Matambalya,2009-10-16 Trade liberalisation and openness as linchpins for development have been flagships of conventional economic policy advices to most African countries over the last few decades Much of the orientation of the focus however has been on the impact of international trade on development rather than the requirements that development should inform the shaping of the international trading system so that African countries may be able to benefit from such trade This view has permeated both academic debate and the Economic Partnership Agreement EPA Negotiation between the European Commission and groups of African Caribbean and Pacific ACP States This timely volume advances an alternative set of inter related interdisciplinary perspectives and debates which contribute to overlapping genres and discourses notably how rules of origins may stifle the development dimension of EPAs how special agricultural safeguards may be used in balancing the effects of trade liberalisation on small farm holders in Africa It also discusses the centrality of aid for trade in trade negotiations and mainstreaming development in the EPAs debate to enhance domestic supply side in Africa and the various regional integration processes in the region This book focuses on areas of trade that may inform the development dimension of international trade With this edited volume a team of specialists provide a comprehensive survey of ACP EU trade and Africa trade relation in the global context placing it in its legal economic and political contexts The book innovative approach coupled with a stimulating and accessible writing style allows the reader to engage fully with the content It will be of most value to students scholars and related policymakers of international development and trade economics

Trade in the 21st Century Bernard M. Hoekman, Ernesto Zedillo, 2021-01-19 Despite troubled trade negotiations global trade and trade policy will thrive in the twenty first century but with a bow to the past Is the multilateral trading order of the twentieth century a historical artifact Was the creation of the World Trade Organization in 1995 the high point of multilateral cooperation on trade This new volume edited by Bernard M Hoekman and Ernesto Zedillo assesses the relevance of the WTO in the context of the rise of China and the United States turn toward unilateral protectionism The contributors adopt a historical perspective to discuss changes in global trade policy trends adducing lessons from the past to help understand current trade tensions Topics include responses to U S protectionism under the Trump administration the policy dimensions of trade in services and the rise of the digital economy how to strengthen the WTO to better negotiate new rules of the game and adjudicate disputes managing China s integration into the global trade system and the implications of global value chains for economic development policies By reflecting on past episodes of protectionism and how they were resolved Trade in the 21st Century provides both context and guidance on how trade challenges can be addressed in the coming decades

Regional Approaches to the Protection of Asylum Seekers Ademola Abass, 2016-04-08 This book presents a comprehensive assessment of regional responses to the crisis in the asylum refugee system and critically examines how different regions tackle the problem The chapters consider the fundamental challenges which undermine an effective asylum process as well as regional difficulties with the various circumstances surrounding asylum seekers With contributions on Africa Europe Latin America South Asia and the Middle East and the Pacific the collection strives to appreciate what informs each region s approach to the asylum process and asks if there are issues common to every region and if regions can learn from one another The book seeks an understanding of the existing legal regime for the protection of asylum seekers and how regional institutions such as human rights commissions and regional courts enforce and adjudicate the law The volume will be valuable to those interested in international law migration and human rights
