A Discourse on African Philosophy Christian B. N. Gade, 2017-04-18 Many have argued that ubuntu was a formative influence on the post apartheid Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC South Africa's famous transitional justice mechanism A Discourse on African Philosophy A New Perspective on Ubuntu and Transitional Justice in South Africa challenges and contextualizes this view in a way that not only provides new findings and reflections on ubuntu and the TRC but also contributes to the field of African philosophy One of Christian B N Gade's key findings founded on qualitative interviews in South Africa is that some former TRC commissioners and committee members question the importance of ubuntu in the TRC process Another is that there are several differing and historically developing interpretations of ubuntu some of which have evident political implications and reflect non factual and creative uses of history Thus ubuntu is not a shared cultural heritage in the ethnophilosophical sense of a static property characterizing a group In fact throughout this book Gade argues that the ethnophilosophical approach to African philosophy as a static group property is highly problematic Gade's research presents an alternative collective discourse on African philosophy collective in the sense that it does not focus on any single individual in particular that takes differences historical developments and social contexts seriously This book will be of interest to scholars in African philosophy transitional justice politics and cultural heritage and law in South Africa Iconic Works of Art by Feminists and Gender Activists Brenda the in vivo in trial and practice the book asks questions at different registers including the impact of the architecture of the courts the contestation around the renaming of the high courts the debate over the use of English versus regional languages forms of addressing the court the dress worn by different court actors rules on photography video recording live telecasting of court proceedings use of CCTV cameras and the alternatives to courtroom sketching and the ceremony and ritual that exists in daily court proceedings The three colonial high courts studied in this book share a recurring historical tension between the Indian and British notions of justice This tension is apparent in the semiotics of the legal spaces of these courts and is transmitted through oral history as narrated by those interviewed The contemporary understandings of these court personnel are therefore seen to have deep historical roots In this context the architecture and judicial iconography of the high courts helps to constitute preserve and reinforce the ambivalent relationship that the court shares with its own contested image

In the Balance Hein Marais,2022-07-01 Examines the need and prospects for a UBI As jobs disappear and wages flat line paid work is an increasingly fragile and unattainable basis for dignified life This predicament deepened by the COVID 19 pandemic is sparking urgent debates about alternatives such as a universal basic income UBI Highly topical and distinctive in its approach In the Balance The Case for a Universal Basic Income in South Africa and Beyond is the most rounded and up to date examination yet of the need and prospects for a UBI in a global South setting such as South Africa Hein Marais casts the debate about a UBI in the wider context of the dispossessing pressures of capitalism and the onrushing turmoil of global warming pandemics and social upheaval Marais surveys the meaning history and appeal of a UBI before even handedly weighing the case for and against such an intervention The book explores the vexing questions a UBI raises about the relationship of paid work to social rights about prevailing notions of entitlement and dependency and the role of the state in contemporary capitalism Along with cost estimates for different versions of a basic income in South Africa it discusses financing options and lays out the social economic and political implications This incisive new book advances both our theoretical and practical understanding of the prospects for a UBI

A History of South Africa at the Venice Biennale Annchen Bronkowski, 2025-11-21 This study presents the first history of the South African national pavilion at the Venice Biennale since it first participated in 1950 up until its contemporary pavilions Covering a contentious period in South African history the pavilion engenders a thought provoking engagement with questions around national identity and visual representation What has it meant for a country like South Africa to be at the Venice Biennale How national is a national pavilion The book acts as a case study highlighting how this understanding of what is national and what is representative has changed throughout the decades At first it was associated with stylistic concerns evidencing the polemic post war shift from academic to modern art in the mid century towards the 1960s South African art in Venice sought to capture something of a specific South Africanness rather than seeking to emulate the general tendencies of Euramerican modernism the country's exclusion from Venice during the boycott years of the 1970s to early 1990s evidences the clear emergence of a politically conscious national aesthetic South Africa's re entry highlights how the tenets of post apartheid nation building had to be navigated within a postmodern globalist art world beset with post nationalism This study shows that South Africa has always been caught between national determinations and internationalist aspirations and the contrast of this tension is nowhere more sharply reflected than at the Venice Biennale with its national pavilion structure This book is suitable for researchers and students in Art History African Studies and Museum Studies
