The Dark Room World War Fiction:

The Dark Room Rachel Seiffert, 2007-12-18 A debut novel that retells the history of twentieth century Germany through the experiences of three ordinary Germans Helmut A boy born with a physical deformity finds work as a photographer s assistant during the 1930s and captures on film the changing temper of Berlin the city he loves But his acute photographic eye never provides him with the power to understand the significance of what he sees through his camera Lore In the weeks following Germany s surrender a teenage girl whose parents are both in Allied captivity takes her younger siblings on a terrifying illegal journey through the four zones of occupation in search of her grandmother Micha Many years after the war a young man trying to discover why the Russians imprisoned his grandfather for nine years after the war meets resistance at every turn the only person who agrees reluctantly to help him is compromised by his own past The Dark Room evokes the experiences of the individual with astonishing emotional depth and psychological authenticity With dazzling originality and to profound effect Rachel Seiffert has re envisioned and illuminated signal moments of the twentieth century in all their drama and complexity

The Dark Room Rachel Seiffert, 2010-04-27 The Dark Room tells the stories of three ordinary Germans Helmut a young photographer in Berlin in the 1930s who uses his craft to express his patriotic fervour Lore a twelve year old girl who in 1945 guides her young siblings across a devastated Germany after her Nazi parents are seized by the Allies and fifty years later Micha a young teacher obsessed with what his loving grandfather did in the war struggling to deal with the past of his family and his country

In the Dark Room Rosanna Maule, Julie Beaulieu, 2009 This book examines Duras s contribution to contemporary cinema The dark room in the collection s title refers to one of Duras s metaphors for the writing process la chambre noire as the solitary space of literary creation the place where she struggles to project her internal shadow onto the blank page The dark room is also a metaphor for the film theater and by extension for the filmic experience Duras rejected conventional forms of cinematic address that encourage the spectator to develop a positive identification with the film s diegesis and narrative Her films create unusual rapports between image and sound diegetic and extra diegetic elements and textual and intertextual dimensions of cinematic representation In doing so they allow the film spectator to establish new connections with the screen This collection focuses on the aesthetic conceptual and political challenges involved in Duras s innovative approach to cinematic representation from an interdisciplinary perspective including film and literary theory psychoanalytic analysis music theory gender studies and post colonial criticism The book opens with a theoretical introduction to Duras s cinematic practice and its peculiar position in contemporary cinema and contemporary film theory and is divided into five parts each one devoted to a specific aspect of Duras s films the interaction between literature and cinema Part One the reconfiguration of the cinematic gaze Part Two and of the image sound relation Part Three the representation of history and memory Part Four and of cultural identity Part Five

Performing Memories Gabriele Biotti, 2021-04-26 What is memory today How can it be approached Why does the contemporary world seem to be more and more haunted by different types of memories still asking for elaboration Which artistic experiences have explored and defined memory in meaningful ways How do technologies and the media have changed it These are just some of the questions developed in this collection of essays analysing memory and memory shapes which explores the different ways in which past time and its elaboration have been and still are elaborated discussed written or filmed and contested but also shared By gathering together scholars from different fields of investigation this book explores the cultural social and artistic tensions in representing the past and the present in understanding our legacies and in approaching historical time and experience Through the analysis of different representations of memory and the investigation of literature anthropology myth and storytelling a space of theories and discourses about the symbolic and cultural spaces of memory representation is developed

World War II in Contemporary German and Dutch Fiction Jan Lensen, 2021-03-04 World War II in Contemporary German and Dutch Fiction The Generation of Meta Memory offers a comparative study of the construction of World War II memory in contemporary German Flemish and Dutch literature More specifically it investigates in what ways the large temporal distance to the historical events has impacted how literary writers from these three literatures have negotiated its meaning and form during the last decades To that end this book offers analyses of nine novels that demonstrate a pronounced reflexivity on the conditions of contemporary remembering Rather than a dig for historical truth or a struggle with historical trauma these novels reflect on the transmission the narrative shapes the formation processes and the functions of World War II memory today while asserting a self conscious and often irreverent approach toward established mnemonic routines practices and rules As the analyses show this approach is equally articulated through the novels poetics which are marked by a large formal diversity and a playfulness that highlights mnemonic agency a posttraumatic positioning and the ascendancy of the literary over the historiographical Based on these findings this book proposes the emergence of a new paradigm within the postwar cultural assessment of World War II the generation of meta memory
