Rethinking Copyright for Sustainable Human Development Sileshi Bedasie Hirko, 2021-11-25 This book explores the interface between copyright and higher education and their complementarities for the advancement of sustainable human development In its broader sense the concept of human development is noted as a set of freedoms and human capabilities that are essential for human flourishing Adopting a rights based human development and capability approach HDCA this book primarily examines the relevant policy and legal flexibilities under the existing international copyright system and their implications for access to knowledge required for creative innovation and higher education Exploring the interfaces between copyright and higher education this book argues that an unbalanced and restrictive copyright system impedes reasonable access to knowledge and stifles creative and learning freedoms or capabilities In effect a restrictive copyright system results in serious ramifications for sustainable human development In view of its findings this book underscores the need for rethinking copyright and reframing its relevant flexibilities as users rights that are vital for promoting creative and learning capabilities towards sustainable human development Further the book emphasizes the complementarities between copyright and higher education and their joint roles for sustainable human development Given its application of the HDCA to explore ranges of interlinked topics this book will be of a great interest to researchers across the fields of intellectual property law innovation global development human rights and higher education

Islamic Economics, Growth and Development Mustafa Metin Başbay, 2025-09-01 The study of economic development is inherently grounded in philosophical and ethical assumptions In other words to discuss economic development either at a conceptual level or as a real process necessitates an ethical and philosophical basis The authors of this book believe that Islamic economics can serve as such a basis one that emanates from Islamic principles and values This book presents a distinctive ethical and philosophical framework one that is grounded in Islamic principles and the established literature of Islamic economics and finance to analyse and interpret the concept of economic development as well as to propose policy solutions to real world development problems and challenges The book contains theoretical and empirical studies which connect the literature of Islamic economics with economic development While some chapters discuss development at the conceptual philosophical level others examine the real world issues faced by developing countries It proposes institutional constructs as well as concrete public policies to face developmental challenges such as fighting poverty and inequality environmental and social sustainability industrialisation and industrial policy and social services and human capital Serving as both an introduction and a comprehensive resource this book illustrates how the concepts and problems of economic development can be examined from an Islamic economics perspective and as such will equip researchers and students with a basic understanding of how Islamic economics interacts with the issues of economic development Trade, Investment and Economic Growth Pooja Lakhanpal, Jaydeep Mukherjee, Biswajit Nag, Divya Tuteja, 2021-05-10 The book contributes to the growing literature pertaining to empirical and policy issues in international trade foreign capital flows and issues in finance implications for India and emerging economies related to trade and development interface and analysis of sector level growth and development in India Further the focus is on the policy aspects of these themes and their role in fostering economic development in the context of India and other emerging market economies The discourse focuses mainly on empirical work and econometric details The relevant issues are investigated using state of the art techniques such as gravity models panel co integration generalized hyperbolic distributions SEM FMOLS and Probit models In addition detailed literature survey discussions on data availability issues related to statistical estimation techniques and a theoretical background ensure that each chapter significantly contributes to the ever growing literature on international trade and capital flows The readers shall find an engaging dialogue on the crucial role played by policy and the trade capital flows growth experience of emerging economies The book is relevant for those who are interested in contemporary issues in trade growth and finance as well as for students of advanced econometrics who may benefit from the analytical and econometric exposition The empirical evidences provided here could serve as ready reference for academicians researchers and policy makers particularly in emerging economies facing similar challenges Development Management Justice Nyigmah Bawole, Farhad Hossain, Asad K. Ghalib, Christopher J. Rees, Aminu Mamman, 2016-10-04 Despite significant financial investments the rate of development and pace of poverty reduction in developing and transitional countries has not always matched expectations Development management typically involves complex interactions between governmental and non governmental organisations donors and members of the public and can be difficult to navigate This volume brings together a group of international contributors to explore the theoretical and empirical underpinnings of development management and to consider the prospects and challenges associated with it in the context of both developing and transitional countries Referring to dominant norms and values in public and developmental organisations development management is tied up with the attitudes and perceptions of various stakeholders including government officials public sector managers aid workers donors and members of the public Attempting to make sense of complex interactions between these actors is highly problematic and calls for new approaches models and insights Based on cutting edge research the chapters challenge much of the previous discourse on the subject and evaluate the challenges and opportunities that it presents Development Management offers academics researchers and practitioners of public administration business and management international development and political science a comprehensive and state of the art review of current research on development management in the context of developing and transitional countries BIC 2021 Silvianetri, Nil Firdaus, M. Cheng, 2020 This book explores the contribution of competition to economic growth by way of both theoretical analysis of established growth models and empirical evidence Advances in Well-Being Richard J. Estes, M. Joseph Sirgy, 2018-01-22 Media and research tend to focus on social problems in today's world from terrorism and natural disasters to environmental degradation, conflict and economic decline. Yet many countries are also placing the promotion of well-being central at the heart of their social agenda. So what can we say about human progress and the development of civilization? This book considers the brighter side of our world today by exploring the ways in which wellbeing is on an upward swing globally. Systematically considering indicators of human well-being in terms of economics, health and education alongside subjective notions of wellbeing, the book draws together research and data from around the world. It uses the United Nations Development Programme's Human Development Index as an underlying framework from which to examine the ways in which wellbeing has improved since WWII. Analysing leading scholarship and empirical work allows the authors to determine policy recommendations for how we might continue to build a better world of human wellbeing The Political Economy of Good Governance Sisay Asefa, Wei-Chiao Huang, 2015-06-08 A notable group of social scientists explore the political economy of good governance and how it relates to performance management, the influence of political parties, education and health issues in developing countries, the economic performance of transition economies and the effects of climate on poverty African Economic Development Steven Langdon, Archibald R.M. Ritter, Yiagadeesen Samy, 2018-03-05 Sub-Saharan Africa is at a turning point. The barriers to economic growth seen in the 1980-2000 era are disappearing and new optimism is spreading. However, difficult goals of eliminating poverty, achieving equity and overcoming environmental threats continue. This much-needed and insightful textbook has been written to help us understand this combination of emerging improvements and significant challenges. Opening with an analysis of the main theories relating to development in Sub-Saharan Africa, the book explores all the key issues including Human development, Rapid urbanization, Structural and gender dimensions, Sustainable development and environmental issues and Africa's role in the world economy. The authors use economic tools and concepts throughout in a way that makes them accessible to students without an economics background Readers are also aided by a wide range of case studies on the ground examples and statistical information which provide a detailed analysis of each topic This text is also accompanied by an e resource featuring additional sources for students and instructors African Economic Development is a clear and comprehensive textbook suitable for courses on African economic development development economics African studies and development studies conflict throughout the latter part of the 20th century as well as the current millennium but due to its location at the crossroads of Central Asia Afghanistan has also endured repeated conquests throughout its turbulent earlier times Examining Afghanistan's long military history through this book will enable readers to grasp the wider sociopolitical history of the country appreciate the impact of these wars on Southwest Asia and superpowers such as Great Britain the Soviet Union and the United States and understand why Afghanistan remains a controversial battleground today The alphabetically organized entries examine the major wars and conflicts of Afghanistan from the modern founding of the country during the Durrani Dynasty in the 1700s through the contemporary struggle with the Taliban The book spotlights the role of key individuals in starting pursuing or ending conflicts as well as their broader contributions to or negative impact on Afghanistan and the international arena The work also presents essays that examine key subtopics such as weapons tactics ethnic groups religion and foreign relations This allows the reader whether a student scholar or member of a nonacademic audience to examine a topic in depth and see how the event figure or movement fits into the broader history of Afghanistan

