South African Budget Speech 2015 2016:

Acid Mine Drainage in South Africa Suvania Naidoo, 2016-10-13 This SpringerBrief focuses on Acid Mine Drainage AMD in the three basins in the Witwatersrand South Africa It provides a background to AMD and its impacts from a social science perspective The South African government and non governmental organizations response to AMD is assessed as well the socio economic and developmental effects of AMD This volume which is based on the author s Master s dissertation at UNISA involves interviews with a range of experts in the field from government departments environmental organisations activists the private sector mining tourism sector and the agricultural sector The book discusses existing policy documents on AMD and provides recommendations in response to the many socio economic impacts which have not been fully addressed A literature review on the global context of AMD is provided South Africa s water systems are already severely harmed by climate change different forms of pollution and poorly managed sanitation systems For these reasons the country is becoming increasingly water stressed and therefore water will continue to become much scarcer in the future As a result of AMD s continued impact on South Africa s water systems as a technical or scientific matter as well as the policy implications for the mining sector water security and socio economic sustainability has become a highly contested issue The Political Economy of Mental Illness in South Africa André J van Rensburg, 2021-02-17 The book describes key socio political reforms that helped shape post apartheid South Africa s mental health system The author interrogates how reforms shaped public community based services for people living with severe mental illness and how features of this care has been determined in part at least by the relations between actors and structures in the state private for profit health care and civil society spheres A description of the development of South Africa s post apartheid health system and the contentions that emerge therein sets the stage for an analysis of the country s most tragic human rights failure during its democratic period namely the Life Esidimeni tragedy The roots of the tragedy are not only framed as a loss of life and dignity as a result of political corruption and administrative mismanagement but as a power differential that ultimately highlights an unjust system that relegates its most vulnerable citizens to commodities without voice and without agency The book concludes that the commodification of severe mental illness has been a product of neoliberal discourses that have shaped the economic ways in which the post apartheid South African state have governed poverty and severe mental illness This book will be of interest to scholars of health social and economic policy in South Africa #FeesMustFall and Youth Mobilisation in South Africa Musawenkosi Ndlovu, 2017-07-14 Cover Title Copyright Contents Preface Introduction and rationale 1 The view of South African youth before FeesMustFall 2 Were the 2015 student protests a revolution 3 What the 2015 protests actually were and how they were possible 4 Ikhohlisan ihlomile FMF students engagement with power and their ideological differences 5 Can South Africa s declining economy inspire student led new revolution 6 Youth s declining news consumption levels and ideologically divided media 7 Youth s polysemic interpretation of the ANC regime and the limits of the new revolution 8 Youths declining participation levels in the public sphere the constraints of new revolution 9 Conclusion FMF protests will not lead to a revolution per se at least not yet but to wide ranging reforms References Index Problematizing the Foreign Shop Vanya Gastrow, 2018-08-03 Small businesses owned by international migrants and refugees are often the target of xenophobic hostility and attack in South Africa This report examines the problematization of migrant owned businesses in South Africa and the regulatory efforts aimed at curtailing their economic activities In so doing it sheds light on the complex ways in which xenophobic fears are generated and manifested in the countrys social legal and political orders Efforts to curb migrant spaza shops in South Africa have included informal trade agreements at local levels fining migrant shops and legislation that prohibits asylum seekers from operating businesses in the country Several of these interventions have overlooked the content of local by laws and outdated legal frameworks The report concludes that when South African township residents attack migrant spaza shops they are expressing their dissatisfaction with their socio economic conditions to an apprehensive state and political leadership In response governance actors turn on migrant shops to demonstrate their allegiance to these residents to appease South African spaza shopkeepers and to tacitly blame socio economic malaise on perceived foreign forces Overall these actors do not have spaza shops primarily in mind when calling for the stricter regulation of these businesses Instead they are concerned about the volatile support of their key political constituencies and how this backing can be undermined or generated by the symbolic gesture of regulating the foreign shop Massive Suburbanization K. Murat Guney, Roger Keil, Murat Ucoglu, 2019-05-06 Providing a systematic overview of large scale housing projects Massive Suburbanization investigates the building and rebuilding of urban peripheries on a global scale Offering a universal inter referencing point for research on the dynamics of massive suburbia this book builds a new discussion pertaining to the problems of the urban periphery urbanization and the neoliberal production of space Conceptual and empirical chapters revisit the classic cases of large scale suburban building in Canada the former Czechoslovakia France Germany and the United States and examine the new peripheral estates in China Egypt Israel Morocco the Philippines South Africa and Turkey The contributors examine a broad variety of cases that speak to the building or redevelopment of large scale peripheral housing estates tower neighbourhoods Grands Ensembles Gro wohnsiedlungen and Toplu Konut Concerned with state and corporate policy for building suburban estates Massive Suburbanization confronts the politics surrounding local inhabitants and their right to the suburb Security, Governance, and State Fragility in South Africa Edward L. Mienie, 2020-03-06 Do existing measures of state fragility measure fragility accurately Based on commonly used fragility measures South Africa SA is classified as a relatively stable state yet rising violent crime high unemployment endemic poverty eroding public trust identity group based preferential treatment policies and the rapid rise of the private security sector are all indications that SA may be suffering from latent state fragility Based on a comprehensive view of security this study examines the extent to which measures of political legitimacy and good governance effectiveness in the security system especially with respect to the police system and mounting economic challenges may be undermining the stability of SA in ways undetected by commonly used measures of state fragility Using a mixed methods approach based on quantitative secondary data analysis and semi structured interviews with government officials security practitioners and leading experts in the field this study finds that the combination of colonization apartheid liberation struggle transition from autocracy to democracy high levels of direct and structural violence stagnating social political and economic developments make South Africa a latently fragile state Conceptually the results of this research call into question the validity of commonly used measures of state fragility and suggest the need for a more comprehensive approach to assessing state fragility Practically this study offers a number of concrete policy recommendations for how South Africa may address mounting levels of latent state fragility

