Practical Human Resource Information Systems SATISH K. BAGDI, 2012-05-09 Practical Guide to Human Resource Information Systems HRIS is a comprehensive presentation on global HRIS implementations and the associated challenges faced in such global projects. HR is one of the most popular ERP product implementation topics in today's business world. Its implementation needs a practical discussion using examples from real world. The examples, the case study and discussions in the book follow an international approach rather than discussing only a single country HRIS implementations. A real life case study that flows through various chapters of the book brings out challenges in the implementation of HR specific projects. In today's global economy HR is changing fast and dives into areas such as strategy outsourcing, mergers and acquisitions. M A This book covers all these areas and other topics that are relevant to today's HR world providing more value to the readers. It provides illustrations to assist readers in visualizing the topics discussed and in developing a sound understanding of the integration and data aspects of HRIS systems. The book encourages self directed study and thought process based on references provided at the end of each chapter and hence will also be useful to consultants, HR professionals and IT professionals working with HR departments. Technology Made Simple for the Technical Recruiter Obi Ogbanufe, 2010 This guidebook for technical recruiters is an essential resource for those who are serious about keeping their skills up to date in the competitive field of technical resource placement. Manufacturing Execution System - MES Jürgen Kletti, 2007-05-01 The transformation of the classic factory from a production facility into a modern service center has resulted in management problems for which many companies are not yet prepared The economic efficiency of modern value creation is not a property of the products but rather of the process What this means is that the decisive potentials of companies are to be found not so much in their production capability but in their process capability For manufacturers the requirement for process capability which has in the meantime become the basis of the certification codes gives rise in turn to the requirement that all value adding processes be geared to the process result and thus to the customer A necessary condition of process transparency is the ability to map the company's value stream in real time without the acquisition process involving major outlay a capability which is beyond the dominant ERP systems Today modern manufacturing execution systems MES can offer real time applications They generate current and even historical maps for production equipment and can thus be used as a basis for optimization processes As early as the beginning of the 1980s work started on methods of this kind which were then known as production data acquisition or machine data collection But while the main emphasis in the past was on achieving improvements in machine utilization today the concern is predominantly to obtain real time mapping of the value stream supply chain
