

A photograph of a large, multi-story building with a Gothic architectural style, featuring tall windows and a central tower. The building is partially covered in ivy. In the foreground, there are trees with vibrant autumn foliage in shades of orange, red, and yellow. A paved walkway leads towards the building, and a few people can be seen walking in the distance. The overall scene is set during the day under a clear sky.

The Horizontal Effect Revolution and the Question of Sovereignty Johan van der

Walt,2014-08-25 That the recent turn in European Constitutional Review has effectively brought about a revolution in European law has been observed before At issue are two major developments in European judicial review On the one hand the European Court of Human Rights has been collapsing traditional boundaries between constitutional law and private law with a series of decisions that effectively recognized the horizontal effect of Convention rights in the private sphere On the other hand the European Court of Justice has also given horizontal effect to fundamental liberties embodied in the Treaty on the Function of the European Union in a number of recent cases in a way that puts established boundaries between Member State and Union competences in question This book takes issue with these developments by bringing to the fore a key issue that the horizontality effect debate has hitherto largely overlooked namely the question of sovereignty It shows with detailed references to especially the American debate on state action and the German debate on Drittwirkung that horizontal effect cannot be understood consistently without coming to grips with the conceptions of state sovereignty that inform different approaches to horizontal effect

Machine Medical Ethics Simon Peter van Rysewyk,Matthijs Pontier,2014-09-05 The essays in this book written by researchers from both humanities and science describe various theoretical and experimental approaches to adding medical ethics to a machine what design features are necessary in order to achieve this philosophical and practical questions concerning justice rights decision making and responsibility in medical contexts and accurately modeling essential physician machine patient relationships In medical settings machines are in close proximity with human beings with patients who are in vulnerable states of health who have disabilities of various kinds with the very young or very old and with medical professionals Machines in these contexts are undertaking important medical tasks that require emotional sensitivity knowledge of medical codes human dignity and privacy As machine technology advances ethical concerns become more urgent should medical machines be programmed to follow a code of medical ethics What theory or theories should constrain medical machine conduct What design features are required Should machines share responsibility with humans for the ethical consequences of medical actions How ought clinical relationships involving machines to be modeled Is a capacity for empathy and emotion detection necessary What about consciousness This collection is the first book that addresses these 21st century concerns

Beyond the Essay Film Julia Vassilieva,Deane Williams,2025-10-01 In the wake of the explosion in the production of essay films over the last 25 years and its subsequent theorization in scholarly literature this volume seeks to historicize these intertwined developments within the long dur e of the 20th century and into the 21st By raising the issue of beyond the essay film this collection seeks not only to acknowledge the influential predecessors of this in the view of many critics the most interesting type of contemporary filmmaking but also to speculate about its possible transformation as we move forward into the uncharted waters of the 21st digital century Beyond the Essay Film focusses on three specific axes that underpin and shape the articulation of the essay film as a specific cultural form subjectivity textuality and technology to explore how changes along and across these dimensions affect historical shifts within the essay film practice and its relation to other types of cinema and neighbouring art forms Acoustemologies in Contact Emily Wilbourne, Suzanne G. Cusick, 2021-01-19 In this fascinating collection of essays an international group of scholars explores the sonic consequences of transcultural contact in the early modern period They examine how cultural configurations of sound impacted communication comprehension and the categorisation of people Addressing questions of identity difference sound and subjectivity in global early modernity these authors share the conviction that the body itself is the most intimate of contact zones and that the culturally contingent systems by which sounds made sense could be foreign to early modern listeners and to present day scholars Drawing on a global range of archival evidence from New France and New Spain to the slave ships of the Middle Passage to China Europe and the Mediterranean court environment this collection challenges the privileged position of European acoustical practices within the discipline of global historical musicology The discussion of Black and non European experiences demonstrates how the production of the canon in the cosmopolitan centres of colonial empires was underpinned by processes of human exploitation and extraction of resources As such this text is a timely response to calls within the discipline to decolonise music history and to contextualise the canonical works of the European past This volume is accessible to a wide and interdisciplinary audience not only within musicology but also to those interested in early modern global history sound studies race and slavery Rightful Relations with Distant Strangers Aravind Ganesh, 2021-03-25 This book provides a philosophical critique of legal relations between the EU and distant strangers neither located within nor citizens of its Member States Starting with the EU s commitment in Articles 3 5 and 21 TEU to advance democracy human rights and the rule of law in all its relations with the wider world Ganesh examines in detail the salient EU and international legal materials and thereafter critiques them in the light of a theory of just global legal relations derived from Kant s philosophy of right In so doing Ganesh departs from comparable Kantian scholarship on the EU by centering the discussion not around the essay Toward Perpetual Peace but around the Doctrine of Right Kant s final and comprehensive statement of his general theory of law The book thus sheds light on areas of EU law EU external relations law standing to bring judicial review public international law jurisdiction global public goods and human rights human rights jurisdiction and also critiques the widespread identification of the EU as a Kantian federation of peace The thesis on which this book was based was awarded the 2020 Ren Cassin Thesis Prize English section Expectations Arie Arnon, Warren Young, Karine van der Beek, 2020-03-20 This book provides a unique historical perspective on expectations in economic theory and applications of expectations models in economic history Based on papers presented at the 2017 Thomas Guggenheim Conference it brings together the work of economists historians of economics and economic historians on issues and events concerning expectations in economics and economic history The contributions address i the history of expectations models ii growth expectations and political economy iii controversies regarding expectations methods and models iv expectations in theory and reality and v expectations in economic history The book opens with a lecture by Thomas