Financial Performance of Microfinance Institutions in Ghana and Uganda Johannes Flosbach, 2015 This book examines the determinants of financial performance of microfinance institutions MFIs in Ghana and Uganda against the backdrop of the public and academic debate over the financial and social implications of microfinance In the absence of a conceptual model the study chooses an inductive research approach with the objective of defining and developing a conceptual model with the capacity to explain quantify and compare the performance of MFIs The research is particularly relevant in the African context where microloan interest rates regularly exceed 100% per annum and where the microfinance industry is lacking behind its global peers in regard to financial and social performance Series Contributions to the Africa Research Beitrage zur Afrikaforschung Vol 59 Subject Economics Finance African Studies Europe Alone David Schultz, Aurelija Puraite, Vidmante Giedraityte, 2022-09-28 Since the end of World War II and the breakup of the Soviet Union in 1991 the United States has taken the lead in maintaining European security through its membership in NATO However the economic and political positions of both the United States and Europe have changed in the last seventy five years leading many to wonder if America is still willing and able to provide for Europe's security needs especially at a time when the Russian Federation has become a more aggressive military and political player Europe Alone explores the prospects of European security in a future when the United States may no longer be a reliable partner Leading security scholars offer a multifaceted approach to the changing role and meaning of national security into the future They look at European security issues from the perspective of small states and seek to broaden the concept of security beyond traditional domestic policing or national defense Rethinking Multilateralism in Foreign Aid Viktor Jakupec, Max Kelly, Jonathan Makuwira, 2020-04-23 This edited book provides a contemporary critical and thought provoking analysis of the internal and external threats to Western multilateral development finance in the twenty first century It draws on the expertise of scholars with a range of backgrounds providing a critical exploration of the neoliberal multilateral development aid. The contributions focus on how Western institutions have historically dominated development aid and juxtapose this hegemony with the recent challenges from right wing populist and the Beijing Consensus ideologies and practices. This book argues that the rise of right wing populism has brought internal challenges to traditional powers within the multilateral development system. External challenges arise from the influence of China and regional development banks by providing alternatives to established Western dominated aid sources and architecture. From this vantagepoint Rethinking Multilateralism in Foreign Aid puts forward new ideas for addressing the current global social political and economic challenges concerning multilateral development aid. This book will be of interest to researchers academics and students in the field of International Development and Global Governance decision makers at government level as well as to those working in international aid institutions regional and bilateral aid agencies and non governmental organisations.

Labor Relations in a Globalizing World Harry C. Katz, Thomas A. Kochan, Alexander J. S. Colvin, 2015-06-04. Compelled by the extent to which globalization has changed the nature of labor relations, Harry C. Katz, Thomas A. Kochan, and Alexander J. S. Colvin give us the first textbook to focus on the workplace outcomes of the production of goods and services in emerging countries. In Labor Relations in a Globalizing World they draw lessons from the United States and other advanced industrial countries to provide a menu of options for management, labor, and government leaders in emerging countries. They include discussions based in countries such as China, Brazil, India, and South Africa which, given the advanced levels of economic development they have already achieved, are often described as transitional because the labor relations practices and procedures used in those countries are still in a state of flux. Katz, Kochan, and Colvin analyze how labor relations function in emerging countries in a manner that is useful to practitioners, policymakers, and academics. They take account of the fact that labor relations are much more politicized in emerging countries than in advanced industrialized countries. They also address the traditional role played by state dominated unions in emerging countries and the recent increased importance of independent unions that have emerged as alternatives. These independent unions tend to promote firm or workplace level collective bargaining in contrast to the more traditional top down systems. Katz, Kochan, and Colvin explain how multinational corporations, nongovernmental organizations, and other groups that act across national borders increasingly influence work and employment outcomes.