Public Value Theory and Budgeting Usman W. Chohan,2019-05-22 Public value theory has advanced over the past 30 years but there is a need to extend its boundary outwards into new contexts and update its discourse to reflect new social challenges We are now trying to create value in a globalized world with supranational entities with new international alliances and institutions in a frightening post truth era How can public managers grapple with these emerging realities This book seeks to provide answers to such public value questions by applying powerful budgeting perspectives Using case studies of independent budget offices key fiscal instruments and leading public value frameworks this book stands out in its use of budgetary lenses to answer pertinent questions about the multidimensional processes of value creation by and for a wider society Pushing the debate on public value forward and taking it onto the global stage the book asks whether public value and other public administration theories are applicable beyond the traditional context of the pro globalization Western liberal democracies in which they were conceived It does this by exploring the realms of developing countries supranational entities and post Communist societies among others Finally it presents these explorations in light of very recent sociopolitical trends and phenomena including the growth of civil society the global financial crisis the illiberal democracy and the post truth era Tailored to an audience comprising public administration scholars students of government budget practitioners and social scientists interested in contemporary problems of values in society this book helps to advance public administration thought by extending public value theory into new contexts and relating it to the growing global challenges of public life The Report: South Africa 2013 Oxford Business Group, 2013-09-04 The Rainbow Nation benefits from an internationally competitive private sector which accounts for roughly 70% of GDP and extremely competitive infrastructure its utility sector for example produces just under half of the total power generated on the African continent South Africa represents by far the most developed market in Africa but there are still some structural challenges it is grappling with Government strategies have set a target of increasing labour market participation from 54% in 2010 to 65% by 2030 bringing the number of workers in the formal sector to 25.3m people and lowering unemployment from 25% to 6% While its fiscal space is narrow long term investments in infrastructure education and health are expected to be key to attaining its growth potential Recent years have seen both the public and private sectors look to strengthen regulatory frameworks in mining and industry in some cases like the automotive sector with impressive results

The Geography of South Africa Jasper Knight, Christian M. Rogerson, 2018-10-03 This edited collection examines contemporary directions in geographical research on South Africa. It encompasses a cross section of selected themes of critical importance not only to the discipline of Geography in South Africa but also of relevance to other areas of the Global South. All chapters are original contributions providing a state of the art research baseline on key themes in physical human and environmental geography and in understanding the changing geographical landscapes of modern South Africa. These contributions set the scene for an understanding of the relationships between modern South Africa and the wider contemporary world including issues of sustainable development and growth in the Global South.

