

Qu'est-ce qui différencie, sociologiquement, les « paysans nationaux » des « agriculteurs » et, plus encore « des entrepreneurs de l'Europe » ?

L'Europe, est la première puissance mondiale, exportatrice, importatrice agricole et alimentaire. Celle-ci, régule les liens sociaux des professions liées à la terre, au monde agricole à travers ses institutions, telle que la PAC, « politique agricole commune », un partenariat entre le secteur agricole et la société, ainsi qu'entre l'Europe et ses agriculteurs. Il existe, plusieurs catégories de travailleurs de la terre. Tous n'ont pas la même perception de l'Europe. Pour cette analyse, il s'agira de répondre à la question suivante : Qu'est-ce qui différencie, sociologiquement, les « paysans nationaux » des « agriculteurs » et, plus encore des « entrepreneurs de l'Europe » ?

Nous établirons une définition de ces différentes catégories, avant de les analyser.

Paysans Nationaux

Le terme « paysan » est apparu en 1155, pour définir un « habitant du pays, un autochtone », depuis le XIII<sup>ème</sup> siècle, ce terme désigne « la personne qui cultive la terre » et a une connotation largement péjorative, au même titre qu'un « imbécile, un plouc, un pèquenaud ». Son usage dévalorisant, s'est d'autant plus répandu à la fin de la seconde guerre mondiale, alors que le contexte économique et politique était défavorable à l'agriculture.

Le terme « paysan nationaux » fait référence à une agriculture traditionnelle, pratiquée à faible échelle. Ces individus, ont une forte attache avec la terre et l'agriculture. Leur exploitation et leur famille sont liées puisqu'il s'agit, en général, d'une activité, et d'un capital, financier et culturel familial. Les revenus de l'exploitation vont aux ménages, et il en va de même des ménages vers l'exploitation. En d'autres termes, les « paysans nationaux » travaillent pour subvenir à leurs besoins et ceux de leur famille.

Les objectifs des syndicats paysans sont d'augmenter les prix de leurs produits. Ils ne sont, cependant, pas impliqués dans les politiques agricoles, puisque écrasés par les « gros » agriculteurs.

Par ailleurs, leur identité sociale est fortement influencée par leur rôle dans la production alimentaire locale. Néanmoins, ces individus font face à des défis socio-économique importants, puisqu'ils sont concurrencés par les grandes exploitations agricole et par les politiques agricoles, qui depuis les années 1970, tendent à les isoler, pour les amener à se moderniser ou à disparaître.

Ce groupe dénonce les violences de l'agriculture d'entreprise, et les politiques, en remettant en cause cette modernité, qui n'assure plus la transmission d'un patrimoine, et prône la domination, et l'exploitation de la nature par l'Homme.

Agriculteur

L'agriculteur quant à lui, L'agriculteur, représente un éventail, large, de personnes, impliquées dans l'activité agricole. On ne parle plus ici de ferme, mais d'exploitation. Ainsi, l'agriculteur n'a plus comme objectif de se nourrir, mais d'exploiter la terre. Leurs exploitations varient en tailles, ce qui influence les pratiques agricoles, dont une variété est pratiquée afin de cultiver ou d'élever. Cela peut inclure des techniques conventionnelles, comme l'utilisation des technologies : engrais, et pesticides ou à son opposé, des approches durables ou biologiques. Les productions agricoles sont essentielles afin de garantir les besoins de la population. Le choix des cultures dépend des facteurs environnementaux évidemment, mais aussi de la demande du marché, puisqu'il s'agit d'un enjeu important. Les agriculteurs font face à différentes pressions, climatiques, liées à l'accès aux ressources, ou à d'éventuel maladies de bétails ou de culture, les politiques agricoles, réglementations, et concurrence.
