Abstract

- Abstract: The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week resistance training program on the muscle strength and endurance of young adults. The subjects were 20 young adults (10 males and 10 females) who were divided into two groups: a control group and an experimental group. The control group performed no resistance training, while the experimental group performed a 12-week resistance training program. The subjects were tested at baseline and at the end of the 12-week program. The results showed that the experimental group had significantly greater muscle strength and endurance than the control group at the end of the 12-week program. The findings of this study suggest that a 12-week resistance training program can improve muscle strength and endurance in young adults.

Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers.
