Good evening friends, family, faculty, and fellow graduates.

As we stand here today, on the brink of a new chapter in our lives, it's hard to believe that it's already been four years (or however long it took us to get here). It seems like just yesterday that we were nervously stepping onto campus, not quite sure what to expect.

But as we look back on the past four years, it's clear that we've come a long way. We've made new friends, learned new things, and grown as individuals. We've faced challenges and overcome them, and we've learned to persevere through difficult times.

And as we move on from this chapter in our lives, I encourage each and every one of us to remember the lessons we've learned and the experiences we've had. These experiences will shape who we are and how we approach the world, and they will serve us well in the years ahead.

But before we get too ahead of ourselves, let's take a moment to reflect on how we got here. I'm sure we all have different stories and experiences, but there are a few things that I think we can all relate to.

For starters, I'm sure we can all agree that college is a lot of hard work. Between classes, assignments, and exams, it's easy to get bogged down and feel overwhelmed. But despite the challenges, we've persevered and made it to this point.

I'm also sure that we've all had moments where we felt lost or unsure of ourselves. It's natural to feel that way, especially when you're trying to navigate a new environment and figure out your place in the world. But despite these moments of uncertainty, we've found our footing and discovered our passions.

And most importantly, I'm sure we can all agree that college has been an amazing experience. We've had the opportunity to learn from some of the best professors in the field, engage in meaningful discussions and debates, and be part of a community of like-minded individuals.

So, as we move on from this chapter in our lives, let's remember to be grateful for the experiences we've had and the people who have supported us along the way. To our parents, who have always believed in us and encouraged us to pursue our dreams, thank you for your unwavering love and guidance. To our teachers and mentors, who have imparted their knowledge and wisdom upon us, thank you for your invaluable guidance and encouragement. And to our friends, who have stood by us through thick and thin, thank you for your friendship and support.

Living Spiritually in the Material World Lewis M. Andrews Ph.D., 2020-03-17 For almost three hundred years almost every American college was run by a minister or prominent Christian thinker Although representing many denominations they collectively developed an enormously popular student seminar on how to find spiritual satisfaction in the larger world beyond home and church a discipline that eventually inspired the entire country through a series of bestselling books Combining historical research with the insights of modern psychology and his own experience as therapist and teacher Dr Andrews makes the insights of the early college president assessable to today's Christian seekers Before shelves were warping under the weight of self help books before the caring industries were promising happiness via therapy or pills many Americans sought guidance and wisdom from all people Christian college presidents Lewis Andrews unearths the story of how these religious educational and social leaders came to be spiritual instructors and he shows how their advice can still help us lead lives of greater courage resilience and grace Adam Keiper Books they also provided useful guidance for spiritual wisdom which Andrews translates for today s modern audience Mike McCurry professor director Wesley Theological Seminary and former State Department White House spokesman 1993 98

Does God Belong in Public Schools? Kent Greenawalt, 2007-05-06 Controversial Supreme Court decisions have barred organized school prayer but neither the Court nor public policy exclude religion from schools altogether In this book one of America s leading constitutional scholars asks what role religion ought to play in public schools Kent Greenawalt explores many of the most divisive issues in educational debate including teaching about the origins of life sex education and when or whether students can opt out of school activities for religious reasons Using these and other case studies Greenawalt considers how to balance the country s constitutional commitment to personal freedoms and to the separation of church and state with the vital role that religion has always played in American society Do we risk distorting students understanding of America s past and present by ignoring religion in public school curricula When does teaching about religion cross the line into the promotion of religion Tracing the historical development of religion within public schools and considering every major Supreme Court case Greenawalt concludes that the bans on school prayer and the teaching of creationism are justified and that the court should more closely examine such activities as the singing of religious songs and student papers on religious topics He also argues that students ought to be taught more about religion both its contributions and shortcomings especially in courses in history To do otherwise he writes is to present a seriously distorted picture of society and indirectly to be other than neutral in presenting secularism and religion Written with exemplary clarity and even handedness this is a major book about some of the most pressing and contentious issues in educational policy and constitutional law today

CHANGE is is the one thing you can count on in these exciting and discouraging times Fueled by the bizarre pace of technological inovation transitions are taking place in society and the church in ways that we have never seen before Beginning with the fact of four generations living at the same time each with their unique ideas and change accompanied by a generational breakdown in understanding and communications In the past the church was a reliable moral compass for society But today with the self imposed isolation inside the four walls of of brick Satan is left to his device of blinding the minds of men lest they believe the glorious gospel of eternal salvation He has been able to spread a cloak of darkness over our Western culture Darkness is not knowing the real purpose and nature of things For example What is the source of man and his world Where have man and his world come from What is the purpose of man in the world Why do man and his world exist What is the end of man and his world Light is knowing God and His Son the authentic Jesus Christ who stands as the Source of purpose and end of man and his world Further light is to know the truth and reality of man and his world that God created all for Himself That He loves and saves all to live with Him eternally if we will only believe and trust Him Today there is a tension between the world and the Word The authentic Christ is the only hope for the world Give Me Jesus An Amazing God, An Amazing Life Steven Kamradt,2025-07-22
