LeFebvre, 2019-08-06 How were holidays chosen and taught in biblical Israel and what did they have to do with the creation narrative Michael LeFebvre considers the calendars of the Pentateuch arguing that dates were added to Old Testament narratives not as journalistic details but to teach sacred rhythms of labor and worship LeFebvre then applies this insight to the creation week finding that the days of creation also serve a liturgical purpose Breakthrough Problem Solving with

Action Learning Michael Marquardt, Roland K. Yeo, 2012-05-16 Breakthrough Problem Solving with Action Learning explores why and how action learning groups have been so successful and creative in solving complex problems The text begins by briefly reviewing the theories that undergird the effectiveness of action learning philosophically situating readers and pointing them in the direction of related academic works that they may wish to explore It then turns to stories of how organizations have employed action learning in solving specific often encountered business problems These cases not only serve as real world models for how action learning can be successfully employed but also offer inspiration and potential starting points and guidelines for other businesses that face similar problems The book concludes with a cross case analysis that pinpoints the ingredients necessary for breakthrough problem solving via action learning Pioneering Biomedical

Breakthroughs: Advanced Multidisciplinary Research in Neurological Disorders, Renal Diseases, and Postpartum Health through Technology and Innovation Mahesh Recharla, 2025-06-06 In the quest to decode the complexities of human health the intersection of biomedical science technology and multidisciplinary collaboration has become more crucial than ever. Pioneering Biomedical Breakthroughs: Advanced Multidisciplinary Research in Neurological Disorders, Renal Diseases, and Postpartum Health through Technology and Innovation brings together transformative insights and research that are redefining how we understand, diagnose, and treat some of the most challenging medical conditions of our time. This book emerges from a growing recognition that solving deeply rooted healthcare issues such as Alzheimer's disease, chronic kidney conditions, and postpartum complications requires a convergence of expertise across neurology, nephrology, maternal health, genomics, data science, and engineering. It highlights the pioneering work being done across these domains driven by advances in artificial intelligence, wearable biosensors, molecular diagnostics, and personalized treatment models. Through a multidisciplinary lens, this book explores how technological innovation is accelerating early detection, improving patient outcomes, and paving the way for more targeted and compassionate care. From brain-computer interfaces and AI-powered imaging for neurological disorders to smart dialysis systems for renal health and predictive models for postpartum depression, each chapter showcases research that is pushing the boundaries of traditional healthcare. This work is intended for researchers, clinicians, bioengineers, students, and innovators who are passionate about shaping the future of medicine through collaboration and cutting-edge science. It not only captures the state-of-the-art technologies being deployed but also addresses the ethical, clinical, and societal considerations that must guide responsible innovation. We hope this book serves as both a resource and a catalyst for sparking new ideas, inspiring cross-disciplinary partnerships, and ultimately contributing to a world where precision care and technological equity become the norm, not the exception.
