Searching for New Frontiers Rick Worland, 2018-04-30. Searching For New Frontiers offers film students and general readers a survey of popular movies of the 1960s. The author explores the most important modes of filmmaking in times that were at once hopeful, exhilarating, and daunting. The text combines discussion of American social and political history and Hollywood industry changes with analysis of some of the era's most expressive movies. The book covers significant genres and evolving thematic trends, highlighting a variety of movies that confronted the era's major social issues. It notes the stylistic confluence and exchanges between three forms: the traditional studio movie based on the combination of stars and genres, low budget exploitation movies, and the international art cinema. As the author reveals, this complex period of American filmmaking was neither random nor the product of unique talents working in a vacuum. The filmmakers met head-on with an evolving American social conscience to create a Hollywood cinema of an era defined by events such as the Vietnam War, the rise of the civil rights movement, and the moon landing.

The Palgrave Handbook of Popular Culture as Philosophy Dean A. Kowalski, Chris Lay, Kimberly S. Engels, 2024-04-30. Much philosophical work on pop culture apologises for its use, using popular culture as a necessary evil, something merely useful for reaching the masses with important philosophical arguments. But works of pop culture are important in their own right; they shape worldviews, inspire ideas, change minds. We wouldn't balk at a book dedicated to examining the philosophy of The Great Gatsby or 1984; why aren't Star Trek and Superman fair game as well? After all, when produced, the former were considered pop culture just as much as the latter. This will be the first major reference work to right that wrong, gathering together entries on film, television, games, graphic novels, and comedy, and officially recognizing the importance of the field. It will be the go-to resource for students and researchers in philosophy, culture, media, and communications. English and history, and will act as a springboard to introduce the reader to the other key literature in the field.

Sample Book Insights

- 1 I wake to the sound of one hand clapping. It is my mother banging on the cellar door above me. The air was filled with the scent of lavender just before the air was filled with the soft, heady scent of lavender. I was lying in a field of lilac purple flowers, swaying gently above me. I was safe. I was happy.
- 2 I spend my days in my world of make-believe: the Lavender Fields and the Loneliness Birds. I find my escape from the darkness there. I am not affected by the English ways like a lot of young girls I could mention 3 I had a street in England named after me It was a typical Asian street in the early 1980s a close knit community where everyone knew each other I was offered drinks and food whenever I went to my friends houses 4 My family lived near a few Armenians and a single white lady The rest of our street s residents were Pakistani Muslims
