concept of keeping score Seems like a silly question since most are very aware of scores that are kept especially when they involve us Would you also say that it s accurate to indicate that we are a people who appreciate fairness exercised toward ourselves and others It should go without saying that fairness is very important to all of us There are many areas in this physical life where keeping score to ensure fairness would be abundantly evident For example a score is kept during a baseball game or a basketball game or a football game Why To fairly determine which team ultimately wins the game In addition a very accurate time clock is utilized to declare the winner of a race whether it involves automobiles swimmers or those who are running on a track These simple examples and many others should strike a familiar chord with us Since we are flesh and blood human beings the physical world is important to our lives We can only deal with the things that can be seen and touched and heard and smelled and tasted That is the world we live in the world where our familiarity rests However we need to understand that we are limited by the physical world the things we experience on a physical plane This is the case because there is another world surrounding us that deserves even more of our attention The most critical realm for each of us is the spiritual world and it does surround us even though we may not always be aware of it What I want to consider through this study is the fact that God is also keeping score It seems obvious that there are many times when we feel cheated in this physical realm that we have not been treated fairly But when it comes to the spiritual realm no one will ever be cheated or treated unfairly And this can only occur because God is keeping score As we shall see through the pages of this book in a very real sense God is the ultimate scorekeeper
