Momentum Daniel Seymour, 2015-12-07 An era of accountability has swept over the higher education landscape. Everyone it seems legislatures think tanks newspapers magazines books and bloggers wants to hold colleges and universities accountable. They are attaching strings to budgets producing reports that read like exposés developing clever systems to rank and sort us and writing books and articles that describe the end of college as we know it. According to them we need to be reformed reimagined and rebooted. Momentum changes the conversation from how others are holding higher education accountable to why colleges and universities need to embrace the need to demonstrate their own responsibility. The responsibility paradigm that emerges fundamentally shifts the dialogue from fixing to preventing from reacting to creating from surviving to thriving. To implement this new paradigm the dynamics of virtuous cycles are introduced and described. These upward spirals build on their own successes and result in growing confidence a sense of vitality and resilience. The future of these institutions isn't the result of outside pressure or reformers. The future is something that can and should be created by those who take responsibility for it.

A College for All Californians George R. Boggs, Lawrence A. Galizio, 2021 This is the first comprehensive and contemporary history of the largest and most diverse public system of higher education in the United States. Serving over 2 million students annually approximately one quarter of the nation's community college undergraduates California's 116 community colleges play an indispensable role in career and transfer education in North America and have maintained an outsized influence on the evolution of postsecondary education nationally. A College for All Californians chronicles the sector's emergence from K-12 institutions its evolving mission and growth following World War II and the G.I. Bill. For Education the expansion of its ever broadening mission and its essential role in the 1960 Master Plan for Higher Education. Chapters cover California's junior and community colleges development mission governance faculty finances athletics student support services and more. It also examines the successes and ongoing political financial and educational challenges confronting this uniquely American educational experiment. Book Features Encapsulates the evolution and contemporary status of our nation's largest and most diverse undergraduate education system. Examines how the colleges were influenced by the political economic and social issues of the day. Includes new historical information affecting postsecondary education in California. Analyzes some of the most important current and emerging issues that will continue to influence California's community colleges.

The Cobra Movement in Postwar Europe Karen Kurczynski, 2020-07-12 This book examines the art of Cobra a network of poets and artists from Copenhagen Brussels and Amsterdam 1948-1951. Although the name stood for the organizers home cities the Cobra artists hailed from countries in Europe Africa and the United States. This book investigates how a group of struggling young artists attempted to reinvent the international avant-garde after the devastation of the Second World War to create artistic experiments capable of facing the challenges of postwar society. It explores how Cobra's experimental often collective art works and publications relate to broader debates in Europe about the use of images to commemorate violent events the possibility of free expression in an art world constrained by Cold War politics the breakdown of primitivism in an era of colonial independence movements and the importance of spontaneity in a society increasingly dominated by the mass media This book will be of interest to scholars in art history 20th century modern art avant garde arts and European history
