The Italian Solo Concerto, 1700-1760 Simon McVeigh, Jehoash Hirshberg, 2004 The composition of the solo concerto studied as an evolving debate rather than a static technique and for its stylistic features The solo concerto a vast and important repertory of the early to mid eighteenth century is known generally only through a dozen concertos by Vivaldi and a handful of works by Albinoni and Marcello The authors aim to bring this repertory to greater prominence and have since 1995 been involved in a research programme of scoring and analysing over nine hundred concertos representing nearly the entire repertory available in early prints and manuscripts Drawing on this research they present a detailed study and analysis of the first movement ritornello form the central concept that enabled composers to develop musical thinking on a large scale Their approach is firstly to present the ritornello form as a rhetorical argument a musical process that dynamically unfolds in time and secondly to challenge notions of a linear stylistic development from baroque to classical instead discovering composers trying out different options which might themselves become norms against which new experiments could be made SIMON McVEIGH is Professor of Music Goldsmiths College University of London JEHOASH HIRSHBERG is Professor in the Musicology Department Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Tonal Space in the Music of Antonio Vivaldi Bella Brover-Lubovsky,2008-06-25 Tonal Space in the Music of Antonio Vivaldi incorporates an analytical study of Vivaldi s style into a more general exploration of harmonic and tonal organization in the music of the late Italian Baroque The harmonic and tonal language of Vivaldi and his contemporaries full of curious links between traditional modal thinking and what would later be considered common practice major minor tonality directly reflects the historical circumstances of the shifting attitude toward the conceptualization of tonal space so crucial to Western art music Vivaldi is examined in a completely new context allowing both his prosaic and idiosyncratic sides to emerge clearly This book contributes to a better understanding of Vivaldi s individual style while illuminating wider processes of stylistic development and the diffusion of artistic ideas in the 18th century

Reorientations / Arabic and Persian Poetry Suzanne Pinckney Stetkevych,1994-03-22 Employing contemporary literary theory eight members of the Chicago school of Arabic and Persian literature reorient the critical approach to classical Middle Eastern literature The authors analyze a broad spectrum of poetry ranging from the pre Islamic ode of the sixth century to seventeenth century Persian Safavid Moghul verse Among issues considered are the ritual and sacrificial aspects of literature the transition from orality to literacy the iconographical and mythic dimensions of philology and imitation as a form of creation The inclusion of contemporary translations of all the poems discussed is an important feature for students of Middle Eastern literature and comparative poetics
