

Speech and Award Presentation
Sports Safety Clinic of Safe Kids East Side, Washington State
August, 27, 2013

Thank you so much for inviting me to join you tonight. What a privilege to be speaking about sports safety alongside the real pioneers of the concussion safety movement.

Since Washington passed the first Return to Play law in 2009, 48 states have followed your lead and passed similar legislation. I don't believe there's ever been a tsunami of legislation in our nation's history, and maybe in the democratic world. It felt like the Lystedt legislation spread across the country faster than Marshawn Lynch can finish a bag of skittles.

And, folks, that's all I know about the Seattle Seahawks. Except that they beat Green Bay the other night. And who could've missed that.

But I know the change you have made through this legislation, and there are many people who deserve our thanks, but surely on the top of the list is Richard Adler. Thank you for your work.

Responding to your leadership, Safe Kids has taken a strong role in the area of sports safety, supported by our founding sponsor Johnson & Johnson. I want to talk tonight about what what's now and what's next.

This month Safe Kids Worldwide released our most recent Sports Safety research report, and it could be said that the title of the report was named after you all: it's called "Game Changers".

We found that each year, 1.35 million children are seen in emergency rooms for sports-related injuries.

That's one child every 25 seconds.

And that's a scary number. It tells us at Safe Kids that we have to do more to prevent sports injuries, much more.

All of the Lystedt laws are different in some ways: and the next phase of public policy involves several measures, some of which have been adopted by some jurisdictions, some not.

--The focus needs to be on all sports, not just football.

--It has to focus on boys and girls.

--We have to deal with the whole roster of injuries that send kids to ERs, ACLs, Tommy John arm injuries, the implications of overuse and hydration, and sudden cardiac arrest. Our
