Kristeva, 2025-03-04 Unlike Freud I do not claim that religion is just an illusion and a source of neurosis The time has come to recognize without being afraid of frightening either the faithful or the agnostics that the history of Christianity prepared the world for humanism So writes Julia Kristeva in this provocative work which skillfully upends our entrenched ideas about religion belief and the thought and work of a renowned psychoanalyst and critic With dialogue and essay Kristeva analyzes our incredible need to believe the inexorable push toward faith that for Kristeva lies at the heart of the psyche and the history of society Examining the lives theories and convictions of Saint Teresa of vila Sigmund Freud Donald Winnicott Hannah Arendt and other individuals she investigates the intersection between the desire for God and the shadowy zone in which belief resides Kristeva suggests that human beings are formed by their need to believe beginning with our first attempts at speech and following through to our adolescent search for identity and meaning Even if we no longer have faith in God she argues we must believe in human destiny and creative possibility Reclaiming Christianity's openness to self questioning and the search for knowledge Kristeva urges a new kind of politics one that restores the integrity of the human community Orientation to Counseling J.
