Zambra, 2023-02-14 The second novel by the internationally celebrated writer Alejandro Zambra a short and strikingly original The New Yorker book about the stories we spin for ourselves and our loved ones now reissued by Penguin Veronica is late and Julián is increasingly convinced she won't ever come home To pass the time he improvises a story about trees to coax his stepdaughter Daniela to sleep He has made a life as a literature professor developing a novel about a man tending to a bonsai tree on the weekends He is a narrator an architect a chronicler of other people's stories But as the night stretches on before him and the hours pass with no sign of Veronica Julián finds himself caught up in the slipstream of the story of his life of their lives together What combination of desire and coincidence led them here to this very night What will the future and possibly motherless Daniela think of him and his stories Why tell stories at all The second novel by acclaimed Chilean writer Alejandro Zambra The Private Lives of Trees overflows with his signature wit and his gift for crafting short novels that manage to contain whole worlds Voices of Marginalisation: Literary Records of Trauma Dr Prabuddh Ananda, Dr

The Feeling Child Philippa Page, Inela Selimovic, Camilla Sutherland, 2018-11-15 The Feeling Child Affect and Politics in Latin American Literature and Film compiles a series of essays focusing on the figure of the child within the specific context of the affective turn in the study of contemporary sociocultural settings across Latin America This edited volume looks specifically at the intersection between cultural constructions of childhood and the affective turn within the contemporary sociopolitical landscape of Latin America The editors and contributors share a common aim in furthering comprehension of the particular intensity of the child s affective presence spectatorial haptic silent and spectral among others in contemporary Latin American cultural expression The contributions herein approach this theoretical challenge through an interdisciplinary lens which brings together two burgeoning strands of inquiry The first is the notion of childhood as a significant and inherently political sociocultural space the second is the recognition that affect is integral and fundamental to gaining a more complex understanding of the manner in which contemporary social worlds are made In each case this affective presence is teased out as a register of society shedding light on the issues marking out the current sociopolitical landscape in particular the traces of the recent past in the regions represented This book brings together established international scholars and young academics focusing on Argentina Bolivia Chile Cuba and Peru

Not to Read Alejandro Zambra, 2018 Over the course of the chronicles and literary essays that make up this volume Alejandro Zambra outlines his own particular theory of reading Whether it is in the course of a carefully considered commentary on a specific book or in the digressions born out of a piece on this or that author from Parra Levrero and Pavese to Mill n Ribeyro Tanizaki or Bola o Natalia Ginzburg and Puig the simple act of reading dominates these pages within which the author alternates between forceful and good humoured rants against clich s and impostures and intimist celebrations of true literary experiences The book s title is an allusion to the moment when Zambra decided to stop writing a weekly literary column and began instead to experiment as he explains with the pleasure of not reading certain books thus allowing himself the freedom to open himself up to readings not imperative to the daily routine of literary journalism As in his novels and poems in Not to Read Alejandro Zambra unfurls his characteristic style which place ambiguity restraint and uncertainty above everything else and offer up the suggestion that certain books can touch us in substantial ways In doing so the outlines of a kind of blurry self portrait emerge something like the image of an exemplary writer and reader reflected in a concave mirror in his library and surrounded by ghosts and feelings
