new types of Academy were introduced While the original Academies were based on the idea of closing poor schools and replacing them by dramatically redesigned and restructured ones the 2010 Academies Act allowed existing highly successful state maintained schools to apply to become Academies as well Further while Labour had restricted Academy status to secondary schools the Coalition extended it to primary and special schools The result is that there has been a dramatic increase in the number and diversity of Academies In addition to this the 2010 Act introduced Free Schools wherein groups of parents teachers or other sponsors can apply to start their own state maintained but officially independent schools These schools can either be completely new or the result of existing private schools applying to become state maintained The results of these changes remain under researched This book puts forward new research that examines the history and nature of Academies and Free Schools the processes by which they have come into existence and their effects in terms of social justice The contributors do not all speak with one voice but rather present a diversity of views on these important topics Included in the collection are the results of research on pupil outcomes and socio economic segregation issues of identity and ethos in church academies the problems of establishing free schools the history of policy on Academies and a comparison between Swedish independent schools and Academies and Free Schools This book was originally published as a special issue of Research Papers in Education Immigration Detention, Risk and Human Rights Maria João Guia,Robert

Koulis,Valsamis Mitsilegas,2016-02-24 This book offers a brand new point of view on immigration detention pursuing a multidisciplinary approach and presenting new reflections by internationally respected experts from academic and institutional backgrounds It offers an in depth perspective on the immigration framework together with the evolution of European and international political decisions on the management of immigration Readers will be introduced to new international decisions on the protection of human rights together with international measures concerning the detention of immigrants In recent years International Law and European Law have converged to develop measures for combatting irregular immigration Some of them include the criminalization of illegally entering a member state or illegally remaining there after legally entering Though migration has become a great challenge for policymakers legislators and society as a whole we must never forget that migrants should enjoy the same human rights and legal protection as everyone else

Neutrosophic Sets and Systems, Vol. 37, 2020. Special issue: Impact of neutrosophy in solving the Latin American's social problems Florentin Smarandache,Mohamed Abdel-Basset,Maikel Leyva Vazquez, Said Broumi, The main objective of this special issue is to divulge the applicability of the Neutrosophic Theory and to explore the possibilities and advantages of neutrosophic tools through both the presentation of thorough research and case studies in solving social problems in Latin America The best presentations discussed at the III International Congress of Educational Research and University Innovation turned into papers show us the capacity for socialization of neutrosophic knowledge and its link with this science of validation and consolidation of scientific knowledge This publication with authors from 11 countries that we place in the
