H. Alexandrowicz, 2017-03-31 The history and theory of international law have been transformed in recent years by post colonial and post imperial critiques of the universalistic claims of Western international law The origins of those critiques lie in the often overlooked work of the remarkable Polish British lawyer historian C H Alexandrowicz 1902 75 This volume collects Alexandrowicz s shorter historical writings on subjects from the law of nations in pre colonial India to the New International Economic Order of the 1970s and presents them as a challenging portrait of early modern and modern world history seen through the lens of the law of nations The book includes the first complete bibliography of Alexandrowicz s writings and the first biographical and critical introduction to his life and works It reveals the formative influence of his Polish roots and early work on canon law for his later scholarship undertaken in Madras 1951 61 and Sydney 1961 67 and the development of his thought regarding sovereignty statehood self determination and legal personality among many other topics still of urgent

Text, Lies and Cataloging Jana Brubaker, 2018-07-10 What do James Frey's A Million Little Pieces Margaret B Jones' Love and Consequence and Wanda Koolmatrie's My Own Sweet Time have in common None of these popular books are what they appear to be Frey's fraudulent drug addiction memoir was really a semi-fictional novel Jones' chronicle of her life in a street gang was a complete fabrication and Koolmatrie was not an Aboriginal woman removed from her family as a child as in her seemingly autobiographical account but rather a white taxi driver named Leon Carmen Deceptive literary works mislead readers and present librarians with a dilemma Whether making recommendations to patrons or creating catalog records objectivity and accuracy are crucial and can be difficult when a book's authorship or veracity is in doubt This informative and entertaining study addresses ethical considerations for deceptive works and proposes cataloging solutions that are provocative and designed to spark debate An extensive annotated bibliography describes books that are not what they seem

Connected and Disconnected in Viet Nam Philip Taylor, 2016-03-31 Vietnam's shift to a market-based society has brought about profound realignments in its people's relations with each other As the nation continues its retreat from the legacies of war and socialism significant social rifts have emerged that divide citizens by class region and ethnicity By drawing on social connections as a traditional resource Vietnamese are able to accumulate wealth overcome marginalisation and achieve social mobility However such relationship building strategies are also fraught with peril for they have the potential to entrench pre-existing social divisions and lead to new forms of disconnectedness This book examines the dynamics of connection and disconnection in the lives of contemporary Vietnamese It features 11 chapters by anthropologists who draw upon research in both highland and lowland contexts to shed light on social capital disparities migration inequalities and the benefits and perils of gift exchange The authors investigate ethnic minority networks the politics of poverty patriotic citizenship and the heritagisation of culture Tracing shifts in how Vietnamese people relate to their consociates and others the chapters elucidate the social legacies of socialism nation building and the transition to a globalised market-based economy With compelling case studies and including many previously unheard perspectives this book offers original insights into social ties and divisions among the modern Vietnamese

This Mortal Coil Fay Bound Alberti, 2016-04-08 To many people the idea that the body has its own history might sound faintly ridiculous The body and its experiences are usually seen as something that we share with people from the past Like human nature it represents the unchanging in a changing world Bodies just are But the body does have a history The way that it moves feels breathes and engages with the world has been viewed very differently across times and cultures For centuries we were believed to be composed of souls that were part of the body and inseparable from it Now we exist in our heads and our bodies have become the vessels for that uncertain and elusive thing we call our true selves The way we understand the material structure of the body has also changed radically over the centuries From the bones to the skin from the senses to the organs of sexual reproduction every part of the body has an ever changing history dependent on time culture and place This Mortal Coil is an exploration of that history Peeling away our assumptions about the unchanging nature of the human body Fay Bound Alberti takes it apart in order to put it back anew telling the cultural history of our key organs and systems from the inside out from blood to guts brains to sex organs The understanding of the modern body she reveals in the process is far removed from the eternal or timeless object of common assumption In fact she argues its roots go back no further than the sixteenth century at the earliest and it has only truly existed in its current form since the nineteenth century

