Susan Sherratt Yannis Galanakis, Toby Wilkinson, John Bennet, 2014-10-18 This volume brings together twenty six papers to mark Susan Sherratt's 65th birthday a collection that seeks to reflect both her broad range of interests and her ever questioning approach to uncovering the realities of life in Europe and the Mediterranean in later prehistory      Hellrazed? Kevin Miller, 2017-11-15 In September 2012 the feature length documentary Hellbound was released in theaters across North America Joining a growing chorus of voices that were questioning the traditional view of hell as a place of eternal conscious torment the film asked a handful of burning questions Does hell exist If so who goes there and why More importantly what do our views about hell say about us and our understanding of God And how do our beliefs about these issues affect the kind of world we create the kind of people we become Five years later the debate over hell is far from settled but the landscape in which such questions are being asked has changed radically Hence filmmaker Kevin Miller decided it was time to go back to some of the people who appear in Hellbound and others he met along the way to get their input on how the debate has shifted and how it's remained the same The result is a plethora of voices offering all sorts of perspectives some highly academic some polemic some intensely personal and all bound to impact how readers think and feel about this issue      More Than Words Richard Fox, 2018-09-15 Grounded in ethnographic and archival research on the Indonesian island of Bali More Than Words challenges conventional understandings of textuality and writing as they pertain to the religious traditions of Southeast Asia Through a nuanced study of Balinese script as employed in rites of healing sorcery and self defense Richard Fox explores the aims and desires embodied in the production and use of palm leaf manuscripts amulets and other inscribed objects Balinese often attribute both life and independent volition to manuscripts and copperplate inscriptions presenting them with elaborate offerings Commonly addressed with personal honorifics these script bearing objects may become partners with humans and other sentient beings in relations of exchange and mutual obligation The question is how such practices of the living letter may be related to more recently emergent conceptions of writing linked to academic philology reform Hinduism and local politics which take Balinese letters to be a symbol of cultural heritage and a neutral medium for the transmission of textual meaning More than Words shows how Balinese practices of apotropaic writing on palm leaves amulets and bodies challenge these notions and yet coexist alongside them Reflecting on this coexistence Fox develops a theoretical approach to writing centered on the premise that such contradictory sensibilities hold wider significance than previously recognized for the history and practice of religion in Southeast Asia and beyond      Hot Equations Jesse S. Equations reads the crises of our post normal moment via works that increasingly subvert genre containment and spill out into the public sphere Drawing on archives and contemporary theory author Jesse S Cohn argues that these imaginative works of science fiction fantasy and horror strike at the very foundations of modernity calling its basic assumptions into question They threaten the modern order with a simultaneously terrible and promising anarchy pointing to ways beyond the present medical ecological and political crises of pandemic climate change and rising global fascism Examining books ranging from well known titles like The Hunger Games and The Caves of Steel to newer works such as Under the Pendulum Sun and The Stone Sky Cohn investigates the ways in which science fiction fantasy and horror address contemporary politics social issues and more The cold equations that established normal life in the modern world may be in shambles Cohn suggests but a New Black Fantastic makes it possible for the radical imagination to glimpse viable possibilities on the other side of crisis the republication of Steven Sands and John Ratey's influential 1986 article 'The concept of noise' this volume explores how noise transcends its traditional definition as unwanted sound or mere signal interference to become a generative force in our increasingly complex digitised world. The book brings together leading thinkers including Catherine Malabou, Rosa Menkman and Yuk Hui to investigate noise across multiple domains from semantic disruptions in Large Language Models to the algorithmic unconscious from gaming platforms to glitch aesthetics and from protest movements to post semiotic French theory. Building on Sands and Ratey's pioneering concept of the mental state of noise, it reveals how noise functions also as a catalyst for emergence, creativity and transformative change in contemporary society. The chapters in this interdisciplinary collection challenge conventional understandings of complex systems, cognition and computation, offering fresh perspectives on the relationship between human thought and technological advancement. By positioning noise as central to 21st century techno-human cognition and cultural evolution, this volume opens new pathways for understanding the intersection of mind, machine and meaning. Essential reading for scholars and students in contemporary philosophy, science and technology studies, media and cultural studies, digital humanities and digital arts, this volume demonstrates how noise has become instrumental in reshaping our understanding of the modern world and its possibilities.

It was originally published as a special issue of Angelaki. Michael Hofmann André Naffis-Sahely, 2025-03-26 For more than four decades Michael Hofmann has made significant contributions to the literary cultures of Germany, the United Kingdom and the United States, ranging from his original poetry to translations of Kafka, Brecht, Hans Fallada and Joseph Roth among others. In the first book-length study of this iconic figure, poet and translator Andr Naffis Sahely surveys Hofmann's life and work with an emphasis on his poetry, situating him within the New Generation of writers including Carol Ann Duffy, Simon Armitage and Don Paterson, who rose to prominence in Britain between the mid 1980s and the early 1990s. Reaffirming Hofmann's central place in contemporary literature, Naffis Sahely presents the author's oeuvre as an extended passport application, as the poet's unusually peripatetic nature emerges as a poetic means of questioning various modes of authority. Naffis Sahely examines Hofmann's chief literary influences, revealing that while he was heavily inspired by the example of Robert Lowell's confessional model, his work was equally shaped by other poetic mentors including Ian Hamilton and Hugo Williams. In turn, Hofmann's five published volumes of poetry, from his debut Nights in the Iron Hotel to his latest collection One Lark One Horse, published after a silence of two decades, chronicle the poet's sentimental and intellectual education from adolescence to middle age, as well as the traumatic emotional experiences that arose from his relationship with his father, the German novelist Gert Hofmann, whom the poet portrayed to shocking effect in his breakthrough second collection Acrimony. Naffis Sahely concludes his study with an analysis of the influence Hofmann has exerted on other poets, testifying to the value and importance of his work in the contemporary British tradition, followed by an extensive interview reflecting on his career.
