Humanity's Rise to Superdominance, the Global Ecological Crisis, and the Way Forward for Education Adam C. Scarfe, 2022-12-01 This book pinpoints the evolutionary connection between the global ecological crisis and transgenerational learning and education As Julian Huxley 1887 1975 described the cumulative passing down of knowledge skills and ideas by one generation to the next over eons of time which has been afforded by the advent of complex languages in the evolutionary past is chiefly responsible for humanity's planetary superdominance However given that the drive of the human species to increase its control over the natural world has today run up against ecological limits there is an evolutionary existential choice to be made in relation to the ultimate purposes of formal education Should humanity double down on the anthropocentric humanist project of superdominance including the goals of unlimited economic growth development and scientific and technological progress Alternatively should a biocentric anti humanist and or postmodernist deconstruction of formal education take place Or should a holistic organicist orientation emphasizing biological wisdom help to shape its future As this book shows the answers to these philosophical questions on the parts of educators prospective teachers and learners will going forward play a key role in deciding the evolutionary trajectories of all life forms on the planet

The Human Faces of God Thom Stark,2011 Does accepting the doctrine of biblical inspiration necessitate belief in biblical inerrancy The Bible has always functioned authoritatively in the life of the church but what exactly should that mean Must it mean the Bible is without error in all historical details and ethical teachings What should thoughtful Christians do with texts that propose God is pleased by human sacrifice or that God commanded Israel to commit acts of genocide What about texts that contain historical errors or predictions that have gone unfulfilled long beyond their expiration dates In The Human Faces of God Thom Stark moves beyond notions of inerrancy in order to confront such problematic texts and open up a conversation about new ways they can be used in service of the church and its moral witness today Readers looking for an academically informed yet accessible discussion of the Bible's thorniest texts will find a thought provoking and indispensable resource in The Human Faces of God The Faces of Human Rights Kasey McCall-Smith, Jan Wouters, Felipe Gómez Isa, 2019-05-16 As human rights discourse increasingly focuses on analysing states and the institutions that promote and support the human rights machinery that states have created this volume serves to recall that despite the growing size of the machinery and unwieldy nature of states human rights began with real people It samples a broad range of actors and localities where everyday people fought to ensure that the basic principles of human rights became a reality for all This volume will give a face to the everyday people to whom credit is due for shaping human rights It also responds to the perennial question of how to begin a career in human rights by highlighting that there is no single path into this dynamic field a field built on the back of small initiatives by people across a broad spectrum of career paths The Teachings of Modern Roman Catholicism on Law, Politics, and Human Nature John Witte (Jr.), John Witte, Frank S. Science, Virtue, and the Future of Humanity Marc D. Guerra, Peter Augustine Lawler, 2015-10-08 Science Virtue and the Future of Humanity addresses each of the key public policy issues of our techno future from the perspective of deeply informed and philosophically inclined public intellectuals Among the issues addressed are the detachment of our idea of justice from any credible foundation Tocqueville's prescience on how a cognitive elite might be the aristocracy to be most feared in our time robotization and the possibility of being ruled by morally challenged robots organ markets the degradation of liberal education by obsessive techno enthusiasm biotechnology and biological determinism the birth dearth and the inevitable erosion of our entitlements the possibility that our techno domination is basically an unfolding of the Lockean logic of our foundation and the future of the free exercise of religion in an aggressively libertarian time All in all this book should provoke widespread discussion about the relationship between scientific technological progress and the one true moral spiritual progress that takes place over the course of every particular human life

The Pluriverse of Human Rights: The Diversity of Struggles for Dignity Boaventura De Sousa Santos, Bruno Martins, 2021-06-21 The impasse currently affecting human rights as a language used to express struggles for dignity is to a large extent a reflection of the epistemological and political exhaustion which blights the global North Since the global hegemony of human rights as a language for human dignity is nowadays incontrovertible the question of whether it can be used in a counter hegemonic sense remains open Inspired by struggles from all corners of the world that reveal the potential but above all the limitations of human rights this book offers a highly conditional response The prevailing notion of human rights today as the hegemonic language of human dignity can only be resignified on the basis of answers to simple questions why does so much unjust human suffering exist that is not considered a violation of human rights Do other languages of human dignity exist in the world Are these other languages compatible with the language of human rights Obviously we can only find satisfactory answers to these questions if we are able to envisage a radical transformation of what is nowadays known as human rights Herein lies the challenge posed by the Epistemologies of the South reconciling human rights with the different languages and forms of knowledge born out of struggles for human dignity

Juridical Humanity Samera Esmeir, 2012-06-20 In colonial Egypt the state introduced legal reforms that claimed to liberate Egyptians from the inhumanity of pre colonial rule and elevate them to the status of human beings These legal reforms intersected with a new historical consciousness that distinguished freedom from force and the human from the pre human endowing modern law with the power to accomplish but never truly secure this transition Samera Esmeir offers a historical and theoretical account of the colonizing operations of modern law in Egypt Investigating the law both on the books and in practice she underscores the centrality of the human to Egyptian legal and colonial history and argues that the production of juridical humanity was a constitutive force of colonial rule and subjugation This original contribution queries long held assumptions about the entanglement of law humanity violence and nature and thereby develops a new reading of the history of colonialism

The Course of Human Events Steven Sarson, 2025-11-28 How reading the Declaration of Independence as a document of history explains its intended meaning Thomas Jefferson chose his words carefully Few could have been more deliberate than When in the Course of human events the phrase with which he opened the Declaration of Independence As Steven Sarson shows the original Declaration moved through the ages of human history from Creation to American independence assessing it according to the Laws of Nature and of Nature s God The Declaration s history and historical consciousness therefore help answer one of American history s great questions How did the founders reconcile their lofty views on equality and liberty with the inequities and iniquities that they maintained in their time The contingencies of history and the complexities of natural law Sarson demonstrates meant that the Declaration s eloquent promises of equality and liberty only applied partially to women and poor men and not at all to Loyalists Indigenous Americans and enslaved people The Declaration s assertion that all men are created equal has since become a promise of universal equality and liberty As we reach its 250th anniversary it is important to understand its original context as well as to continue the mission of making its promises a lived reality for all

Vegetation Degradation in Central Asia under the Impact of Human Activities Nikolai Gavrilovich Kharin, 2002-02-28 Yoque en el campo he nacido dig6 que mis cantos son para los unos sonidos y para otros intencion H Hernandez Martin Fierro The period of active influence of the people on desert environments in Central Asia counts more than 2 000 years It includes several stages of the social and the economic development of human society from primitive culture of hunters to developed modern society with great changes of environment and nature

remaking Heritage of the past is one of the main causes of land degradation in Central Asia So only historical analysis of relations between the man and the desert could give information for awareness of desertification What an idea have the people about the desert In the mind of many people desert is identified with a sterile lifeless and gloom land unsuitable for life The mass media specially the cinema supports this idea Very popular subject of many films is the death of travelers in the desert from thirst Even the names of hot winds the ghibly in Sahara the samum in Arabian desert and the afganets in Central Asia fill the minds of people with horror There are many legends about armies buried in the sand about flourishing oases and towns covered with sand drifts In these legends the truth is mixed with fiction But as known the truth is stronger than fiction

The Evolution of Human Sociality Stephen K. Sanderson, 2001 This text attempts a broad theoretical synthesis within the field of sociology and its closely allied sister discipline of anthropology It draws together these disciplines theoretical approaches into a synthesized theory called Darwinian conflict theory
