The Class Book Of Chavs English Edition:

Indexing 'Chav' on Social Media Emilia Di Martino, 2022-09-15 The book sets out to examine the concept of chav providing a review of its origins its characterological figures the process of enregisterment whereby it has come to be recognized in public discourse and the traits associated with it in traditional media representations The author then discusses the chav label in light of recent re appropriations in social network activity particularly through the video sharing app TikTok and subsequent commentary in the public sphere She traces the evolution of the term from its use during the first decade of the twenty first century to make sense of class status and cultural capital to its resurgence and the ways in which it is still associated with appearance in gendered and classed ways She then draws on recent developments in linguistic anthropology and embodied sociocultural linguistics to argue that social media users draw on communicative resources to perform identities that are both situated in specific contexts of discourse and dynamically changing challenging the idea that geo sociocultural varieties and mannerisms are the sole way of indexing membership of a community This volume contends that equating chav with underclass in the most recent uses of the concept on social networks may not be the whole story and the book will be of interest to sociocultural linguistics and identity researchers as well as readers in anthropology sociology British studies cultural studies identity studies digital humanities and sociolinguistics

Logan,2015-06-11 In the global North the commoditization of creativity and knowledge under the banner of a creative economy is being posed as the post industrial answer to dependency on labour and natural resources Not only does it promise a more stable and sustainable future but an economy focused on intellectual property is more environmentally friendly so it is suggested Contested Powers argues that the fixes being offered by this model are bluffs development as witnessed in Latin American energy politics and governance remains hindered by a global division of labour and nature that puts the capacity for technological advancement in private hands The authors call for a multi layered understanding of sovereignty arguing that it holds the key to undermining rigid accounts of the relationship between carbon and democracy energy and development and energy and political expression Furthermore a critical focus on energy politics is crucial to wider debates on development and sustainability Contested Powers is essential reading for those wondering how energy resources are converted into political power and why we still value the energy we take from our surroundings more than the means of its extraction Miseducation Diane Reay,2017-10-11 In this substantially revised and updated edition of her bestselling book Diane Reay herself working class turned Cambridge professor examines the benefits and costs of educational success for the working classes comparing working class and middle class experiences and outcomes of education Drawing on over 500 interviews from working class children and young people she looks at class identity the inadequate sticking plaster of social mobility and the effects of wider economic and social class relationships on working class educational experiences She charts the impact of the rise of academies on education in the UK the new emphasis on pedagogy control and discipline and includes two all new chapters offering a global perspective on education worldwide Addressing the still pressing question of why we have ended up with a system that educates the different social classes in fundamentally different ways she provides clear recommendations for improving education to meet the needs of all children

Reading Song Lyrics Glenn Fosbraey,2025-08-05 This book will provide an exploration of how popular songs have been analysed in the past before detailing how an interdisciplinary approach is necessary to appreciate the multimodal format of the medium Beginning by examining what we can gain from staying inside the song it will explore the role the listener has in determining meaning within a song before moving on to how through their lyrics songwriters can persuade their audience to react in the desired ways Lyrical storytelling will also be analysed in terms of the narratives we find within individual songs but also through song sequences where the story spans multiple songs across different projects and also the concept album format As we move outside the song we see what can be offered in terms of cultural significance the difference between real events and their lyrical representations how the format we listen to music in influences our readings and to what extent visual materials affect our relationships with songs A Somali-Norwegian Saga Paul
