Soul Familiar Box Set English Edition:

The Athenaeum ,1850 Nonfictional Romantic Prose Steven P. Sondrup, Virgil Nemoianu, 2004-03-31 Nonfictional Romantic Prose Expanding Borders surveys a broad range of expository polemical and analytical literary forms that came into prominence during the last two decades of the eighteenth century and the first half of the nineteenth. They stand in contrast to better known romantic fiction in that they endeavor to address the world of daily empirical experience rather than that of more explicitly self-referential fanciful creation. Among them are genres that have since the nineteenth century come to characterize many aspects of modern life like the periodical or the psychological case study; others flourished and enjoyed wide spread popularity during the nineteenth century but are much less well known today like the almanac and the diary. Travel narratives, pamphlets, religious and theological texts, familiar essays, autobiographies, literary critical and philosophical studies and discussions of the visual arts and music all had deep historical roots when appropriated by romantic writers but prospered in their hands and assumed distinctive contours indicative of the breadth of romantic thought.

The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration. The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World but also the ways in which the affected literatures in reaction to Romanticism have redefined themselves on into Modernism. A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series' total contents.

Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution and by combining cross-cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams.

Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large, fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd.

Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments.

Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism's own self-commentary in theoretical statements on the arts, society, life, the sciences and more. Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume.

Romantic Prose Fiction where the basic Romantic themes and story types, the romance, novel, novella, short story and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World. This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations.

As an aid to readers, the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age

The Month ,1918 The Tablet ,1871 The international Catholic weekly Lectures on the Pilgrim's Progress, and on the Life and Times of John Bunyan George Barrell Cheever,1846 The Living Age ,1868 Host Bibliographic Record for Boundwith Item Barcode 30112114734418 and Others ,1868 House Beautiful ,1905 The Soul Delusion David P. Barash,2025-11-13 The case against the soul and why life is better without one The soul like the Christian notion of the devil has increasingly become contested even for traditional believers Considered objectively the soul is a strange notion one entirely at odds with everything we know about how the world actually works And yet belief in the soul persists among both the religiously inclined and non believers The Soul Delusion is a wake up call encouraging readers to think critically about something widely taken for granted Evolutionary biologist David P Barash takes a deep dive into the nature of the soul by reviewing the diverse and often conflicting notions of what the soul is supposed to be and revealing practical problems deriving from such delusive beliefs how the soul certain agitate against early and mid stage abortions because of their insistence that an embryo has a soul and thus must be saved even at the risk of the mother s health for instance and how soul belief has provided marching orders for cruelty toward animals because of the claim that only we have souls and therefore animals don t deserve protection The Soul Delusion also aims to liberate people from fear of hell and free them to enjoy what poet Mary Oliver called your wild and precious life It challenges the assumption that a soul is needed for people to live moral lives while exposing the misleading nature of supposed near death experiences It also illuminates how being soul free opens us to an appreciation of our wonderful lives in the real the here and now and the prospect of a future without souls

Nicene and Post-Nicene Fathers First Series, St. Augustine Philip Schaff,2007-05-01 The Council of Nicaea in 325 AD marked the beginning of a new era in Christianity For the first time doctrines were organized into a single creed The Nicene and Post Nicene Fathers did most of their writing during and after this important event in Church history Unlike the previous era of Christian writing the Nicene and Post Nicene era is dominated by a few very important and prolific writers In Volume VI of the 14 volume collected writings of the Nicenes and Post Nicenes first published between 1886 and 1889 readers will find Saint Augustines exegesis on the Gospels and the Sermon on the Mount which strove to interpret and draw meaning out of the text without incorporating the author s personal agenda or bias Also included in this volume are a selection of Augustines sermons The New Jerusalem Messenger William Benjamin Hayden,John L. Jewett,James Parke Stuart,Chauncey Giles,Charles Holbrook Mann,1870 Littell's Living Age ,1915 Brother-Souls Ann Charters,Samuel Charters,2010-09-27 John Clellon Holmes met Jack Kerouac on a hot New York City weekend in 1948 and until the end of Kerouac s life they were in Holmes s words Brother Souls Both were neophyte novelists hungry for literary fame but just as hungry to find a new way of responding to their experiences in a postwar American society that for them had lost its direction. Late one night as they sat talking, Kerouac spontaneously created the term Beat Generation to describe this new attitude they felt stirring around them. Brother Souls John Clellon Holmes and Jack Kerouac and the Beat Generation is the remarkable chronicle of this cornerstone friendship and the life of John Clellon Holmes. From 1948 to 1951 when Kerouac's wanderings took him back to New York, he and Holmes met almost daily. Struggling to find a form for the novel he intended to write, Kerouac climbed the stairs to the apartment in midtown Manhattan where Holmes lived with his wife to read the pages of Holmes's manuscript for the novel Go as they left the typewriter. With the pages of Holmes's final chapter still in his mind, he was at last able to crack his own writing dilemma. In a burst of creation in April 1951, he drew all the materials he had been gathering into the scroll manuscript of On the Road. Biographer Ann Charters was close to John Clellon Holmes for more than a decade. At his death in 1988, she was one of a handful of scholars allowed access to the voluminous archive of letters, journals, and manuscripts Holmes had been keeping for twenty-five years. In that mass of material waited an untold story. These two ambitious writers, Holmes and Kerouac, shared days and nights arguing over what writing should be, wandering from one explosive party to the next and hanging on the new sounds of bebop. Through the pages of Holmes's journals, often written the morning after the events they recount, Charters discovered and mined an unparalleled trove describing the seminal figures of the Beat Generation: Holmes, Kerouac, Neal Cassady, Allen Ginsberg, William Burroughs, Gregory Corso, and their friends and lovers.

 Musaicum Press presents to you an Arthur Machen collection which has been designed and formatted to the highest digital standards and adjusted for readability on all devices. Arthur Machen (1863-1947) was a Welsh author and mystic of the 1890s and early 20th century. He is best known for his influential supernatural fantasy and horror fiction. His novella The Great God Pan has garnered a reputation as a classic of horror. Stephen King has called it "Maybe the best horror story in the English language." Historian of fantastic literature Brian Stableford has suggested that Machen was the first writer of authentically modern horror stories, and his best works must still be reckoned among the finest products of the genre.
