The Challenge For Africa:

The Challenge for Africa Wangari Maathai, 2010-10-19 In this groundbreaking work the Nobel Peace Prize winner and founder of the Green Belt Movement offers a new perspective on the troubles facing Africa today Too often these challenges are portrayed by the media in extreme terms connoting poverty dependence and desperation Wangari Maathai the author of Unbowed sees things differently and here she argues for a moral revolution among Africans themselves Illuminating the complex and dynamic nature of the continent Maathai offers hardheaded hope and realistic options for change and improvement She deftly describes what Africans can and need to do for themselves stressing all the while responsibility and accountability Impassioned and empathetic The Challenge for Africa is a book of immense importance

The Challenge for Africa Wangari Maathai, 2009-01-01 Maathai argues that Africans need to revive their sense of identity their cultural inheritance and a shared sense of common purpose to face the challenges posed by endemic corruption the legacies of colonialism and the Cold and civil wars poverty and most urgently climate change Endless images of nameless starving children aimed at guilt tripping westerners have been internalised leading to a demoralised passive inertia among millions of citizens Elections may have spread but the true fabric of democracy is often still tragically absent Only once the continent has rediscovered its own cultural inheritance can it take active responsibility for its own future Ultimately what Africa needs is a revolution in leadership but this cannot be ushered in by western governments well meaning NGOs or even Bono and Sharon Stone it must happen within African civil society itself As in Unbowed Maathai's voice is decisive authoritative and unsentimental

The Challenge of Africa K. A. Busia, 2023-05-08 In the mid twentieth century the challenges raised by Africa's emergence into the modern world touched on every aspect of national and international life One of the most significant was raised by Africa's quest for her own culture encompassing not only the heritage of her distant and mysterious past but also the most recent developments in her history In The Challenge of Africa originally published in 1962 reissued here with a new introduction the foremost African sociologist of the time offers a constructive humanitarian and genuinely democratic approach to the problems Africa faced in this search Professor Busia discusses the political educational and economic challenges inherent in the very nature of modern African nationalism But he argues the basic challenge is moral to maintain and adapt the social and spiritual heritage that Africa has preserved throughout her history It is in the light of this challenge that he analyses the moral problems posed by Africa's entry into the modern international community the demand for the resolution of the race relations problem the insistence that the injustice of colonial systems be erased the challenge to provide right and just governments for the peoples of Africa the claim to cultural freedom In the international context African nationalism not only represents moral indignation against injustice and wrong it is also a claim for equality All nations must share in building a peaceful world community and this requires the cooperation of all races Lastly Professor Busia contends if East and West joined together to serve the needs of Africa they might in cooperation rediscover their own brotherhood and so save humanity

Cooper, Hany Besada, 2016-04-15 Today's era of intense globalization has unleashed dynamic movements of people pathogens and pests that overwhelm the static territorial jurisdictions on which the governance provided by sovereign states and their formal intergovernmental institutions is based. This world of movement calls for new ideas and institutions to govern people's health above all in Africa where the movements and health challenges are the most acute. This book insightfully explores these challenges in ways that put the perspectives of Africans themselves at centre stage. It begins with the long central and still compelling African health challenge of combating the pandemic of HIV/AIDS. It then examines the global governance responses by the major multilateral organizations of the World Bank and the World Trade Organization and the newer informal flexible democratically oriented ones of the Group of Eight. It also addresses the compounding health challenge created by climate change to assess both its intensifying impact on Africa and how all international institutions have largely failed to link climate and health in their governance response. It concludes with several recommendations about the innovative ideas and institutions that offer a way to closing the great global governance gaps and thus improving Africans' health and that of citizens beyond.

Africa Water Atlas United Nations Environment Programme, 2010. This Africa Water Atlas is a visual account of Africa's endowment and use of water resources revealed through 224 maps and 104 satellite images as well as some 500 graphics, hundreds of compelling photos plus a brief profile of the water situation in every country. These visual elements vividly illustrate a succinct narrative describing and analysing Africa's water issues and exemplifying them through the judicious use of case studies. The Atlas tells the paradoxical story of a continent with adequate renewable water resources but unequal access because the water is either abundant or scarce depending on the season or the place. It explores the opportunities to develop Africa's untapped water resources and human capacities to deliver safe drinking water and sanitation services to achieve the water-related Millennium Development Goals. As well as hydropower and irrigation services that help support livelihoods and boost economic development.

Mapping Systematic Theology in Africa Ernst M Conradie, Charl E Fredericks, 2004-08-01. The emergence of an indigenous African theology especially since the 1960s is well documented. A wealth of literature has been published in the context of African theology especially over the last two or three decades. This indexed bibliography contains a number of publications in and for the African context specifically relevant to the fields of systematic theology and ethics.

The Communist Challenge to Africa Ian Greig, 1977. The nineteen sixties and seventies have been troubled times for Africa. The West's rush to decolonize left an open door for the world's new colonizing super power Russia. When Russia and to a lesser extent China moved through that door the stage was set for the chaos and bloodshed that has become part and parcel of life on the continent. Ian Greig, Deputy Director of the Foreign Affairs Research Institute in London and author of the authoritative The assault on the West has taken a close look at the pattern of events that has emerged in Africa and makes it plain that foreign Communism is using the liberation of Africa as a stepping stone to its self-proclaimed goal of world domination. South Africa, South West Africa and Rhodesia are clearly obstacles on the way to this goal, obstacles that Moscow would very much like removed. The conclusions drawn by the author are not pleasant but they must be faced
