The Magic of Code Samuel Arbesman, 2025-06-10 In the tradition of classics such as The Lives of a Cell a bold reframing of our relationship with technology that is more positive and human centered In the digital world code is the essential primary building block the equivalent of the cell or DNA in the biological sphere and almost as mysterious Code can create entire worlds real and virtual it allows us to connect instantly to people and places around the globe and it performs tasks that were once only possible in science fiction It is a superpower and not just in a technical sense It is also a gateway to ideas As vividly illustrated by Samuel Arbesman it is the ultimate connector providing new insight and meaning into how everything from language and mythology to biblical texts biology and even our patterns of thought connect with the history and nature of computing While the building block of code can be used for many wondrous things it can also create deeper wedges in our society and be weaponized to cause damage to our planet or our civilization Code and computing are too important to be left to the tech community it is essential that each of us engage with it And we fail to understand it to our detriment By providing us with a framework to think about coding and its effects upon the world and placing the past current and future developments in computing into its broader setting we see how software and computers can work for people as opposed to against our needs With this deeper understanding into the why of coding we can be masters of technology rather than its subjects

Emily Young John Opie Holmes Rolston III Michael E Kraft Steven Rockefeller and others The Rearguard of Subjectivity Frank Fleerackers, 2023-09-02 Edmund Husserl's ideas informed by Kant's Critiques constituted a point of departure when rereading philosophical problems of subject and subjectivity In his Phänomenologie und Ideologie 1961-63 Jan Broekman revealed how Husserl analysed the Split Ego notion in Kant's vision which became fundamental for his phenomenology The form and function of subjectivity were likewise positioned in psychiatry and literature as well as in aesthetics as Jan Broekman's texts on cubism demonstrated Problems of language unfolded in studies on topics ranging from the texts of Ezra Pound to the dialogic insights of Martin Buber all of which were involved in the development of semiotics Two themes accompanied these insights the notion and later Parisian mainstream called structuralism and the urgent need to arrive at deeper insights into the links between Marxism and phenomenology Central language concepts also played a part as early as 1986 Jan Broekman published on semiology and medical discourse and in 1992 on neurosemiotics before addressing the link between speech act and legal as well as social freedom in 1993 In all these works the subject and the atmosphere of subjectivity were essential aspects In addition to his writing Jan Broekman gave courses on current philosophical issues law and medicine until retiring in 1996 and in his Intertwinements of Law and Medicine revisited subjectivity aspects while also offering a synthetic view In this Festschrift in honour of Jan Broekman the contributions address the analogue/digital dichotomy in semiotics the multicultural self in language and semiotics semiology and legal discourse the legal subject and the atmosphere of subjectivity intertwinements of law and medicine the semiotics of law in legal education signs in law and legal discourse making meaning in law and legal speech acts
