The Civil War Out My Window Diary Of Mary Henry:

The Civil War Out My Window Jeremy Farley, 2014-11-29 The daughter of Joseph Henry one of America's most renowned scientists Mary Henry was 21 years old when her family moved into the only castle in Washington D C the Smithsonian Institution Building A prolific writer and astute observer Mary began recording a diary in 1858 including a daily log of her personal reflections events at the Smithsonian and conversations she had shared with many of the most influential leaders in America It would have been impossible for the youthful lady filled with juvenile yearnings and wanderlust to have imagined the unspeakable horrors that would soon fill the pages of her blank diary as she penned her first entry in November 1858 Mary's entries include personal conversations with Abraham Lincoln General Ulysses S Grant common citizens and captured southern troops A staunch unionist and American patriot the young woman's diary reveals the incredible dilemma held by millions of Americans throughout the war between the states as she often sympathized with the southern plight mourned Confederate casualties and criticized the Lincoln administration's every move Though her writings provide one of the greatest insights into the Civil War in the past quarter century Mary's diary is far more than a collection of random thoughts on matters of science and politics Her diary is a story of both a young woman and a struggling nation coming to age in the latter half of the nineteenth century

The War Outside My Window Janet Elizabeth Croon, 2022-05-20 A remarkable account of the collapse of the Old South and the final years of a young boy's privileged but afflicted life LeRoy Wiley Gresham was born in 1847 to an affluent slave holding family in Macon Georgia After a horrific leg injury left him an invalid the educated inquisitive perceptive and exceptionally witty twelve year old began keeping a diary in 1860 just as secession and the Civil War began tearing the country and his world apart He continued to write even as his health deteriorated until both the war and his life ended in 1865 His unique manuscript of the demise of the Old South is published here for the first time in The War Outside My Window LeRoy read books devoured newspapers and magazines listened to gossip and discussed and debated important social and military issues with his parents and others He wrote daily for five years putting pen to paper with a vim and tongue in cheek vigor that impresses even now more than 150 years later His practical philosophical and occasionally Twain like hilarious observations cover politics and the secession movement the long and increasingly destructive Civil War family pets a wide variety of hobbies and interests and what life was like at the center of a socially prominent wealthy family in the important Confederate manufacturing center of Macon The young scribe often voiced concern about the family's pair of plantations outside town and recorded his interactions and relationships with servants as he pondered the fate of human bondage and his family's declining fortunes Unbeknownst to LeRoy he was chronicling his own slow and painful descent toward death in tandem with the demise of the Southern Confederacy He recorded often in horrific detail an increasingly painful and debilitating disease that robbed him of his childhood The teenager's declining health is a consistent thread coursing through his fascinating journals I feel more discouraged and less hopeful about getting well than I ever did before he wrote on March 17 1863 I am weaker and more helpless than I ever was Morphine and a score of other remedies did little to ease his suffering Abscesses developed nagging coughs and pain consumed him Alternating between bouts of euphoria and despondency he often wrote Saw off my leg The War Outside My Window edited and annotated by Janet Croon with helpful footnotes and a detailed family biographical chart captures the spirit and the character of a young privileged white teenager witnessing the demise of his world even as his own body slowly failed him Just as Anne Frank has come down to us as the adolescent voice of World War II LeRoy Gresham will now be remembered as the young voice of the Civil War South Winner 2018 The Douglas Southall Freeman Award Mary Chesnut's Civil War Mary Boykin Miller Chesnut,1981-01-01 An authorized account of the Civil War drawn from the diaries of a Southern aristocrat records the disintegration and final destruction of the Confederacy Southern Cross Amanda Low Warren,2024-05-23 Lieutenant General Leonidas Polk was a distinguished West Point graduate the first Episcopal Bishop of Louisiana a university founder and a Confederate commander beloved by his troops esteemed by the public and killed on the field of battle In spite of his many accomplishments historians invariably disparage Polk s generalship and even his personal character but is their treatment fair or accurate This work employs a balanced perspective to shed new light on Polk s military leadership and reveal unexpected truths that explain his conflict with General Braxton Bragg A seemingly insignificant piece of correspondence along with an exploration of both men s writings coalesce into an understanding of the root cause of the command dysfunction and chronic failures of the Army of Tennessee The Road Was Full of Thorns Tom Zoellner,2025-09-30 A radical retelling of the drama of emancipation from New York Times bestselling author and winner of the National Book Critics Circle Award Zoellner is a beautiful writer a superb reporter and a deep thinker The New York Times Book Review on The National Road In the opening days of the Civil War three enslaved men approached the gates of Fort Monroe a U S military installation in Virginia In a snap decision the fort s commander confiscated them as contraband of war From then on wherever the U S Army traveled torrents of runaways rushed to secure their own freedom a mass movement of 800 000 people a fifth of the enslaved population of the South that set the institution of slavery on a path to destruction In an engrossing work of narrative history critically acclaimed historian Tom Zoellner introduces an unforgettable cast of characters whose stories will transform our popular understanding of how slavery ended The Road Was Full of Thorns shows what emancipation looked and felt like for the people who made the desperate flight across dangerous territory the taste of mud in the mouth the terror of the slave patrols and the fateful crossing into Union lines Zoellner also reveals how the least powerful Americans changed the politics of war forcing President Lincoln to issue the Emancipation Proclamation and opening the door to universal Black citizenship For readers of The 1619 Project and anyone interested in the Civil War The Road Was Full of Thorns is destined to reshape how we think about the story of American freedom The Civil War Journal of Mary Greenhow Lee Eloise C. Strader,2011 A proud and elegant woman descended from one of