Rape, Sexual Violence and Transitional Justice Challenges Janine Clark, 2017-09-01 It is estimated that 20 000 people were subjected to rape and other forms of sexual violence during the 1992 1995 Bosnian war Today these men and women have been largely forgotten Where are they now To what extent do their experiences continue to affect and influence their lives and the lives of those around them What are the principal problems that these individuals face Such questions remain largely unanswered More broadly the long term consequences of conflict related rape and sexual violence are often overlooked Based on extensive interviews with male and female survivors from all ethnic groups in Bosnia Herzegovina BiH this interdisciplinary book addresses a critical gap in the current literature on rape and sexual violence in conflict situations In so doing it uniquely situates and explores the legacy of these crimes within a transitional justice framework Demonstrating that transitional justice processes in BiH have neglected the long term effects of rape and sexual violence it develops and operationalizes a new holistic approach to transitional justice that is based on an expanded conception of legacy and has a wider application beyond BiH

Changing Asian Business Systems Richard Whitley, Xiaoke Zhang, 2016 This book brings together scholars from different disciplines to examine the evolving patterns of economic organisation across China Japan Korea Thailand Myanmar Malaysia and Singapore against the backdrop of market liberalisation political changes and periodic economic crises since the 1990s

The Disputed Freedoms of a Disrupted Press Ivor Shapiro, 2023-07-31 The Disputed Freedoms of a Disrupted Press explores the origins connections and contradictions evident amongst divergent understandings of press freedom around the world Drawing on examples from various countries and cultures this book distinguishes the universal right of free expression from the more complex and innately conditional liberties claimed by news media It examines journalists common goals and norms in light of polarized and disordered information channels reckonings with identity and privilege diminished public trust and altered revenue streams The author discusses emerging forms of accurate contextualized news production and argues that journalistic autonomy can be sustained only through demonstrated accountability for providing factual information about public affairs according to self regulated professional standards The book concludes by proposing a principle based framework for enhancing the case for press protections and opposing disinformation while minimizing harm Adopting this approach would require many publishers and editors to consider paradigm shifts and structural changes This is a timely contribution to the body of literature on press freedom and will be a valued resource for advanced students and researchers seeking a contemporary understanding of journalistic practice and the evolving foundations of media law

Forced Marriage and 'Honour' Killings in Britain Christina Julios, 2016-03-09 This book explores the contemporary phenomenon of forced marriage and honour killings in Britain Set against a background of increasing honour based violence within the country's South Asian and Muslim Diasporas the book traces the development of the honour question over the past two decades It accordingly witnesses unprecedented changes in public awareness and government policy including groundbreaking honour specific legislation and the criminalisation of forced marriage All of which makes Britain an important context for the study of this now indigenous and self perpetuating social problem In considering the scale of the challenge and its underlying causes attention is paid to the intersections of gendered power structures that disadvantage female members of honour cultures as well as feminist theories that seek to explain them The book features five key case studies of honour killings and draws from a wide range of narratives including those of honour violence survivors grassroots service providers and legislators Such myriad of perspectives reveals the complexity of the honour issue and the deep ideological divisions that characterise it With the UK's multiculturalist discourse unable to reconcile protecting patriarchal minority cultures with safeguarding gender equality and human rights the book raises fundamental questions about the country's future direction Following a long trend of state sponsored integrationist policies the government's response to the honour question points decisively in the direction of a post multicultural British nation

COVID-19 Pandemic and the Social Determinants of Health Rosemary M. Caron, Ronica Nicole Rooks, Stefania Salmaso, Mahmoud Kandeel, 2024-07-15 The COVID 19 pandemic has disproportionately affected those population sectors that experience inequality Specifically marginalized racial and ethnic populations with pre existing health conditions those living in poverty those possessing a low education level hourly wage employees etc have experienced an excess burden of COVID 19 morbidity and mortality compared to their White counterparts in developed countries The interaction of the social determinants of health with a novel virus has made visible the inequities that have been hidden or accustomed to in many communities globally As we work to end the current pandemic we must consider the post COVID 19 pandemic era and address the social determinants of health so that populations start from a place of health as opposed to a place of disease for the next public health challenge Syndemic research has demonstrated the interaction among socio cultural factors socio economic factors structural factors and individual factors collectively referred to as the social determinants of health and infectious disease epidemics e.g. COVID 19 AIDS and social epidemics e.g. structural racism These interactions can exacerbate and sustain adverse health outcomes for marginalized populations How can communities improve the social determinants of health for impoverished populations The importance of doing so would have implications not only for the health status of communities but could also improve economic conditions for these geographic areas Addressing the social determinants of health for marginalized populations has the potential to improve health for all