Guggenheim Prize winner Duncan Foley on the evolution of expectations in modern economic thought The remaining content is divided into two parts the first of which focuses on the utilization of expectations in the ancient and meso periods of high theory i e from Smithian to Keynesian approaches The papers cover topics such as modern applications of expectations in both Tobinesque Phillips and Harrodian Solowian contexts and the debate between Friedmanite and Keynesian approaches to expectation formation In turn the last part presents essays on the role of economic expectations in connection with historical events and contexts ranging from the early 20th century to World War II and on the application of expectations theory to hyperinflation and stabilization taking Israel as a case study The Silent Revolution Khawla Mattar, May

Seikaly, 2014-12-31 How immune is the Gulf region to the changes that have engulfed the Arab world since 2011 This volume responds to this question by examining the impact of the Arab Spring on Gulf regimes and societies and contributing to debates on political participation and citizenship sectarianism gender and identity formation as well as the role of the media in exposing the paradoxes of the Gulf system and its relationship to international political actors The Woman Question in

Plato's Republic Mary Townsend, 2017-08-07 In this book Mary Townsend proposes that contrary to the current scholarship on Plato's Republic Socrates does not in fact set out to prove the weakness of women Rather she argues that close attention to the drama of the Republic reveals that Plato dramatizes the reluctance of men to allow women into the public sphere and offers a deeply aporetic vision of women's nature and political position a vision full of concern not only for the human community but for the desires of women themselves Educational Ecologies John Dowd, 2016-04-27 This book elucidates how technology has impacted the discourse and practices of higher education Dowd situates current educational movements centered on new technologies such as the Do It Yourself DIY movement within broader ideological concepts concerned with education progress technology and work Knowledge of how the discourse and practices of higher education have been impacted enables teachers to create learning environments that are conducive to the cultivation of ethically informed and engaged lives Zizek and Media Studies M. Flisfeder, L. Willis, 2014-04-09 Film media and cultural theorists have long appealed to Lacanian theory in order to discern processes of subjectivization representation and ideological interpellation Here the contributors take up a Zizekian approach to studies of cinema and media raising questions about power ideology sexual difference and enjoyment Doing History Linda S. Levstik, Keith C. Barton, 2022-09-06 Now in its sixth edition Doing History offers a unique perspective on teaching and learning history in the elementary and middle grades Through case studies of teachers and students in diverse classrooms and from diverse backgrounds it shows children engaging in authentic historical investigations often in the context of an integrated social studies curriculum The book is grounded in the view that children can engage in valid forms of historical inquiry asking questions collecting and analyzing evidence examining the varied perspectives and experiences of people in the past and creating evidence based historical accounts and interpretations Grounded in contemporary sociocultural theory and research the text features vignettes in each chapter showing communities of teachers and students doing history in environments rich in literature art writing and discussion The authors explain how these classrooms reflect contemporary principles of teaching and learning and thus the descriptions not only provide specific examples of successful activities but also place them in a context that allows teachers to adapt and apply them in a wide range of settings Doing History emphasizes diversity in two ways Readers encounter students from a variety of backgrounds and see how their diverse experiences can form the foundation for learning and they also see examples of how teachers can engage students with diverse experiences and perspectives in the past including those that led to conflict and oppression The book also discusses principles for working with English learners and newcomers and it provides guidance in using multiple forms of assessment to evaluate the specifically historical aspects of children s learning Updates to this edition include updated historical and instructional examples to ensure currency new suggestions for children s literature to support good teaching expanded attention to teaching about oppressed groups in history and greater attention to when historical perspective taking is and is not appropriate The Ideas-Informed Society Chris Brown,Graham Handscomb,2023-09-28 Presenting concepts from academia industry and practice The Ideas Informed Society closes the gap between the ideal of the ideas informed society and reality the chapters conceive what an ideal ideas informed society would look like the key ingredients of an ideas informed society and how to make it happen
