

Service Composition Architecture

In much the same way as an application architecture for a distributed system includes the individual architecture definitions of its components, this form of architecture encompasses service architectures of all participating services.

Service Composition Architecture

A composition architecture (especially one in which services encapsulate disparate legacy systems) may also be composed to an integration architecture.

This comparison is usually only valid in scope, as the design considerations emphasized by service-orientation ensure that the design of a service composition is much different than that of integrated applications.
