Christian Education in Tansania Lukas Steinbeck, 2018-12-03 Lukas Steinbeck widmet sich der tansanischen Christian Education und berf hrt den gro enteils m ndlich bestimmten Fachdiskurs in eine schriftliche Rekonstruktion Er ber cksichtigt dabei sowohl die historische als auch gegenw rtige Perspektive mithilfe einer missionskatechetischen Aufarbeitung und aktuellen

Bestandsaufnahme des Faches Herzustellen der Untersuchung sind die im Rahmen empirischer Forschung entstandenen werkbiographischen Miniaturen in denen sechs tansanische Religionspädagogen die Christian Education aus persönlicher Perspektive entfalten. Auf Basis dieser Erkenntnisse wird Christian Education als tansanischer Gesprächspartner in den interkulturellen Diskurs der vergleichenden Religionspädagogik einbezogen. Lukas Steinbeck analyses the Christian Education in Tanzania and thus transforms most of the oral discourse into a written analysis. He considers not only the historical but also the contemporary perspective with the help of a mission and catechesis oriented debate and recent approaches on the subject. The core of the analysis are work biographical miniatures developed in the context of an empirical survey in which six Tanzanian religious education teachers point out their view on Christian Education. On the basis of these results Christian Education can be included as a Tanzanian dialogue partner in the intercultural discourse of a comparative Religious education.

Decolonisation of Materialities or Materialisation of (Re-)Colonisation Nhemachena, Artwell, Kangira, Jairos, 2017-11-28 Contemporary scholarly discourses about decolonising materialities are taking two noticeable trajectories: the first trajectory privileges establishing connections, relationships and associations between human beings and nature. The second trajectory privileges restoration, restitution, reparations for colonial dispossessions, lootings and disinheritance. While the first trajectory presupposes that colonialism was merely about separation, alienation and disconnections between human beings and nature, the second trajectory stresses the colonialists' dispossession, disinheritance and privations of Africans. Drawing on contemporary discourses about materialities in relation to semiotics, non-representationalism, rhetoric, ecocriticism, territorialisation, deterritorialisation and reterritorialisation, translation, animism, science and technology studies, this book teases out the intellectually rutted terrain of African materialities. It argues that in a world of increasing impoverishment, the significance of materialities cannot be overemphasised, more so for the continent of Africa where impoverishment materialises in the midst of resource opulence. The book is a pacesetter in no-holds-barred interrogation of African materialities.

Routledge Handbook of the Rule of Law Michael Sevel, 2024-10-24 This Handbook provides a state of the art survey of the study of the rule of law across law the humanities and social sciences as well as insights into the practice of building the rule of law within and among states Its 28 chapters are by many of the world's leading scholars of the rule of law as well as distinguished junior scholars from a dozen countries and representing a number of academic disciplines. The chapters are ordered to progress first from theory to the practice of the rule of law and second from the rule of law within to beyond the state. They divide into three parts. The first part examines the concept, history and value of the rule of law. This section considers the importance of political and intellectual history in shaping the concept over the centuries and takes novel philosophical approaches to the connection between the rule of law and other important ideals such as justice, equality and civil disobedience. The second part transitions from theoretical studies to accounts of practical exercises in building the rule of law. The chapters consider the challenges of rule of law reform including the use of local intermediaries facilitating interactions between international legal aid organizations and state governments, the challenges of legal translation across vastly different societies, the pathways of knowledge among the powerless about the protective potential of the rule of law as well as the possible future for artificial intelligence systems in helping to reinforce rule of law principles. The third part examines the rule of law from a number of perspectives within particular supranational and national states such as the European Union, China, Singapore and South Africa among others and concludes by considering the prospects of the rule of law beyond the state both within and among international institutions such as the United Nations as well as non-territorial spaces like the world's oceans. This Handbook is aimed at rule of law scholars across law, the humanities and the social sciences, law and development practitioners, policymakers and advanced students and researchers who seek a state-of-the-art overview of the history, theory and practice of the rule of law.

Pursuing Justice in Africa Jessica Johnson, George Hamandishe Karekwaivanane, 2018-10-31. Pursuing Justice in Africa focuses on the many actors pursuing many visions of justice across the African continent, their aspirations, divergent practices and articulations of international and vernacular idioms of justice. The essays selected by editors Jessica Johnson and George Hamandishe Karekwaivanane engage with topics at the cutting edge of contemporary scholarship across a wide range of disciplines. These include activism, land tenure, international legal institutions and postconflict reconciliation. Building on recent work in sociolegal studies that foregrounds justice over and above concepts such as human rights and legal pluralism, the contributors grapple with alternative approaches to the concept of justice and its relationships with law, morality and rights. While the chapters are grounded in local experiences, they also attend to the ways in which national and international actors and processes influence for better or worse local experiences and understandings of justice. The result is a timely and original addition to scholarship on a topic of major scholarly and pragmatic interest. Contributors: Felicitas Becker, Jonathon L. Earle, Patrick Hoenig, Stacey Hynd, Fred Nyongesa, Ikanda Ngeyi, Ruth Kanyongolo, Anna Macdonald, Bernadette Malunga, Alan Msosa, Benson A. Mulemi, Holly Porter, Duncan Scott, Olaf Zenker. Global University Rankings and the Mediatization of Higher Education Michelle Stack, 2016-04-12. Higher Education Institutions simultaneously critique and participate in national and international rankings of universities. However, this creates a difficult situation since if universities do participate in rankings they acquiesce to a system based in media logics that has little to do with academic norms of research. If they do not participate in the rankings they risk losing public funding students and donors in an increasingly competitive and globalized environment. This book delves into the influence of journalists business tycoons and multinational corporations in defining what world class is and how it will be measured. Rankings provide us with a rich study for understanding how universities define deploy and manage their assets and liabilities in a mediatized globalized economy

Global Securities Litigation and Enforcement Pierre-Henri Conac, Martin Gelter, 2019-01-03 Global Securities Litigation and Enforcement provides a clear and exhaustive description of the national regime for the enforcement of securities legislation in cases of misrepresentation on financial markets. It covers 29 jurisdictions worldwide some of them are important although their law is not well known. It will be an invaluable resource for academics and students of securities litigation as well as for lawyers policy makers and regulators. The book also provides a comprehensive contribution debate on whether public or private enforcement is preferable in terms of development of securities markets. It will appeal to those interested in the legal origins theory and in comparative securities law and shows that the classification of jurisdictions within legal families does not explain the differences in legal regimes. While US securities law often serves as a model for international convergence some of its elements such as securities class actions have not been adopted worldwide
