The early years of 1990s economic reform and change has neglected social sectors both in India and Central Asia As a result poverty has also increased in India and Central Asian countries The economic political and social situation has worsened in all Central Asian states due to transition from command economy to market economy The early 1990s political decision has been dominated by a narrowly conceived version of economic policy for both India and Central Asia As a result the quality and the structure of social protection changed in a negative way Indeed in some cases the pursuit of a strict economic orthodoxy has left various sections of the community marginalized and alienated Both the societies confront a number of challenges that is as profound as the economic changes of the past The process of globalization and technical change has influenced economy and society in complex ways including raising expectations of consumption and remuneration for skilled knowledge workers creating greater demand for some information skills and services causing unemployment amongst those with few qualifications and destabilizing some traditional ways of life and increasing social exclusion It detaches groups and individuals from social relations and institutions and prevents them from full participation in the normal activities of the society In India and Central Asia communities face social exclusion on the basis of their identity as ethnic groups socio economic groups religious community and gender Inclusive development therefore is essential and it should be the top priority in development programs of India and Central Asia Research in this area has not been touched upon so far Since Central Asian countries are relatively new and trying to establish their democratic institutions this piece of work will be helpful for their nation building processes So far as the mutual benefit for both the regions is concerned India is an old democracy and its inclusive policy can be lessons for Central Asian countries On the other hand the experience of Central Asia's policy implementation can be a lesson for India This piece of work has potential impulses to policy makers academicians and researchers of these five Central Asian countries and India This work can make a distinction than the conventional researcher in India by focusing on development studies social exclusion inclusive policies and comparative studies in international developments Key words social exclusion poverty deprivation development diversity India Central Asia Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan      Teachers, Human Rights and Diversity Audrey Osler,2005 How should we educate citizens in multicultural societies This question is receiving increasing attention in countries across the world In this volume authors from England Northern Ireland the Republic of Ireland and the United States report on recent research in this field and consider the implications for teachers teacher education and student teachers Case studies illustrate how young citizens can learn to apply the principles of human rights and equality in resolving complex and controversial issues The contributors include Hilary Claire Colm O Cuanachain Carole Hahn Anne Hudson Ulrike Neins and Jackie Reilly Jill Rutter Chris Wilkins This book will be of particular interest to student teachers and their tutors

Embracing the Beat of Expression: An Mental Symphony within Social Studies World Geography Unit 06 Europe Key

In a global consumed by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of immediate connection, the melodic beauty and mental symphony created by the written term frequently disappear in to the background, eclipsed by the persistent sound and interruptions that permeate our lives. However, set within the pages of Social Studies World Geography Unit 06 Europe Key a marvelous fictional value full of fresh feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by an elegant composer of language, that captivating masterpiece conducts readers on an emotional journey, well unraveling the concealed tunes and profound influence resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths of the touching assessment, we shall explore the book is key harmonies, analyze their enthralling writing model, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
