Social Networking Of Cultural Associations And Activist:

Social Networking of Cultural Associations and Activist Meisam Zohurian, Mohammad Lagzian, 2014-10-28 Nowadays world's most active and influential cultural processes are created by the institutions which succeeded to form qualitative and efficient networks consisting of elites and cultural activists. Based on this, the present book is aimed at identifying and prioritizing the dimensions and components that affect networking of cultural associations and activists of Islamic Revolution Cultural Front in order to synergize the cultural activists and associations. The present study aims at proposing a framework for networking cultural associations and activists. Strategic Social Media as Activism Adrienne Wallace, Regina

Luttrell, 2023-08-25 Drawing on a range of theoretical and empirical perspectives, this volume examines the roles strategic communications play in creating social media messaging campaigns designed to engage in digital activism. As social activism and engagement continue to rise, individuals have an opportunity to use their agency as creators and consumers to explore issues of identity, diversity, justice, and action through digital activism. This edited volume situates activism and social justice historically and draws parallels to the work of activists in today's social movements such as modern-day feminism, Black Lives Matter, MeToo, Missing Murdered Indigenous Women, and We Are All Khaled Said. Each chapter adds an additional filter of nuance, building a complete account of mounting issues through social media movements and at the same time scaffolding the complicated nature of digital collective action. The book will be a useful supplement to courses in public relations, journalism, social media, sociology, political science, diversity, digital activism, and mass communication at both the undergraduate and graduate level. Networked Society: Communication, Culture, and Identity in the Digital Age

Pasquale De Marco, 2025-04-20 In an era defined by the pervasive influence of digital technologies, Networked Society: Communication, Culture, and Identity in the Digital Age offers a timely and comprehensive exploration of the intricate relationship between technology, culture, and identity. This thought-provoking book delves into the profound impact that digital technologies have exerted on various aspects of human existence, from communication and social interaction to cultural practices and political participation. With an interdisciplinary approach that draws upon communication studies, sociology, cultural studies, and psychology, Networked Society: Communication, Culture, and Identity in the Digital Age provides a holistic understanding of the complex interplay between humans and technology in the digital era. It examines the historical evolution of digital technologies, tracing their impact on communication, social interaction, and political participation. The book also explores the ethical dilemmas and societal implications of these technological advancements, inviting readers to critically reflect upon the role that technology plays in shaping their lives. Through its insightful analysis and thought-provoking discussions, Networked Society: Communication, Culture, and Identity in the Digital Age offers a roadmap for navigating the complexities of the digital age and fostering a more informed and responsible engagement with technology. This book is an essential resource for scholars, students, and anyone interested in understanding the profound impact of digital technologies.

Decolonising Digital Media and Indigenisation of Participatory Epistemologies Fulufhelo Oscar Makananise, Shumani Eric Madima, 2024-08-13 The book provides valuable insights on decolonising the digital media landscape and the indigenisation of participatory epistemologies to continue the legacies of indigenous languages in the global South It is one of its kind as it climaxes that the construction phase of self determining and redefining among the global South societies is an essential step towards decolonising the digital landscape and ensuring that indigenous voices and worldviews are equally infused represented and privileged in the process of higher level communication exchanging epistemic philosophies and knowledge expressions The book employs an interdisciplinary approach to engage in the use of digital media as a sphere for resistance and knowledge transformation against the persistent colonialism of power through dominant non indigenous languages and scientific epistemic systems It further advocates that decolonising digital media spaces through appreciating participatory epistemologies and their languages can help promote the inclusion and empowerment of indigenous communities It indicates that the decolonial process can also help to redress the historical and ongoing injustices that have disadvantaged many indigenous communities in the global South and contributed to their marginalisation This book will appeal to undergraduate and graduate students scholars and academics in communication media studies languages linguistics cultural studies and indigenous knowledge systems in higher education institutions It will be a valuable resource for those interested in epistemologies of the South decoloniality postcoloniality indigenisation participatory knowledge indigenous language legacies indigenous artificial intelligence and digital media in the Fourth Industrial Revolution Digital Activism in the Social Media Era Bruce Mutsaers, 2016-12-12

