PISA, Policy and the OECD Steven Lewis, 2020-09-29

This book explores new modes, spaces, and relations of the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD)'s global educational governance associated with the PISA for Schools test. Adopting a theoretically rich policy sociology approach with an emphasis on topological understandings of spatiality and power, the book examines the entire PISA for Schools policy cycle from its initial development to its administration and promotion in the U.S. and its local enactment by schools and teachers. It demonstrates how PISA for Schools helps to steer how schooling is locally understood and practised through separate and yet overlapping techniques governing by 1) heterarchy, 2) respatialisation, and 3) best practice. The book reveals the specific effects of PISA for Schools as an exemplar of how global educational governance is increasingly enfolded within contemporary schooling, as well as discussing how we might practise a policy sociology in which the local is acknowledged as a relevant space of concern.

Second International Research Handbook on Values Education and Student Wellbeing Terence Lovat, Ron Toomey, Neville Clement, Kerry Dally, 2023-11-14

This collection applies the principles underlying values education to addressing the many social and learning challenges that impinge on education today. Insights in the fields of social and emotional learning, student wellbeing, and increasingly educational neuroscience have demonstrated that values education represents an efficacious pedagogy with holistic effects on students across a range of measures including social, emotional, and intellectual outcomes. With schools in the 21st century confronting issues such as gender identity, stemming radicalism, mental health, equity for disadvantaged groups, bullying, respect, and the meaning of consent, values education offers a way of teaching and learning that integrates and enhances students' affective and cognitive functioning. The earlier edition of this book has become a standard reference for scholars and practitioners in the fields of values education, moral education, and character education. Its citation rates, reads, and downloads have been consistently and enduringly high, as have those of its companion text, Values Pedagogy and Student Achievement. A decade on, the main purpose of the revised edition is to update and incorporate new research and practice relevant to values education. Recent insights in the fields of neuroscience and social and emotional learning and their implications for education and student wellbeing are more overt than they were when the first edition was being compiled Additionally advanced thinking in the field of epistemology how humans come to know and therefore learn has also sharpened especially through the later writings of prominent scholars like Jurgen Habermas The revised edition has preserved the essential spirit and thrust of the original edition while making space for some of these new insights about the potential of values education to establish optimal and harmonious learning and social environments for both students and teachers

Understanding and Applying Assessment in Education Damian Murchan, Gerry Shiel, 2024-04-09 All teachers are responsible for assessing the children they teach and the outcomes of any assessment are important for individual learners schools and wider education systems Designed as a pragmatic guide for new teachers and those training to teach this book is your one stop shop for understanding assessment in schools It covers formative and summative approaches used across primary and secondary education supporting a balanced overview with policy examples drawn from the UK Ireland and wider international contexts This updated second edition reflects recent trends in assessment and includes more balanced coverage across primary and secondary age phases with a broader range of examples across curriculum subject areas a new chapter on the potential of digital assessment for both formative and summative purposes the impact of the COVID 19 pandemic on assessment in general and examinations in particular Damian Murchan is Associate Professor in the School of Education at Trinity College Dublin Gerry Shiel is a Research Fellow at the Educational Research Centre Dublin Ireland

Weimer, 1999-03 In recent years consumers professional organizations government officials and third party payers have become increasingly concerned about how to assess the quality of the services provided by organizations in both the private and the public sectors One new approach is the organizational report card which compares the performance of organizations such as public schools colleges hospitals and HMOs This book offers the first comprehensive study of such instruments It discusses the circumstances under which they are desirable alternatives to other policy instruments such as regulation how they should be designed who is likely to use them and for what purpose and what role if any government should have in their creation Informed by cases drawn from education health and other policy areas this book develops a conceptual framework for analyzing these issues It explores the tradeoffs in measuring performance the methods of communicating results effectively to mass and elite audiences and the ways in which organizations respond to the data gathered State of New York New York (State).