Health Technology Assessment, Courts and the Right to Healthcare

Daniel Wang, 2021-12-30 Both developing and developed countries face an increasing mismatch between what patients expect to receive from healthcare and what the public healthcare systems can afford to provide Where there has been a growing recognition of the entitlement to receive healthcare the frustrated expectations with regards to the level of provision has led to lawsuits challenging the denial of funding for health treatments by public health systems This book analyses the impact of courts and litigation on the way health systems set priorities and make rationing decisions In particular it focuses on how the judicial protection of the right to healthcare can impact the institutionalization functioning and centrality of Health Technology Assessment HTA for decisions about the funding of treatment Based on the case study of three jurisdictions Brazil Colombia and England it shows that courts can be a key driver for the institutionalization of HTA These case studies show the paradoxes of judicial control which can promote accountability and impair it demand administrative competence and undermine bureaucratic capacities The case studies offer a nuanced and evidence informed understanding of these paradoxes in the context of health care by showing how the judicial control of priority setting decisions in health care can be used to require and control an explicit scheme for health technology assessment but can also limit and circumvent it It will be essential for those researching Medical Law and Healthcare Policy Human Rights Law and Social Rights

European Identity Revisited

Viktoria Kaina, Ireneusz Pawel Karolewski, Sebastian Kuhn, 2015-12-14 It has been argued that the emergence of a European collective identity would help overcome growing disparity caused by the increasing diversity of today s European Union with 28 member states and more than 500 million people Research on European integration is facing the pressing question of what holds Europe together in times of crisis growing distributional conflict and instability in its neighbourhood This book departs from the ideas of group cohesion in the EU and reflects on the newest dynamics and practices of European identity Whilst applying innovative qualitative quantitative and experimental research methods and an interdisciplinary approach this volume looks at a variety of issues such as European citizenship mobility of European citizens space based identities dual identities student identity and value sharing In doing so this volume presents new perspectives on this complex and dynamic subject and points to potential solutions both in the academic discourse and the political practice of the EU This text will be of key interest to scholars and students of European integration European studies international relations citizenship studies political sociology as well as more broadly in the social sciences

Between Feast and Famine John Nott, 2025-03-18 Ghana s twentieth century was one of dramatic political economic and environmental change Sparked initially by the impositions of colonial rule these transformations had significant if rarely

uniform repercussions for the determinants of good and bad nutrition All across this new and uneven polity food production domestic reproduction gender relations and food cultures underwent radical and rapid change This volatile national history was matched only by the scientific instability of nutritional medicine during these same years Moving between the dry Northern savannah the mineral rich and food secure Southern rainforest and the youthful ever expanding cities Between Feast and Famine is a comparative history of nutrition in Ghana since the end of the nineteenth century At the heart of this story is an analysis of how an uneven capitalist transformation variously affected the lives of women and children It traces the change from sporadic periods of hunger in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries through epidemics of childhood malnutrition during the twentieth century and into emergent epidemics of diet related non communicable disease in the twenty first century Employing a novel critical approach to historical epidemiology John Nott argues that detailing the co production of science and its subjects in the past is essential for understanding and improving health in the present Praise for Between Feast and Famine This is a tour de force Ghana was an important site for the development of nutritional science in the colonial period as well as a site for its application It is therefore central to the history of a global nutritional science Not only has John Nott pieced together a complex history of that changing science and its application in Ghana in the twentieth century he has also provided a carefully constructed analysis of what was actually happening in terms of food supply health and nutrition in Ghana in this period Few other works manage to do both these things Megan Vaughan Professor of African History and Health Institute of Advanced Studies UCL
