Addressing South Africa's Moral Crisis Nico Vorster, 2025-08-22 This book attempts to understand and address the psycho social dynamics behind South Africa's moral crisis It describes South Africa as afflicted by state capture violence corruption and the looting of state infrastructure thirty years after the establishment of democracy It then provides a holistic social diagnosis of this problem that integrates the findings of different disciplines into an overall picture of the forces at work in South Africa's collective moral decline. Ultimately this book engages with the deeper psycho-social phenomena behind South Africa's moral decline, arguing that the diagnostic question of why this moral decline has taken place must be answered before turning to the normative question of what ought to happen in this situation. Accordingly this book explores themes regarding the innate moral capacities of the human person, the effects of need pressures and systemic pressures on ethical decision making and the phenomena of distorted motivational drives and distorted behavioral responses. It shows how the framing of virtue-centered moral identities might act as buffers against moral disengagement strategies and assist in promoting pro-social behavior. It then specifies the macro-social changes required to create such an ethical social climate. The book is of interest to social scientists, ethicists, behavioral scientists, educators, theologians and moral philosophers. In the end, this case study of South Africa shows us more broadly how maintaining public morality and social cohesion is a challenge that most modern societies face.

Crime, Mental Health and the Criminal Justice System in Africa Heng Choon (Oliver) Chan, Samuel Adjorlolo, 2021-08-26. This book aims to serve as a comprehensive resource for a myriad of crime and mental health topics and issues in the African criminal justice system from a psycho-criminological perspective. Crime, Mental Health and the Criminal Justice System in Africa: A Psycho-Criminological Perspective is an ideal primary text for courses in criminology, criminal justice and forensic psychology as well as a source of reference for practitioners who deal with offenders or victims. For a long time African historiography has been viewed and interpreted from Eurocentric perspectives. This book is a timely contribution towards infusing Afrocentric perspectives in African scholarship by indigenous scholars. The authors' interdisciplinary topical approach, covering a gamut of topics ranging from African criminology through mental health and psychology to criminal justice systems, has lent a decolonizing voice toward African literary pursuit and thereby laid a solid foundation for further research by other scholars. I highly recommend it to readers, academic institutions and researchers on Africa. Emmanuel Onyeozili, Ph.D., Professor of Criminology and Criminal Justice, Department of Criminal Justice, University of Maryland Eastern Shore, USA. This edited volume by an array of experts from West and Southern Africa has given a refreshing voice to psycho-criminological narratives in the continent. In a region of the world in which there is insufficient documentation of the patterns, determinants and outcomes of criminal behaviour, this book offers a culturally competent and contemporary flavour to an ancient discourse. Its focus on new areas of concern such as online dating scams, kidnapping and the mental health of officials in the criminal justice system compellingly captures the potential reader and gives good value for time. It is warmly recommended for its breadth of coverage, the authority of its claims and the multi-disciplinary outlook of its authors. Adegboyega Ogunwale, MBBS, FWACP, Consultant Psychiatrist, Forensic Unit, Neuropsychiatric Hospital, Aro Ogun State, Nigeria. This collection represents a significant step in the study of mental health, crime and criminal justice in sub-Saharan Africa. The breadth of topics covered is impressive, with each contribution based on methodologically sound empirical analyses It deserves to become a key reference for students researchers and policy makers interested in suicide drug use violence the work of prison officers criminal investigations and police community interactions Justice Tankebe Ph D Lecturer Institute of Criminology University of Cambridge UK Mental health and criminal justice issues are growing problems facing the world today Questions about whether mental health affects crime or whether involvement in the criminal justice system affects an individual s health have become part of national policy discussion This nicely written book brings together eminent scholars and experts with extensive experience in their various fields to address these and other questions related to crime mental health and criminal justice in Africa The editors did well to coordinate the efforts of the contributors into a valuable piece I highly recommend it for all who are interested in the nexus between crime mental health and criminal justice systems Francis D Boateng Ph D Assistant Professor Department of Criminal Justice and Legal Studies University of Mississippi USA

Unlawful Attacks in Combat Situations Héctor Olásolo, 2007-11-30 Death and destruction are unavoidable effects of war and combat situations The fact that people have been killed or injured or property has been destroyed should not encourage anyone to rush to the conclusion that war crimes have been committed On the contrary before reaching such a conclusion it is necessary to carefully analyze the conduct of the person causing death injury or damage in order to ascertain whether such conduct is consistent with international humanitarian law Technology law and public opinion on what is acceptable has greatly evolved since World War II The issue of civilian damage caused in combat operations has become an important topic in public opinion since Operation Desert Storm in 1991 Public pressure to limit incidental civilian damage has notably increased following the NATO aerial campaign in Kosovo in 1999 and the subsequent conflicts in Afghanistan in 2001 Iraq in 2003 and Lebanon 2006 Unlawful Attacks in Combat Situations focuses on the manner in which unlawful attacks launched during the conduct of hostilities have been dealt with in the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court the international treaty which to date deals most comprehensively with war crimes committed in international and non international armed conflicts and in the case law of the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia the first international judicial body that has investigated and prosecuted crimes committed during the conduct of hostilities since World War II

‘Human Trafficking’ Anna S. Hüncke, 2023-06-09 The book focuses on volatile processes at the South African Zimbabwean border that arise from practices of migration and income generating activities The processes are influenced by neoliberal developments and controversial discourses on migration commercial sexual services and human trafficking In this unstable environment different actors continuously negotiate trying to achieve stable positions By addressing issues related to migration and income generating activities they maneuver between legal rules and their own moral values and interests In their attempt to classify incidents in the border context that are unclear to them actors explanations are partly based on the concept of transnational human trafficking Thereby they transfer the impenetrability discursively associated with this concept to what they see as obscure cross border migration disconcerting sexual services and other alienating economic activities Alternatively actors understand undocumented cross border migration commercial sexual services and other illegalised income generating activities as common everyday practices at the border and also assume that human trafficking does not play an important role there The New Encyclopaedia Britannica: Macropaedia ,1995
