in detail vulnerable clusters of society being women children and the aging the minority clusters i.e. the blind the disabled and migrants In addition it fails to recognize the increase of spatial inequality driven by racial and class differences a factor that has seen an increase in community violence and protests The focus on spatial inequality has for a long time blindfolded urban authorities to ignore exclusion arising out of the same environments created with a notion of creating inclusivity Hence this book collapses spatial walls as it seeks to uncover the true perspectives of inclusivity in cities beyond spatial dimensions but within social realms The depth of this book's enquiry rests on its critical investigation of Southern African cities through historical epochs of apartheid and colonialism in the region

Local Self-Governance and Varieties of Statehood Dieter Neubert, Hans-Joachim Lauth, Christoph Mohamad-Klotzbach, 2022-12-13 The debate on governance originates in the OECD world At the latest since the postcolonial debate we know that we need to test our assumptions under radically different conditions This book offers an extended perspective of local self governance by examining cases from South Asia Africa and Latin America together with a study of militias in the USA The chapters present a wide variety of local actors who pursue different notions of order legitimized by local traditions based on hierarchy or deeply rooted communalism Islamic theology or grassroots democracy Some local actors claim a state like authority and challenge the territorial state In such cases there is no longer a shadow hierarchy but opposition to the state Different violent actors fight for supremacy and the state is just one actor among others The empirical studies presented in this book show how different kinds of local self governance are combined with varieties of statehood and thus contribute to an understanding of the notion of governance in a fundamental sense that goes beyond the special case of the OECD world

Meissner, 2020-08-31 This book offers the reader a deeper understanding of the eThekweni Metropolitan Municipality's green and ecological infrastructure policy landscape The author utilises the PULSE3 analytical framework to conduct an in depth examination and to show how experts frame and implement the municipality's green and ecological infrastructure strategies and projects Although the initial purpose of this book was to investigate the role of green and ecological infrastructures in eThekweni's water security aspirations the author realised that climate change adaptation and mitigation play a more central role in motivating the municipality to develop and implement such science driven projects To be sure science that is informed by a positivist paradigm guides how where and when the municipality should develop green and ecological infrastructures Furthermore a positivistic stance is generated in this policy landscape where science and politics meet at a local government level and the book offers an insight into the science policy interface as well as the normative and value orientations that positivism often ignores The book also shows the usefulness of the PULSE3 framework and how it can assist scientists in all fields to gain a deeper understanding of the complications that are faced by humankind This book fills a market gap by providing a view of how scientists think about problems and how to solve them by using established paradigms and theories

Illustrated Glossary of Southern African Architectural Terms, English-isiZulu Franco Frescura, Philisiwe Joyce Myeza, 2016. Since 1994 South Africa has undergone a steady erosion of its indigenous built environment with a concomitant loss of indigenous building technology and its specialised terminology. This glossary is based on the premise that readers cannot understand the culture of a people unless they have a grasp of the nuances and hidden meanings of the language. The authors bring together in one volume the terminologies that are used by southern Africa's rural builders. The terminology used by indigenous builders is included here as well as the terminology used by subsequent colonial white settlers including buildings of the so-called Cape Dutch, English, Georgian, Victorian and Indian Traditions. The text is set out in alphabetical order. It comprises each term in its original language, its translation where appropriate into isiZulu and its definition in English and isiZulu. One of the strengths of English-isiZulu Glossary of Architectural Terms is its visual component of accompanying sketches that expertly illustrate the terms. This book is designed not only to assist in the teaching of architecture but also to aid others who are interested in the field. Researchers and practitioners in disciplines such as anthropology, archaeology, culture studies and building science will find it a valuable addition to their libraries. Series: UKZN Bilingual Glossary Series / Subject: Architecture / African Studies / Anthropology / Art History

Politics at a Distance from the State Lucien van der Walt, Kirk Helliker, 2022-08-23. For decades, most anti-capitalist and anti-imperialist movements identified radical transformation with capturing state power. The collapse of these statist projects from the 1970s led to a global crisis of left and working class politics. But crisis has also opened space for rediscovering alternative society-centered anti-capitalist modes of bottom-up change operating at a distance from the state. These have registered important successes in practice such as the Zapatistas in Mexico and Rojava in Syria. They have been a key influence on movements from Occupy in the United States to the landless in Latin America to anti-austerity struggles in Europe and Asia to urban movements in Africa. Their lineages include anarchism, syndicalism, autonomist Marxism, philosophers like Alain Badiou and radical popular praxis. This path-breaking volume recovers this understanding of social transformation long sidelined but now resurgent like a seed in the soil that keeps breaking through and growing. It provides case studies with reference to South Africa and Zimbabwe and includes a dossier of key texts from a century of anarchists, syndicalists, insurgent unionists and anti-apartheid activists in South Africa. Originating in an African summit of radical academics, struggle veterans and social movements, the book includes a preface from John Holloway.

Reconciliation and Building a Sustainable Peace Cathy Bollaert,2019-02-02 This book explores how competing worldviews impact on intergroup relations and building a sustainable peace in culturally diverse societies It raises the question of what happens in a culturally diverse society when competing values and ways of interpreting reality collide and what this means for peace building and the goal of reconciliation Moreover it provides a valuable and needed contribution to how peace building interventions can become more sustainable if tied into local values and embedded in a society's system of meaning making The book engages with questions relating to the extent transitional policies speak to universal values and individualist societies and the implications this might have for how they are implemented in collective societies with different values and forms of social organisation It raises the question of cultural equality and transformation and whether or not this is something that needs to be addressed within peace building theory It argues that inculcating worldview into peace building theory and practice is a vital part of restoring dignity and promoting healing among victims and formerly oppressed groups This book therefore makes an important contribution to what is at best a partially researched topic by providing a deeper understanding of how identity and culture intersect with peace building when seeking to build a sustainable peace
