

Types of Viruses

Helical viruses, like the Tobacco Mosaic Virus, which infects a number of different types of plants, have a slinky-shaped capsid that twists around and encloses its genetic material.

Polyhedral viruses, like adenoviruses, which are known to cause a range of illnesses from pink eye to pneumonia, are composed of genetic material surrounded by a many-sided capsid, usually with 20 triangular faces.

Spherical viruses, like the infamous Coronavirus, are essentially helical viruses enclosed in a membrane known as an envelope, which is spiked with sugary proteins that assist in sticking to and entering host cells.

Complex viruses, like bacteriophages, which infect and kill bacteria, resemble a lunar lander, and are composed of a polyhedral "head" and a helical body (or "tail sheath"), and legs (or "tail fibers") that attach to a cell membrane so that it can transfer its genetic material.