Integrated Space for African Society Annette Froehlich, 2019-09-18 This book provides an overview of the space sector in African countries from a legal and policy point of view, analysing how the African Union's Space Policy and Strategy (ASPS) is implemented and highlighting the various space activities in each country. Against this backdrop, it investigates the ASPS, identifying its policy goals, identifying and discussing its strategy. Moreover, it explores the on-going regional cooperation programmes, the continent's leading space actors and their roles, and the space-related regional fora and organizations reflecting on various initiatives including the African Leadership Conference on Space Science and Technology for Sustainable Development (ALC), the Regional African Satellite Communications Organisation (RASCOS), and the African Resource Management Satellite Constellation (ARMS-C). As such, it is a valuable source of information on space capacities in African countries.

The Finances of Regional Organisations in the Global South Ulf Engel, Frank Mattheis, 2019-11-05 This book addresses a major gap in the longstanding research on regional organisations: how do their finances work and what do they reveal about the region-building process? It brings together an empirically rich collection of chapters written by experts of regional organisations in Latin America, Africa, and Asia. Based on the insights on thirteen regional organisations, as well as two chapters dedicated to the influence of external funders, the editors develop typologies to cluster regional organisations according to their financial characteristics: the size of budgets, the sources of funding, and the criteria to calculate contributions. Through analysing the process of budgeting and resourcing, the book sheds light on the different nature and functioning of these organisations existing outside of the Global North and puts a specific emphasis on regional organisations in the area of security in Africa and the Global South. It provides explanations to why members pay or do not pay and how budgeting works, and it deals with data availability, the role of donors, overlapping regionalism, cultural transfers between regional organisations, and the impact on regional actorhood. This volume will be of key interest to scholars and students of African studies and politics, the Global South, the finances of international organisations, comparative regionalism, international political economy, and international relations.

Silent Coup Claire Provost,Matt Kennard,2023-05-04 As European empires crumbled in the 20th century the power structures that had dominated the world for centuries were up for renegotiation Yet instead of a rebirth for democracy what emerged was a silent coup namely the unstoppable rise of global corporate power Exposing the origins of this epic power grab as well as its present day consequences Silent Coup is the result of two investigative journalists reports from 30 countries around the world It provides an explosive guide to the rise of a corporate empire that now dictates how resources are allocated how territories are governed and how justice is defined

Media in Postapartheid South Africa Sean Jacobs,2019-03-11 In Media in Postapartheid South Africa author Sean Jacobs turns to media politics and the consumption of media as a way to understand recent political developments in South Africa and their relations with the African continent and the world Jacobs looks at how mass media define the physical and human geography of the society and what it means for comprehending changing notions of citizenship in postapartheid South Africa Jacobs claims that the media have unprecedented control over the distribution of public goods rights claims and South Africa s integration into the global political economy in ways that were impossible under the state controlled media that dominated the apartheid years Jacobs takes a probing look at television commercials and the representation of South Africans reality television shows and South African continental expansion soap operas and postapartheid identity politics and the internet as a space for reassertions and reconfigurations of identity As South Africa becomes more integrated into the global economy Jacobs argues that local media have more weight in shaping how consumers view these products in unexpected and consequential ways Citizen and Pariah Vanya Gastrow, 2022-03 Hoping for a better life many migrants have made the journey to South Africa and set up as informal spaza shop traders in small towns and township areas supplying the local residents with essentials These traders work hard open their shops early close late and support their relatives and kinspeople in starting new businesses But thriving in environments afflicted by unemployment and crime is almost impossible when armed robberies are a daily reality protection from law enforcement is not a given and access to justice is effectively out of reach Engaging first hand with small traders and the Somali communities in Khayelitsha Kraaifontein and Philippi Vanya Gastrow investigates the predicament of these modern-day pariahs social and political outcasts who belong neither to the elite nor the common people and who are frequently the focus of xenophobic anger Tracing national level regulatory developments in post-apartheid democratic South Africa Gastrow shines a light on how retailers have been politicised and how they have faced growing informal and formal regulatory efforts to curtail their business activities She demonstrates how democratic and constitutional frameworks can erode in contexts of heightened nationalism populism and economic inequality By investigating Somali informal shopkeepers experiences of crime justice and regulation in the country the fragility of law pluralism and democracy in South Africa is uncomfortably exposed