This book probes the vitality potentiality and ability of new communication and technological changes to drive online based civil action across Africa In a continent booming with mobile innovation and a plethora of social networking sites the Internet is considered a powerful platform used by pro democracy activists to negotiate and sometimes push for reform based political and social changes in Africa The book discusses and theorizes digital activism within social and geo political realms analysing cases such as the FeesMustFall and BringBackOurGirls campaigns in South Africa and Nigeria respectively to question the extent to which they have changed the dynamics of digital activism in sub Saharan Africa Comparative case study reflections in eight African countries identify and critique digital concepts questioning what impact they have had on the civil society Cases also explore the African LGBT community as a social movement while discussing opportunities and challenges faced by online activists fighting for LGBT equality Finally gender based activists using digital tools to gain attention and facilitate social changes are also appraised Environmental Activism in China Lei Xie, 2012-08-06 Major environmental degradation is a serious problem for China as the country's economy continues to grow at a phenomenal pace In recent years environmental organisations have begun to emerge in China and in some cases have had remarkable success in affecting policies which would have had significant adverse impacts on the environment This book based on extensive original research adopts a multi disciplinary research approach to examine environmental activism in China focusing on four cities It analyses the nature characteristics strategies organizational modes and influence of what could be labeled a Chinese environmental movement in the making In particular this volume highlights the specificities of Chinese environmental activism in an increasingly globalizing world along with a comparison to the environmental movement in Western Europe and North America MEDIA, CULTURE AND SOCIETY: INTER-RELATION AND EVOLUTION Arindam, Saikat

Majumdar, Souvik Sur, 2024-09-20 The Rise of Africa's Middle Class Henning Melber, 2016-12-15 Across Africa a burgeoning middle class has become the poster child for the Africa rising narrative Ambitious aspirational and increasingly affluent this group is said to embody the values and hopes of the new Africa with international bodies ranging from the United Nations Development Programme to the World Bank regarding them as important agents of both economic development and democratic change This narrative however obscures the complex and often ambiguous role that this group actually plays in African societies Bringing together economists political scientists anthropologists and development experts and spanning a variety of case studies from across the continent this collection provides a much needed corrective to the received wisdom within development circles and provides a fresh perspective on social transformations in contemporary Africa Alternative and Activist New Media Leah A. Lievrouw, 2023-04-20 Over the last four decades new modes of communication have redefined people's engagement with media media audiences are now also makers influencers followers gamers trolls and data subjects This turbulent social and technological context has created new opportunities for expression and activism around the world In this fully revised second edition Leah Lievrouw considers the shift toward algorithmic media for political and cultural activism online where data capture and big data analytics are not just tools for managing and moving people or information but are themselves sites of creativity connection and contention The book examines a range of events and developments anti facial recognition projects open source intelligence in citizen journalism and new apps based on encryption and DIY local networks that support movements such as Occupy and Black Lives Matter Alternative and Activist New Media charts the theoretical roots of contemporary internet driven movements and provides a framework for understanding the changing face of protest in the age of algorithmic media This timely new edition will be a useful addition to any course on digital activism and new media and society Culture and Economy in the Age of Social Media Christian Fuchs, 2015-01-09 Understanding social media requires us to engage with the individual and collective meanings that diverse stakeholders and participants give to platforms It also requires us to analyse how social media companies try to make profits how and which labour creates this profit who creates social media ideologies and the conditions under which such ideologies emerge In short understanding social media means coming to grips with the relationship between culture and the economy In this thorough study Christian Fuchs one of the leading analysts of the Internet and social media delves deeply into the subject by applying the approach of cultural materialism to social media offering readers theoretical concepts contemporary examples and proposed opportunities for political intervention Culture and Economy in the Age of Social Media is the ultimate resource for anyone who wants to understand culture and the economy in an era populated by social media platforms such as Twitter Facebook and Google in the West and Weibo Renren and Baidu in the East Updating the analysis of thinkers such as Raymond Williams Karl Marx Ferruccio Rossi Landi and Dallas W Smythe for the 21st century Fuchs presents a version of Marxist cultural theory and cultural materialism that allows us to critically understand social media s influence on culture and the economy

Activism on the Web Veronica Barassi,2015-05-22 Activism on the Web examines the everyday tensions that political activists face as they come to terms with the increasingly commercialized nature of web technologies and sheds light on an important yet under investigated dimension of the relationship between contemporary forms of social protest and internet technologies Drawing on anthropological and ethnographic research amongst three very different political groups in the UK Italy and Spain the book argues that activists everyday internet uses are largely defined by processes of negotiation with digital capitalism These processes of negotiation are giving rise to a series of collective experiences which are defined by the tension between activists democratic needs on one side and the cultural processes reinforced by digital capitalism on the other In looking at the encounter between activist cultures and digital capitalism the book focuses in particular on the tension created by self centered communication processes and networked individualism by corporate surveillance and data mining and by fast capitalism and the temporality of immediacy Activism on the Web suggests that if we want to understand how new technologies are affecting political participation and democratic processes we should not focus on disruption and novelty but we should instead explore the complex dialectics between digital discourses and digital practices between the technical and the social between the political economy of the web and its lived critique
