years have passed since the ancient Ushani tablets were uncovered Now translated they reveal an epic tale that once became the pillar of a long dead civilization Like many cultures the Ushani had a creation story At the beginning of all things the deity Wen Eba created everything He manipulated the vast colors within himself to form the beasts of the air land and sea all creatures were given the perfect amount of life color according to their needs Even the trees were created with their colors to be sustained by the earth From the tallest trees Wen Eba sculpted the first humans giving them part of his own spirit He set them apart from all other creatures by not giving them color according to their needs Rather he wanted to give them life directly from himself that mankind might be sustained by their creator Tragically mankind soon rejected the will of their deity seeking their missing color in the ground From it they pulled gemstones and precious metals colors that were meant to sustain the earth As their world slowly starved to death their retribution began to awaken Finally the greed of mankind unleashed a vengeful being known as Wen etra the flame that consumes all color Though mankind had been ravaged by Wen etra for many years Wen Eba did not forget them A prophecy spoke of a hero who would someday rise to defeat the flame and restore all creation to newness and life This ancient myth chronicles the rise and fall of the Ushani people as well as their redemption at the hands of their legendary hero Aedliss Being-in-Christ and Putting Death in Its Place Miles

Richardson,2006-09-01 Winner of the James Mooney Award of the Southern Anthropological Society In this bracingly original anthropological study Miles Richardson draws on forty years of empirical research to explore the paradox that while humans must die like all evolving life forms they have adapted a unique symbolic communication that makes them aware of their naturally occurring fate and through word and artifact they dwell upon that discovery Using the concepts of culture and place he illuminates how two groups Catholics in Spanish America and Baptists in the American South create being in Christ and thereby put death in its place The book combines biological cultural archaeological and linguistic anthropology a rigorous evolutionary framework and a postmodern dialogic stance to view humanity as inescapably a product of nature without sacrificing the interpretative social constructions that turn a primate into a poem Hard won ethnographic detail and moving religious insight make this an enthralling work Red Death M.
