

INTRODUCTION

The speed with which telematics has evolved since its beginnings in the 1980s is nothing short of astonishing. Today we perhaps take for granted that we can send each other our locations with a simple cell phone message or that an electronic device guides us from door to door if we require the road. In the modern age where you can check online prices of the nearest gas stations using your car's very own built-in browser, can you imagine that even as recently as fifteen years ago it was commonplace to use paper maps?

What began with the development of a basic global positioning system has evolved into a broad, sophisticated spectrum covering numerous interconnected fields, from road safety and transportation to telecommunications and more.

Telematics has without doubt become an indispensable element in our everyday lives. In this brief guide to the history of telematics, you will learn about how it came into existence, its evolution since the 1980s to the present day, and what we might expect in coming years.

Resistance and Recognition at Kitigan Zibi

Dennis Leo Fisher, 2023-11-15 Resistance and Recognition at Kitigan Zibi tells the modern history of Kitigan Zibi the largest and oldest Algonquin reserve in Canada This local history sheds light on the larger experience of the Algonquin First Nations whose traditional lands span the Ottawa River watershed and cross contemporary boundaries Drawing on archival sources and interviews with community members this work elucidates the relationship between culture and politics on the reserve during the twentieth century Despite the disruptions of settler colonialism the Algonquin have maintained a distinct identity and have waged a multifaceted struggle against assimilation and economic marginalization This struggle has played out in political spaces including border crossing celebrations grand councils and courtrooms This fight has also informed strategic labour choices interactions with game wardens and protests against the Catholic Church Resistance and Recognition at Kitigan Zibi demonstrates that the contest over recognition of treaty rights and traditional lands is longer broader and deeper than previously understood

The Map in the Machine

Luis F. Alvarez Leon, 2024-04-30 Digital technologies have changed how we shop work play and communicate reshaping our societies and economies To understand digital capitalism we need to grasp how advances in geospatial technologies underpin the construction operation and refinement of markets for digital goods and services In The Map in the Machine Luis F Alvarez Leon examines these advances from MapQuest and Google Maps to the rise of IP geolocation ridesharing and a new Earth Observation satellite ecosystem He develops a geographical theory of digital capitalism centered on the processes of location valuation and marketization to provide a new vantage point from which to better understand and intervene in the dominant techno economic paradigm of our time By centering the spatiality of digital capitalism Alvarez Leon shows how this system is the product not of seemingly intangible information clouds but rather of a vast array of technologies practices and infrastructures deeply rooted in place mediated by geography and open to contestation and change Pharmaceutical Journal ,1897
