God and the Ethics of Belief Andrew Dole, Andrew Chignell, 2005-06-06 Philosophy of religion in the Anglo American tradition experienced a rebirth following the 1955 publication of New Essays in Philosophical Theology eds Antony Flew and Alisdair MacIntyre Fifty years later this volume of essays offers a sampling of the best work in what is now a very active field written by some of its most prominent members A substantial introduction sketches the developments of the last half century while also describing the ethics of belief debate in epistemology and showing how it connects to explicitly religious concerns and to the topics of the individual contributions These topics include the relationship between God and the natural laws the metaphysics of bodily resurrection the role of appeal to mystery in the religious life the justification of both theistic belief generally and more specific doctrinal beliefs and the social political aspects of religious faith and practice

Process and Pattern in Culture Robert Alan Manners, Julian Haynes Steward, This festschrift commemorates Julian H Steward The essays were contributed by former students colleagues and other anthropologists whose research or thinking has been influenced by him There was no preconceived attempt to give the volume any greater sense of unity or to impose upon the contributors any restrictions as to subject matter On the contrary each author was urged to write on an anthropological topic of greatest current interest to himself Many of the essays could be placed just as handily within a division other than the one to which they have arbitrarily been assigned in the book This kind of interchangeability may reflect in some measure the interrelatedness of Steward's contributions to anthropological theory The broad relevance of all the selections to Steward's work could reflect also the extent to which his interests continue to be reflected in the work of anthropologists influenced by him It could also reflect a parallelism of theoretical concerns within the profession that stem from the cultural ambience that produced Steward himself Parallelisms and convergence are aspects of the kind of cultural determinism which has claimed Steward's attention during the many years that he fought a fairly lonely battle to establish the respectability of evolutionism in anthropology Now that respectability has been achieved with an almost bandwagon fervor it is clear that Steward as much as anyone else in anthropology was responsible for the change The essays in this collection are at once a vindication of his patience an evidence of the high status he enjoys among anthropologists and a testimony to the impact of his unusual creativity on his colleagues
