Where Do I Belong:

Where Do I Belong? Jayne Wallace, 2011-08-09 Ginna Aiken just wants to be loved As a child she receives little affection from her parents and begins building walls finding happiness only in her books and in listening to music At age thirteen she attempts to take her life for the first time As the victim of a broken family Ginna must somehow move from childhood to adulthood all while on a seemingly endless quest for inner peace It turns out that dealing with her dysfunctional family is not Ginna's only thorny challenge After an attempted rape by a trusted family friend Ginna discovers a bottle of tranquilizers in her mother's dresser drawer She swallows what is left in the bottle and begins an addiction to prescription drugs that masks her pain but clouds everything including her judgment Ginna just longs to sink her roots into a place where she finally feels like she belongs but first she must somehow find the power to forgive Where Do I Belong is a poignant and powerful tale about the acts of love betrayal and the devastation that accompany a broken childhood

Where Do I Belong Rummana Chowdhury, 2014-10-25 Rummana's writing is thoughtful heartfelt and encompassing of ever widening experiences and a deepening knowledge of the human condition This volume Where Do I Belong takes the reader on a journey that involves a thematic stream stretching from the shores of the Padma to Lake Ontario There is nostalgia and longing in such a journey brought out in such pieces as Hot Apple Fritters and Hot Roshogollas a prose meditation on the manner in which Canadian apple fritters evoke the earlier experienced pleasures of roshogollas from a sweet shop in Noakhali Bangladesh and the shores of Lake Ontario conjure up early layers of the Padma Megna and Jamuna while listening to jazz resonates with the earlier folk music of Bengal The imagery in Radhachura Kathalchapa and Bogainvillea contrasts the snow and frost of an adopted northern country admittedly along with the compensating cherry blossoms of spring and autumn colours with the warmth and breathtaking beauty of the radhachuras at dawn in a long forgotten ethereal unbelievable bliss of my birthplace the only base where it is possible to have total relaxation Themes of displacement discrimination oppression and the violence of war are worked out in cultural specificity in such poems as Blood Road Solitary confinement and The darkness of the night pulled her Others such as The rat race From captivity to captivity and Wrong address concern the universal human condition and struggles that transcends race colour and linguistic differences