Virginia's founding families Mrs Hugh Holmes Lee tells a fascinating and compelling story about daily life and the hardships of the residents of the sleepy but strategic town of Winchester Virginia From her front porch she observed and recorded the comings and goings of both armies A staunch supporter of the Southern cause Mrs Lee viewed most Yankees with disdain yet tended their wounded with the same compassion and grace as she did her own fallen soldiers publisher Cultures in Conflict--The American Civil War Steven E. Woodworth, 2000-03-30 The American Civil War was primarily a conflict of cultures and slavery was the largest single cultural factor separating North and South This collection of carefully selected memoirs diaries letters and reminiscences of ordinary Northerners and Southerners who experienced the war as soldiers or civilians brings to life the conflict in culture principles attitudes hopes courage and suffering of both sides Woodworth a Civil War historian has selected a wide variety of moving first person accounts each of which tells a story of a life as well as the attitudes of ordinary people and the real conditions of war and homefront Woodworth presents the war in the words of those who lived it Contrasting selections will help the reader to see the war through the eyes of Northerners and Southerners as soldiers prepare for war women's lives change after the men go to war soldiers on both sides experience the difficulties of camp life sweethearts the half sister of Mary Todd Lincoln and her Confederate fianc exchange heartfelt letters a husband's letters and his wife's diary recount their love his death in battle and her deep loss countered by her faith soldiers and civilians recount the carnage of the war's devastating battles and people on both sides reflect on the outcome of the war and its consequences to their way of life The accounts contrast the writers attitudes toward Northern and Southern society the principles for which those societies stood and the religious significance of the war These accounts and the narrative discussion of the difference in culture will help readers to understand the Civil War as a conflict of cultures Telling the story of the war as personal history makes the experience of the Civil War come alive for readers Journal Royal Institution of Cornwall, 1886 Book Review Digest, 1929 Excerpts from and citations to reviews of more than 8 000 books each year drawn from coverage of 109 publications Book Review Digest provides citations to and excerpts of reviews of current juvenile and adult fiction and nonfiction in the English language Reviews of the following types of books are excluded government publications textbooks and technical books in the sciences and law Reviews of books on science for the general reader however are included The reviews originate in a group of selected periodicals in the humanities social sciences and general science published in the United States Canada and Great Britain Publisher The Military Engineer; Journal of the Society of American Military Engineers, 1956 The Ladies' Home Journal, 1922 The Journal of William Dowsing Trevor Cooper, 2001 In this modern edition the long separated Cambridgeshire and Suffolk entries are published together for the first time emphasising Dowsing's extensive coverage of the region A detailed commentary accompanies the Journal based on an examination of each of the churches he visited Full use has been made of contemporary records including those of the Cambridge colleges to fill out the details of Dowsing's diary entries maps and photographs graphically illustrate the range
